SPORTING TALK.

Dame Rumor is still busy with the ownership of the Chicago Cubs, and the latest report is to the effect that the Windy City players may come into the possession of a New York millionaire whose name has been prominently connected with the Tammany graft investigation recently. The poor Cubs seem to be having a hard time in finding a new owner. "I would certainly be awful if they failed to locate something neat in the way of a president before it comes time to plaster the first fine on Heinle Zimmerman.

Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia, who recently returned from California, cannot get through talking about the royal manner in which he was treated during his stay on the coast. "If I took advantage of every opportunity that was offered me, I would have been in the west until the good old summer time," says Jack.

"Twenty ball players are overpaid to every one that is underpaid," declares Frank Chance, manager of the Yanks. Chance is supposed to get $15,000 for managing the Yanks. He got $10,000 and the profits of some stock when he bossed the Cubs. He should know.

The Portland Club of the Coast League has signed a catcher named Berryman from the Fresno team to replace Claude Berry. Statisticians and scorers will please note the difference.

According to Manager Griffith of the Washington Club, about $25,000 will be expended in Charlottesville, Va., next fall in the erection of a suitable house for the ball players, as well as a ball field. Griffith intends making Charlottesville his permanent training ground.

German army officers are training for athletics by keeping to a cheese diet. Judging by Olympic results, cheese diet is right.

Now that he has proved that Wolgast is a back number, Willie Ritchie, between plans for new battles, will take a little dip into vaudeville. Willie sure does like the boxing game.

The New York State Athletic commission has requested all sporting editors to refuse to print any information regarding boxing exhibitions received over the telephone or by telegram from anyone except their accredited representatives or correspondents.

FOREST NOTES.

The department of agriculture is trying to eliminate the danger to cattle from poisonous plants on national forest ranges. Of these plants, larkspur loco weed, death camas and water hemlock are the most poisonous. Larkspur does the most harm, because it is so widely distributed and is particularly bad for cattle. Ordinarily, horses will not eat larkspur, and sheep can eat it without apparent injury.

CURRY COUNTY IS PROSPEROUS

The Gold Beach Globe says:

Never in the history of this county did the future look so prosperous for Curry as it does today. Winter has passed with practically no loss of stock, the prospective market for wool is much better than for years, beef cattle and hogs find a ready market at almost prohibitive prices to the consumer as do dairy and poultry produce. The mining industry along our beaches has been stimulated by men with men and new ideas, as have many of the rich gravel deposits along the streams which together will employ a great many more men this season than ever before. A new era has dawned in the lumbering and milling industry, and several hundred men will be employed in this industry alone this season. At this immediate place, the prospects for an active prosperous year is exceptionally bright. The fishing interests on both sides of the river are preparing for a busy season and fully as many men will be employed this year in this business. This town "the best ever" is today experienced a healthy growth. Several new houses are now underway of construction and many more will be built as fast as material can be procured, which will not be long, as the Burbott mill will within a few days salute this vicinity with its buzz and whistling.

FIRE ENGINE FOR BANDON.

The voters of Bandon are to be given an opportunity to decide whether or not they want a fire engine. At the regular meeting of the city council last night a resolution was passed providing that the question be submitted at the coming election. Attorney Goss of Marshfield who is a councilman of that city happened to be here visiting Atty. Feeney, was in attendance at the meeting and explained the trip combination fire engine Marshfield recently purchased which is exactly like the one proposed for Bandon. It was delivered in 120 days and cost $9,500 f. o. b. Marshfield. A committee consisting of councilmen Wade, Trowbridge, Brown and Henry and City Atty. Feeney was appointed to investigate other engines.—Bandon World.
