EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The members of the Marshfield Epworth League enjoyed a basket social at the Swedish Lutheran hall last evening. Owing to the unfavorable weather, the attendance was not large. The program included: Impromptu recitation, Lee Byerly, Solo, Ed Elberdson. Duet, Helen Perkins and Evelyn Langworthy.

ELKS' DANCE.

About thirty couples enjoyed the monthly dance of the Marshfield Lodge of Elks at their hall last Wednesday evening. It was an informal affair for members only and their wives and sweethearts.

MARSHFIELD GUILD.

Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. R. E. Browning were hostesses at the meeting of the Marshfield Episcopal Guild at the church parlors last Tuesday. There was no business of importance to come on except the report of the committee which had the recent McCallie benefit performance in charge. The expenses were something over $100, leaving a net balance of $23.40 for the guild. Next Tuesday Mrs. Fannie Hazard and Mrs. C. K. Perry will be hostesses.

THIMBLE CLUB.

The North Bend Thimble Club will meet next Friday with Mrs. J. H. Greves. It is expected that final arrangements will then be made for the big clean-up campaign which the club will direct in North Bend. The second Friday in April will probably be selected for the crusade. Supt. Raab and the school children are to assist and the North Bend city council has promised to help defray the expense. Mrs. Ira B. PLAN BANQUET.

The Baptist L. T. L. Society is making arrangements for a banquet and program the second Tuesday in April.

AFTERNOON RECEPTION.

Mrs. G. W. Kaufman was hostess at one of the most delightful receptions of the season yesterday afternoon, when she received in honor of Mrs. A. J. Reise and Mrs. Deffen-baugh at her home on Tenth street. The hours were from three to six o'clock and during the afternoon about seventy called.

The decorations were simple but most attractive. In the living room, pear and cherry blossoms were used effectively, while in the dining room French baskets of sweet peas and maidenhair ferns were attractive adornments. Pink shaded candles lighted the tables.

In receiving, Mrs. Kaufman was assisted by Mrs. I. S. Kaufman and the guests of honor, Mrs. Reise and Mrs. Deffenbaugh. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. C. R. Peck, Mrs. H. S. Tower, Mrs. Herbert Lockhart, Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, Mrs. W. J. Stoll, Mrs. D. Y. Stafford, Mrs. Henry Sengstacken and Miss Genevieve Sengstacken. Mrs. C. R. Peck and Mrs. J. Albert Matson poured tea and coffee and assisting in serving were Misses Mary Kruse and Grace Williams.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER.

A newly formed club of North Bend, composed of a dozen young girls of the high school, gave a progressive dinner Thursday evening that proved to be one of the jolliest events the younger set has enjoyed for some time. The young people met at the Warren Stein home which like all the others was prettily decorated for the occasion. Here the soup course was served. Then autos took the party to the home of Miss Jessie King, where the salad appeared—and disappeared. The Phillips home came next, where the meat course continued the menu, followed by the vegetable family at the Swearingen's and dessert at the Wm. Vaughan home. The young people were treated to fruits, nuts and candy at the Geo. Truman's home and ended up at Steven's with punch and cards. High prizes at the game were won by Theresa Stein and Bill Davis and the booby prizes by Cynthia Vineyard and Mr. Carr. The evening wound up with a general auto ride in the cars of the guests, who declared the party a splendid success. The girls giving the dinner were Misses Lola Ritchie, Cora Phillips, Margaret Smith, Vera Wilson, Anna Truman, Ottilia Hoelling, Theresa Stein, Melinda Anderson, Cynthia Vineyard, Jessie King, Goldie Riggs and Marjorie Swearingen. Their guests were Messrs. Lafferty, Fluckinger, Carr, Leo McLean, Geo. Winsor, Will Davis, Chas. Burmester, Percy Phillips, Geo. Johnson, August Calender and Harold Simpson.

INVITATIONS.

Miss Evelyn Langworthy has issued invitations for the evening of April 2.

HONORS GUEST.

Miss Elvira Frizeen was hostess at a delightful little tea party last Saturday afternoon complimentary to her guest, Miss Louise Royer, a charming Portland young woman who is spending a few months on the Bay. The decoration scheme was in pink and currant blossoms, greens and roses were effectively used. Miss Frizeen was assisted in serving by Mrs. Ballinger and Miss Inez Johnson.

PLAN OUTING.

The Baptist Boys' Brotherhood held a social and business meeting last evening at the church parlors

Today Is the Day of Specialists

Every successful business man studies his business or profession.

We have the jeweler, the groceryman, the furniture dealer, the hardware dealer, the dry goods man, the shoe man, the surgeon, the lawyer and most of them know very little about the other man's business or profession.
