Table with 2 columns: Maximum and Minimum. Values: 52 and 47.

Precipitation since Sept. 1, 1913... 51.55. Precipitation same period last year... 45.61. Wind: Southwest, cloudy.

Hoodoo Day.—The day after tomorrow will be another hoodoo day, for it will be Friday and the thirtieth day of the month.

Seek Honors.—Hugh McLain, who has given up his plan to enter the race for Congress, has decided to be a candidate for National Democratic committeeman from Oregon this year.

Buy Place.—John Arhos and John Allen, who conduct a billiard and tobacco parlor on Front street, have bought the Portland rooming house over the Brewery Saloon from "Duke" Steinbrun.

Died in Portland.—Miss Maude Reed has received word of the death of Miss Jean B. McClure at her home in Portland recently of tuberculosis. Miss McClure was well known to the oldest residents of the Bay, having made her home here with her sister, Mrs. E. B. Seabrook for a number of years.

Madame Sandal Delayed.—A telegram has been received from Madame Sandal to the effect that she will not be able to reach Coos Bay before the arrival of the next Alliance concert will therefore be postponed until Wednesday, March 18, and at North Bend, Friday, the 20th.

Fame for Marshfield Men.—Two Marshfield men, D. Y. Stafford and Hugh McLain, have been placed in the limelight of publicity. Mr. Stafford's picture, handsome and happy, appears in the Portland Journal, while Hugh McLain is given a place in the Christian Science Monitor, of Boston.

Basketball Game.—The Marshfield High School basketball team has declined a challenge from Dr. Morrow's Independents. Marshfield will play its last game with North Bend here Friday night and Coquille will play at Bandon, River-ton, which showed up so well early in the season, was badly defeated by Norway in its last game.

Business Men.—A meeting of the board of directors of the Coos Bay Business Men's Association, which was to have been held last night at the Chamber of Commerce, was postponed until Thursday night when a set of by-laws will be adopted. A general meeting of the association has been called for Friday night to perfect the organization.

Investigate Complaint.—Constable Cox was today notified by District Attorney Liljeqvist to investigate charges against the Burroughs boys who live with their mother in First Addition. It is charged that the boys have been shooting over the heads of neighbors to scare them, have been shocking the morals of the residents by their actions and language, etc., and Mr. Liljeqvist proposes to have it stopped at once.

Brings Boy Home.—Edward Dyer, whose parents live at Daniels Creek, was brought here from Coquille yesterday by Night Officer Pyler of the county seat. The lad, who is fourteen years old, was picked up there on the request of his parents, who have been seeking him for some days. He made up his mind to run away and spent a few days at Coaledo before going to Coquille. Neighbors say his parents treat him fine but he seems to be wayward.

Ten Mile Case.—An endeavor is being made by the Ten Mile sportsmen to raise a fund to fight Hills Short's test case relative to hunting on the lakes in gasoline boats. So far, they have not raised the necessary amount to test the law out.

For Hatchery.—G. M. Scammon is here from California inspecting the fish hatcheries and looking over the possibilities in this line. He has been engaged in the private fish hatchery business.

Melle Lands.—According to Portland papers, Bill Melle, who pitched last year in the Coos County League and spent most of the winter trapping in Curry, has landed with the Baker, Oregon, team for the coming season.

Delays Trip.—Word has been received here that Frank Grant, Grand Chancellor of the Oregon K. of P., will not reach here until May for his annual visit to Coos county lodges. He was expected this week but had to postpone his trip.

Magninus to Sanitarium.—The doctor in charge of Tom Magninus has recommended a change for the benefit of his health and his family and friends are arranging for him to go to the Mountain View Sanitarium in Portland. He will leave for there on the Breakwater Saturday.

Saw Idle Army.—E. I. Chandler arrived home today from a visit with his wife, who has been spending the winter with her parents at Sacramento. He was there when Kelley's L. V. W. army arrived in Sacramento. He says the Drain road is in bad shape and he walked thirty-three miles of the distance in.

Son Drowned.—Mrs. C. F. Hibarger today received a message stating that her young son, who was staying with her sister near Hoquiam, Wash., had been accidentally drowned yesterday in a pond near their home. She is almost distracted over the news but hopes to be able to leave on the Breakwater for there Saturday.

Come in April.—Prof. A. Dawkins of Woodburn has written Sec. Motley of the Chamber of Commerce saying he cannot come here until April 24th to look into the proposition of buying the Coos Bay Business College, as his school does not close until then. He expects to be able to meet any reasonable requirement for taking the school over.

Feeding Salmon.—Superintendent Frank Smith, of the South Coos River Hatchery, reports that he is now feeding about 3,000,000 young Chinook salmon and that in a few weeks he will have at least 4,500,000. For feed he is using salmon eggs, which he has kept in cold storage, cooked meal and seaweed that have no commercial value. He plans to feed the young salmon longer than usual, hoping that the larger they are when released, the more of them will run the gamut of the trout and other fish that prey on little salmon.

ROAD CONTRACT LET

Roadmaster Hall-Lewis has let to Webb and associates the contract for clearing and grubbing on the township line road below Bandon, for which bids were recently received by the County Court. The distance is about three miles and the area to be cleared is given as 23 acres. The contract price is $1800, and the work is to be completed by the first of June.—Coquille Herald.

SCHOOL DISTRICT DIVIDED

Acting on a numerously signed petition from the residents of School District No. 45, at Allegany, the District Board has made a division of the territory and created District No. 87, lying on the west fork of the north fork of Coos River. It seems that the old district was too widely extended and it was necessary to have two school houses, one of them located in the region now cut off, and the new arrangement will be more satisfactory all around.—Coquille Herald.

NEW TAX LAW REAL PUZZLER

HIGH TAXES MAY HURT ROAD BONDS

There is a marked wall among Coos County taxpayers over their heavy dues this year and it is feared by friends of the good road bonding plan that the election coming so soon after the notices have been sent out will result in the defeat of the $440,000 bond issue. One Marshfield man pointed out yesterday that on one small tract of timber land, his taxes were double what they were a year ago, and on another four times as great and that his taxes on half a block of Marshfield residence property were as great as they were on a whole block.

TAX LAW IS GOOD

PORTLAND, Or., March 11.—Less than two hours after Judge McGinn had issued an injunction on the grounds that the new Oregon tax law was illegal, he revoked it as he discovered the law was apparently good. The injunction was issued on the ground that the constitution was contrary to the law but it was later found that the people had voted a constitutional amendment which sustained the law.

PORTLAND, Or., March 11.—According to Article 9, Section 1a, of the State Constitution, the tax law now being used is not complete, and the old law is operative. The present statute was passed by the legislature, but has not been passed by the people, as the constitution provides, and therefore is not operative.

When Circuit Judge Henry E. McGinn recalled this amendment to the constitution he consented to issuing a temporary order against County Treasurer Lewis, restraining him from collecting penalty on delinquent taxes, although he is opposed on principle to granting injunctions. Here is the section which the Legislature overlooked: "No poll or head tax shall be collected in Oregon; no bill regulating the state shall become a law until approved by the people of the state at a regular general election."

The Legislature of 1913 passed the new tax law and the officials of the state began working under it this year. The fact that the law, to become operative, had to be submitted to the voters at a general election was overlooked and there will be no general election until next November. Therefore the tax law is only half baked, for while the Legislature did its part the people have not acted. Under the circumstances the present measure, which is so unpopular, is not a law and the old law, with its three percent rebate and permission for taxpayers to pay in two installments is in vogue.

Along the Waterfront.

The Rainbow is off the ways after a general overhauling, but will be fitted with a new wheel before being put back on the South Coos River run.

Krusa & Banks have the keel laid for a 65-foot gasoline launch which is being built for the coasting trade.

Capt. Wyman, of the Vega, reports that his launch was considerably damaged on the trip to Marshfield from South Inlet yesterday by striking a sunken rock.

The Breakwater is due in early tomorrow from Portland.

The Alliance sailed for Eureka today and will sail again from here Saturday noon for Portland.

The Hardy sailed from here today for San Francisco with a cargo of lumber.
