

FINE HOTEL TO OPEN APRIL 4

ST. LAWRENCE IN COOS BUILD-ING FINELY AND MODERNLY FITTED—UP-TO-DATE IN EV-ERY WAY—MR. AND MRS. E.
W. SULLIVAN AND LAWRENCE
JUSTEN TO CONDUCT IT.

With fifty-six modern finished rooms, in the practically fire-proof brick building, the St. Lawrence hotel will open at the site of the former Coos Hotel at Market avenue and Broadway on April 4. The new hotel includes all equipment that comprises a first-class hotel, including hot and cold water in every room, electric lights, and bath in connection. Arrangements have been made for the installation of a telephone service that will include every room in the hostelry. Each room affords the street view from either Market avenue or Broadway.

A small army of carpenters, plasters, electric fixture and furniture men have been busily engaged in arranging and remodeling the Coos building and rooms and when the new hostelry opens a novel, comfortable hotel will be thrown open to the traveling public. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sullivan, the proprietors, and Lawrence Justen, manager, are experienced hotel people, having throughout the East and Middle West, and their intentions to conduct the St. Lawrence in a first-class manner will be carried out in every way. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will continue The Lloyd Hotel, which they have so successfully conducted.
Mr. Justen is a brother of Mrs. Sullivan.

The furniture for the hotel will be of the quarter-sawn oak type, being arranged neatly and tastily by the careful hands of the Going & Harvey Company. In each room is a dresser, large bed and clothes closet.
Contrary to the usual custom of plain door locks on the rooms, a Yale lock has been provided for each door, thus assuring the guests absolute security. This will entail considerable expense to the hotel, as keys are carried away through forgetfulness, but Manager Justen feels that the security this system gives is worth the extra cost.

No expense has been spared to make the St. Lawrence a hotel that will be representative in Marshfield.
A distinct advantage is the location of Market avenue and Broadway away from the noise and clutter of Front street, and still convenient to all theatres, boats, autos, cars and trains. The management will provide a service to and from all trains that will be at the service of the guests.

A pneumatic cleaning system will also be used daily and the sanitation assured by this arrangement gives the guests a feeling of security. A spacious reading room and lobby has also been provided by the management.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

FINE PROGRAM BY WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY CLUB AT MASON-IC OPERA HOUSE NEXT FRI-DAY.

The concert by the glee club of Willamette University to be given next Friday evening is being looked forward to with a great deal of enthusiasm and enjoyment, for those who have heard organizations of that kind, know the quality which is shown by college clubs.

Willamette's club is no exception to the rule, if the press notices are to be taken as representing the character of the organization, and when such papers as The Oregonian, Oregon Journal of Portland, and the leading papers of Seattle and Tacoma, class them as the best representative organization of their kind which it has been the pleasure of the people of those large cities to hear, why should not the people of Marshfield make the best of the opportunity and come and enjoy an evening of music and fun?

The high school students have undertaken to present this club here and as the quality of the entertainments afforded by the high school students have always been high, this should be taken as a criterion of what is in store for those who are willing to spend the evening listening to college songs and glees and the little farce which is given as a closing to the program.

To the average music lover the admission will not seem large, and they will no doubt understand that in the line of musical entertainment a good entertainment cannot be secured at a small price. To others who may think that the price of admission is high, we can only say that an excellent article, one with a reputation for genuineness and quality cannot be bought for a small sum, neither can one expect to get an excellent entertainment of the higher class for the same price as a vaudeville or traveling minstrel.

It is sincerely hoped that the people of Marshfield, the patrons of good music and patrons of the high school, will take deep interest in the coming concert and help to make it a success in every way possible.

GOLD BEACH NUGGETS

Curry County Events as Told by
The Globe.

Wm. Clarno, for a several years a resident of upper Pistol River, recently rented his ranch for a term of years to his brother-in-law, Wm.
McCormic, and with his family passed through town en route to Port Orford, where they will probably reside, at least during the summer, where his children can take advantage of the school.

Hon. John L. Childs, Superior Judge of Del Norte County, California, was an over-night visitor in town Sunday. The judge is one of a committee of several sent from Del Norte County to Washington D.
C., to lobby for a harbor appropriation. The judge started on his long journey early Monday morning via Agness and West Fork.

The following is the latest news from Agness:
C. W. Sinsiger is planning to go extensively into the business of goat raising. His ranch is splendidly adapted for this industry.

Geo. Famarris is doing the spring plowing for his neighbors and will be kept busy for a month or six weeks.

Capt. Wesley has launched the Skeeter and the musical rhythm of her exhaust is very pleasant to the ear.

Mr. Geo. W. Riley tells us that he expects very soon to announce himself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. He plans to make the race as an independent.

Geo. W. Smith states that the new saw is on the way and that the sawing of the lumber for the numerous buildings already planned will soon begin.

PORT ORFORD OFFERINGS.

Curry County News As Told by the Tribune.

If Dame Rumor has not been listening to idle gossip, wedding bells will be ringing in Port Orford in the near future.

George Wilson came down from Coos Bay last week and has bought a homestead relinquishment from A. E.
Knorr on Middle Elk.

An unusually sad death occurred in Port Orford last Friday morning, March 20, 1914, when Lela, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson, passed away as the result of the whooping cough complicated with bronchitis.

John Adams, the Rogue River deputy game warden, was in town Monday on a reconnoitering trip to the northern end of the county. Mr.
Adams is now in charge of the Curry county field, and is a live wire sure to cause much uneasiness among those in the habit of violating the law.

Sill Summers was down from Langlois Monday to file a contest on a piece of land near Hare. Lee Cox and Jim Culver came along with him to act as witnesses.

Mart Sherrard, Russ Tower and Mr. Hoyt came down from Bandon by auto last Wednesday, returning on Thursday. They made the run in three hours, which is certainly re-

CHECTO RIVER BRIDGE

All efforts to have the U. S. Engineer grant a permit for the construction of the proposed concrete bridge across Checto have failed and the most enthusiastic friends of the proposition have dismissed from their minds further hopes of its realization. The stream at that place is held to be navigable and only a drawbridge will be permitted.

What Is An Advertisement?

An advertising man, well known all over the Pacific Coast, once described an advertisement in the following way:

"An advertisement is a paid announcement designed to assist the merchant or business man in reducing his selling cost. To be entirely successful in its task, it must be 'news'; it must be intended to influence the public, and it must TELL THE TRUTH."

When P. T. Barnum said that the public liked to be fooled, he must have referred to the circus business. The business man who fools his customers with prevaricating ads soon loses their confidence in him. That is largely because an advertisement acts as the connecting link between those who HAVE and those who WANT. The wise merchant has learned this—other merchants are coming to realize it more and more.

The advertising columns of THE TIMES furnish the "trade news" to the people engaged in the biggest and most important business in the city—the business of home-making.
