Will Retire.—Levi Helsner, who has been in the livery business for over twenty-five years, is planning to retire soon and will dispose of his stock.

Lenten Service.—There will be a Lenten Service in the Episcopal church this evening at 7:30, and tomorrow evening at the same time there will be a meeting of the Vestry in the Rector's study.

Will Build.—W. F. McEldowney is planning to erect a five-room cottage on his lot on South Second street near the Eagle's Hall, the work to begin as soon as the recent fill settles sufficiently to permit it.

Postpone Reception.—Owing to the Willamette Glee Club being in our midst and because of the Primary Operetta at the high school, the W. C. T. U. have postponed their meeting for April 4 to Friday, April 10, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Gregg.

Will Run Boat on Coos Bay.—Edwin Bernhardt, of Acme, passed through Eugene yesterday on his way from Portland to Coos Bay, where he will run a gasoline boat, having obtained a license as captain from the government while in Portland.—Eugene Register.

Wed Tonight.—Clyde Dindinger, a well-known Marshfield young man, and Miss Maude Thom of Marshfield will be married this evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Burkhardt. Mr. Dindinger is connected with the Bunker Hill Department Store and was formerly with the local railway and Breakwater offices. They will make their home in Marshfield and will be the recipients of congratulations from many friends.

Jones' Slogan.—B. F. Jones of Roseburg, professing to be the Republican primary candidate for Congress, does not state his platform on the back of his card, but instead falls into the Shakespearean rhyme. "An X on X, My Kingdom for an X. When you go to the election booth the middle of May, on primary day, mark an X before my name and ask your friends to do the same." He was at the Osburn last night.—Eugene Guard.

Finds Fountain Pen.—E. Quatermass has learned two important facts about Coos Bay recently—first, that

ried People:
Don't forget that visitors receive their first impressions of your house, from the way your hall looks. If you have a shabbily furnished hall in an otherwise nicely-furnished house, it looks as bad as an old hat worn with a new dress. What furniture, therefore, you have in your hall should be of the best. We have massive, durable, hall trees and artistic umbrella stands in our store. We can give you satisfactory prices. Come, see our hall furniture.

W. C. T. U. WORKER DEAD
The funeral of Mrs. Edith Hill Booker, Baptist minister and president of the Oregon Women's Christian Temperance Union, who died Saturday at St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland, will be held Saturday April 4, at the White Temple. The body will be taken to Emporia, Kansas for burial, the native city of Mrs. Booker.
Mrs. Booker has been a resident of Oregon since 1910, when she came to take part in the prohibition campaign of that year. Her death was due to nervous breakdown caused by overwork.

CURRY COUNTY PIONEER.
The Langlois Leader says: D. L. Anderson comes to stay after spending twelve years in the Soldiers' Home in Roseburg, Ore. He has come to live with his daughter, Mrs. Lee Cox. The trip over the rough and muddy roads was a hard one for a man of his age, he being now eighty-eight years old. Lee Cox, who drove out to Camas to get him, had to hold him in the wagon part of the time. He came on the stage from Roseburg to Camas and visited there with relatives and friends until Mr. Cox arrived to bring him on. If the weather had not been so fine and the old soldier's courage had not been there, he could never have stood the trip. But with the same spirit that he faced the enemy in Indian war times he battled with the mud for many miles to get home to his loved ones, and especially to his little grandson, baby Seth.
