LEADER TANNEBAUM UNDER HEAVY BAIL

Make Threats When Catholic Priest Refuses Aid—Haywood With Them

SEND I. W. W. TO JAIL.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The majority of the members of the I. W. W. band of unemployed that has been demanding food and shelter in raids on the churches every night for the last week are guests today of the city in several down town jails.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Each of the 190 idle men and one woman were held under $1000 bail for hearings late today on charges of disorderly conduct.

Frank Tannenbaum, the youthful leader of the I. W. W. band, faces a charge of inciting to riot, which is a felony. His bail was fixed at $5000, which he was unable to furnish. He is twenty-one years old.

The arrest of Tannenbaum and the greater part of his band, organized under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World, was made in St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic church where Father Schneider refused their demand for food and ordered the intruders away if they had not come to worship. When the priest repeated his order there were loud cries of "Don't go out—stay here. Make them throw us out! We will have food!" At this outburst two detectives seized Tannenbaum and two other leaders and the others then were rounded up.

William D. Haywood, head of the Industrial Workers, after the arrest of the crowd, said: "The police followed the advice given them by the newspapers and that was to be expected. The result will be that the public will learn that the problem of the unemployed is no myth."

SHOCK KILLS GIRL'S SISTER

Wm. A. Aiken Receives Message Announcing Death of Two Daughters

A telegram was received here yesterday by William A. Aiken, announcing the sad news of the death of his two daughters, Lillian and Ollie, at Healdsburg, California, on Wednesday morning. Miss Lillian Aiken had been ill for the past year with lung trouble and was being cared for by her sister Ollie, who, living on the hopes of her recovery, had taken her to the beautiful shores of the Russian River, near Healdsburg, where they remained for the past month. On Sunday evening Lillian took a change for the worse, but slept peacefully through the night. At 7:30 Ollie was awakened by the dying of her sister exclaiming, "I'm dying, Sis." Her sister hastened to her side, remaining with her until she breathed her last at 8:40 p. m.

So great was the terrible shock that immediately Ollie was stricken and died from the shock at 9 a. m., one hour and a half after her sister had passed away. Mr. Aiken is heartbroken over the affair as he had been receiving good reports from his children stating that Lillian was rapidly gaining health and the announcement came as a terrible blow to the old gentleman. He has been employed near Myrtle Point until recently.

AWFUL DEATH IN MILL TODAY

Wm. Pond Caught in Pulley at Porter Mill—Leg Torn From Body

KILLED AT CAMP 4.

Ed Hassel, of Gardiner, was killed at Camp 4, South Slough, this afternoon by being struck by a log. He was 23 years old. The body was brought to Marshfield.

William Pond, millwright at the Porter mill, was almost instantly killed and his body horribly mangled in an accident there today.

His leg was torn off his body, his head crushed and his body horribly beaten up. The dismembered leg caught in the belt pulley and was still fast in it when Coroner Wilson arrived on the scene. Pond attempted to swing off one of the big drive belts without stopping the mill. He threw it off the pulley onto the shafting and was caught in the swing of the revolving loosened belt and jerked up so that he caught in the rapidly revolving pulley.

A blacksmith with Pond caught his body as it fell from the pulley and shafting. Death was almost instantaneous. Pond was about thirty-seven years old and single. He had been employed by the Simpson Lumber Company for six years and was an excellent workman. His mother and father and brother live in North Bend. He was a member of the North Bend Odd Fellows lodge. From Wisconsin

Wm. Pond was thirty-seven years old. He is survived by one brother, George, at North Bend, and by a mother and two stepbrothers, also of North Bend. He came here from Wittenberg, Wisconsin, about seven years ago. He was exceptionally well liked and his awful death has caused wide-spread gloom in North Bend.

The funeral will be held from Wilson's Chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Rev. A. F. Hisey officiating. Arago Lodge No. 28, I. O. O. F., of North Bend will have charge of the services at the grave.

HELD UP IN LOCAL SALOON

Oscar Lehto Claims He Was Robbed of $205 in Svea Rear Room

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

Constable Cox went to North Bend this afternoon to arrest a man said to be named Gus Johnson as a suspect in the Lehto robbery. Johnson was broke and was hanging around the Svea saloon last night. Today he has been spending money freely here and at North Bend. Lehto was said by the police to be intoxicated at the time. Lehto has been working in the Eastside mill. Johnson was last seen at Chris. Grob's in North Bend. It is believed by the police that one man pulled off the robbery.

Charging that he had been robbed of $205, Oscar Lehto appealed to the police last night to help him recover his funds. He is a foreigner and could not talk sufficient English to explain and finally went and got A. W. Barda, a friend, to act as interpreter.

He claimed that he went into the Svea saloon at 3:15 and sat down in the back room. A little after 9 o'clock, he claimed that five men, one wearing a black mask over his face, came in and grabbed him and took his wallet away from him. The man with the mask choked him so that he was unconscious for a few minutes. When he came to he was minus $205, of which $200 was in $20 bills and the rest a $5 bill. Lehto has been working near Eastside. The police are investigating.

Ward M. Blake of the C. A. Smith company reported to the police last night that someone had robbed his auto while it was on the street, taking his tool chest.

Chas. Hickox reported that someone had broken into his tool chest near his home on West Seventh street and stolen a number of tools. Some boys stole some car wheels from his place and sold them at the foundry. Dr. E. Mings recently had a pair of gloves stolen from his auto and J. T. Harrigan missed a number of articles. It is believed that someone must be making a practice of these thefts and shipping the stuff away.

Rio Janeiro in State of Siege—Censorship Holds Back Details

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, Mar. 5.—A state of siege in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, will be proclaimed today, according to dispatches reaching here from that city.

It is understood that a strict censorship has been imposed on dispatches. Reports have been current some time that a revolutionary movement was in existence and there had been some fighting with government forces. The cause of dissatisfaction is said to have been racial differences. The situation in the various states is reported to be becoming worse. Business has partially been suspended in several states, chiefly those where the negro population is large.

REPORT IN LONDON

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, March 5.—Confirmation of the report of the state of siege proclaimed in Rio Janeiro has been received here from that city. Martial law was proclaimed in Niteroy, five miles east of the capital, and in Petropolis, the capital of the state of Rio Janeiro.

Asks Wharfage There for Two Immense Steamers for Astoria Run

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The Great Northern Railway representatives have applied to the state board of harbor commissioners for wharfage privileges. Two fast turbine ships with a capacity of 1000 passengers each, are now building in Philadelphia.

destroying the band in cutting the allowance from $150 to $100. He said that he did not think it would, as the band got along for a couple of years without any aid from the city and he felt sure they could find means of raising the extra $50 in other ways. He said that the city simply had to cut down expenses and he felt it was only right to ask the band to get along with less, the same as other city employees would have to do. He quoted Fred Wilson as saying that the reduction would not destroy the band, but Mr. Wilson interrupted, saying that he meant that the people would not permit it. As to the people voting the allowance, Mr. Cople said that the way the question was put up to the people they had to vote either $150 a month or nothing, and so they didn't have a chance to express themselves as to the size of the allowance.

Councilman Evertsen said that he had previously been in favor of reducing the band, but upon investigation had decided not to. Councilman Wilson said that if the reduction would disband the band, he would oppose it, as he was a supporter of the band. Mayor Allen suggested that in case the city allowance was reduced, the band could make up the revenue by charging a small admission of ten cents or so at the concerts. After more talk along the same line, Councilman Cople suggested that the matter be dropped, as he said that the Council was three to one against him. Some wanted the Council to go on record guaranteeing the $150 per month for the balance of the year, but it was stated that they could not and Manager Wilson was assured that it would be left the same.

Chief Executive Makes Earnest Plea to Joint Session in Washington

READS BRIEF MESSAGE TO CROWDED HOUSE

Says Dignity of Country and Matter of Right Demands This Action

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—A packed house, chamber and galleries, heard President Wilson deliver his address before the joint session of Congress, urging the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption. French and German ambassadors and other members of the diplomatic corps were present, but the officials of the British embassy were absent. The Misses Wilson had places in the executive gallery, but Mrs. Wilson for the first time was absent. She has not yet recovered from the shock of a fall in the White House several days ago. President Wilson reached the capitol ten minutes ahead of time and waited in the Speaker's room until 12:30 when he was escorted into the chamber and began reading his address as soon as the burst of applause died away. The message was so brief he had finished reading it almost before the surprised galleries realized that he had begun. It took less than five minutes and as another burst of applause greeted its close President Wilson hurried out of the Chamber and drove back to the White House.

The joint houses dissolved at once and the two houses resumed work. Not a sound interrupted the President as he read his message and as he finished the assemblage was all in smiles, the demonstration being regarded as a tribute to his first year in office.

Within ten minutes after his address Senator Chilton, a Democrat, introduced a bill authorizing the President to suspend the tolls.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—"I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in an ungrudging measure," said President Wilson, in an appeal to the joint session of Congress to uphold the foreign policy of the administration.

His address, the shortest yet delivered by him, contained 420 words. "No communication I have addressed to Congress carried with it a graver or more far-reaching implication to the interest of our country. I have come to ask the repeal of that provision of the Panama Canal act which exempts vessels in the coastwise trade of the United States from the payment of tolls. That exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy and is a plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain. Whatever may be our difference of opinion regarding the measure, its meaning is not debated outside the United States. We are too self-respecting a nation to interpret with a too-strained reading the words of our promises just because we have power enough to give us leave to read them as we please. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question of right or wrong."
