Pool Contest Tonight.—J. Bean and L. Smith have issued a challenge to L. McDonald and Carl Teater, of Marshfield, for a game of "continuous" pool. The game will be played at North Bend tonight.

Firemen's Thanks.—At the regular monthly business meeting of the Marshfield Fire Department, a vote of thanks was extended to the Lodge of I. O. O. F. for the use of their hall for the yearly dance and banquet, also to G. C. Murphy for use of dance hall.

Raise Hall.—John Johnson of Ferndale is arranging to raise the Finnish Hall on Central avenue to the new grade. It has been below grade for a year or so, making the walk there rather dangerous in wet weather.

Game Tonight.—The Coquille high school basketball team will play Marshfield here tonight, it being the last game of the schedule in Marshfield. There will be a preliminary game between the second teams of Marshfield and North Bend.

Buy Property.—Mafr Dano is purchasing the property on North Fifth street, near Highland, which the late Mrs. Siglin occupied from Taylor Siglin. He expects to remodel the house and occupy it in the early summer.

Followed by Man.—Last evening Mrs. James Bennett, Mrs. Peter Scott, Sr., and Mrs. Wm. Hyden, while returning to their homes in South Marshfield from down town reported that a foreigner followed them and bothered them but did not come close enough to interfere.

Likes Coos Bay.—Mr. Arthur Turcott, of Everett, Washington, who has been spending the winter at Los Angeles, is visiting at the home of James Bennett, 270 Johnson avenue. He thinks Coos Bay is just about right. He may locate here.

Autos to Coos.—A Portland paper says: Automobile shipments into Coos Bay have been so heavy in the past few weeks that the Breakwater has been unable to handle them all and a full carload was left on the dock and a full carload was left on the dock and a full carload was left on the dock and a full carload was left on the dock.

In San Francisco.—J. A. Luse has received a letter from Joseph James, timekeeper for many years on the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern during the days of R. A. Graham, who is now at San Francisco. He states that R. A. Graham is still at San Francisco and that H. A. Moss, the Glasgow townsite promoter, is still there.

Fight Prohibition.—R. M. Rau, who travels for the Rothschild wholesale liquor house, is here organizing the "wet forces" against the "drys" for the prohibition campaign which will be waged in Oregon this summer.

For this summer for the November election. He expects to put in circulation petitions against prohibition.

Minister Here.—Rev. Arthur Hayes Sargent, a Unitarian minister, arrived here on the Alliance from Enoka to spend some time in this field. One of the first people he met here was C. R. Peck, who was a classmate with him in the high school at Burlington, Vt., years ago. Rev. Hayes completed his course at Eugene. The denomination will try to establish congregations in this section.

Purchase Lot Twice.—Gordon Smith has been the victim of defective title to his property near Perham Addition on which his home, a comfortable bungalow, now stands. In the settlement of the case of the Perham Park Addition with the Davis heirs it was discovered that the lot which Mr. Smith owned was a part of the Davis estate. Mr. Smith, rather than hold the matter in litigation settled by paying W. A. Reid a nominal sum.

Many Answers.—"Stop that want ad of mine, for I have nearly worn myself out answering the telephone and personal applicants," phoned Mrs. Harry Mann last night to The Times. She inserted an ad for a furnished house for rent in last night's issue of The Times and within a few minutes had rented it to Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Keller. She was swamped with applicants.

Old Watch.—F. D. Fletcher is showing an old time-piece that is probably one of the most unique in this section. It is a silver watch which his wife's great grandfather carried in the English army. The watch is over 300 years old, but still keeps perfect time. It was made by Sam Wood in London, has the chain drive and is said to have all been made by hand. It has a double silver case for protection.

Furnished Hall.—Frank B. Waite and F. H. Krebs furnished the $6000 bonds on which T. R. Sheridan, formerly of Coos Bay, secured his release at Portland, where he was indicted by the Federal grand jury for Roseburg banking manipulations. Former U. S. Senator C. W. Fulton represented Sheridan in court. U. S. District Attorney Reames is quoted as saying that Sheridan's alleged defalcations will amount to nearly $75,000 instead of $18,000 as was first given.

Makes Trip.—S. D. Harper, who is now representing Haas Brothers in this section, made his first trip here yesterday. He has been succeeded as manager of the Prosper store by "Uncle John" Donaldson. Mr. Harper has not decided yet where he will make his home to cover the territory which embraces Coos and Curry counties, the Umpqua and Siuslaw sections. Mr. Harper formerly represented the firm when traveling for F. S. Dow.

Eastside Street.—The Eastside City Council has matters arranged so that they can start in on the improvement of McKay street, a thoroughfare which will reach the heart of the town and connect up with the waterfront, just as soon as they are assured by the Marshfield City Council that a new ferry landing will be provided on this side. They are anxious to get better service between Eastside and Marshfield, and the McKay street route is about the only one that will improve it. They would prefer to have the landing somewhere near the west end of Elrod avenue if that street is continued out to the bay.

FIRST HOME FROM SCHOOL

Which Is Nonsense?

THIS?

SAYS a "special" writer in a San Francisco paper: "People in moderate circumstances cannot afford to send their boys to college or to keep their girls from having to go out of their homes to work, but they have wasted enough money on bicycles and ball bearing roller skates and expensive mechanical toys, and overfine clothes, and the movies, to have started their children out in life properly."

OR THIS?

All of which is nonsense. No money spent for bicycles or ball bearing skates is wasted. He who so contends has little recollection of his own childhood. A boy is not a man. It is essential that he possess the things that make for happiness in boys, more essential than it is for the man to have some recreation after the grind of a day or a week.

And if the boy doesn't have a bicycle or a pair of skates, he sure he is going to find something to amuse him, and it is likely that something will not be as desirable as riding a wheel or making progress on a pair of skates.

Parents:

Do you remember how you would have enjoyed riding home from school on a bicycle? Why not let your son have one?

Do you remember how you had to hurry in the morning to "get there before the last bell rang?"—Why not let your boy have a TIMESAVER? He'll be late anyhow, I know, but think of the fun he'll have.

Please look over our wheels before you decide on the bicycle for him. We know what's what in durability and can make many suggestions that will prove of value to you.

Our bicycles MUST please, MUST give satisfaction or we'd have to go out of business.
