THE NEWSPAPER BUSINESS.

IN A recent editorial on the country press, the East Oregonian prints the following interesting and truthful statement of the newspaper game as viewed from the inside:

"Publishing a newspaper is a business matter, yet it is more than that. The newspaper is a public servant and it has certain standards and certain duties to which it must be faithful if it is a true newspaper.

"It is profitable and encouraging for a newspaperman who has a clean and honest newspaper to run across other men with ideals similar to his own. Equally important with knowing how to make a newspaper pay a profit is knowing enough not to make money by questionable means.

"Nevertheless the ethical side of the publishing business is something worth considering at editorial association meetings. Man does not live by bread alone and the glory of the newspaper business is not in making dividends but in public service."

DR. ELIOT'S RELIGION

ASKED by a Philadelphia newspaper if he did not observe some sort of a spiritual awakening or upheaval on the part of the people Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, replied:

"A new religious sentiment seems to me to be gradually spreading throughout the world, and especially among the young people in the United States.

"It is a sentiment which takes small account of ceremonies, rites, sacraments, creeds, and dogmas, but inspires an enthusiasm for the service of family, neighbor and society at large.

"Guided by the modern scientific spirit, this sentiment is developing a new kind of Christianity, based on the ethics taught by Jesus, and particularly on the command 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself,' and the parable of the good Samaritan."

Dr. Eliot's orthodoxy may be questioned by some but it will be generally conceded that service to humanity is a good variety of religion. There is splendid authority for the view that those who love their fellow men are very close to God.

OUR PARENTS.

WHEN PA IS SICK.

When Pa is sick, He's scared to death. An' ma an' us Just hold our breath. He crawls in bed An' ufs an' grunts, And does all kinds Of crazy stunts. He wants 'Doc Pilletem,' An' mighty quick; For when pa's ill, He's mighty sick. He gasps and groans, An' sort o' sighs, He talks so queer, An' rolls his eyes. Ma jumps and runs, An' all of us, An' all the house Is in a fuss, An' peace an' joy Is mikkly skeerced— When pa is sick, It's something fierce.

WHEN MA IS SICK.

When ma is sick, She pegs away; She's quiet, though, Not much to say. She goes right on A-doin' things, An' sometimes laughs, Er even sings. She says she don't Feel extra well, But then it's just A kind o' spell. She'll be all right Tomorrow, sure, A good old sleep Will be the cure. An' pa he sniffs An' makes no kick, For women folks Is always sick. An' ma she smiles, Let's on she's glad— When ma is sick It ain't so bad.

News Notes of Interest to the Angels of Commerce Who Make the Coos Bay Territory

"Where do you go from here?" How tired I get of that phrase! Out of the year it greets my ear Three hundred and sixty-five days; As I leave home after a rest The conductor on the train Takes a grip of my mileage strip And fires it at me again. The hotel man gets sociable As I pay for his high-priced cheer, And drops my bill in his yawning till, With a "Where do you go from here?"

FAME FOR RIECHERS

THE house organ of the Marshall-Wells Hardware Company, "Zenith," which by the way, is one of the really clever and interesting trade journals of the country, has inscribed the name of their Coos Bay representative on the scroll of fame with a clever cartoon and a complimentary boost. By courtesy of the publisher, The Times is enabled to present the cartoon to its readers this evening. The following is the article that accompanied the cartoon:

"We remember that once upon a time a man of influence in our office said: 'That red head of Reichers was not put there for nothing.' And he was right.

"Mr. W. C. Reichers has been with us for four years, and is now in charge of our Coos Bay, Oregon, territory, with his home at Marshfield.

"We are not worrying about that neck of the woods, for Mr. Reichers is there."

B. F. Welch, of San Francisco, representing Schilling & Co., is a new man on the Coos Bay territory. Mr. Welch has been working the city trade in Oakland for the same firm for the last four years, but this is his first trip to Coos Bay. The former representative of the company was taken ill at Florence and spent some time in the hospital in North Bend.

Sol Israel, the hat artist, is in the city, with a new brand for candidates, that are impervious to "hot air." Sol's territory has been made larger since his last trip here—and so has Sol—he is getting to be as sensitive about his weight as a woman about her age.

E. D. Babielsen, a traveling salesman, left on the morning train for Coquille, Myrtle Point and Bandon today.

Don Gardner, representative of Denham, Carrigan & Hayden, of San Francisco, left on the morning train for Coquille and Bandon today.

WITH THE TOAST AND THE TEA

FATHER'S OTHER SUIT

Stead started in a wittle ago To build a modest bungalow, But saw its size increase apace Through the demands for closet space Made by his wife and daughters two That bungalow still grew and grew. When done it was a hideous thing, With many a lean-to, ell and wing. Big closets there, big closets here Big closets till the house looked queer. "Oh, well! Stead mused, 'I'm glad it's thus. There's closet room for all of us. At last there'll be some place for me To keep my other suit," said he. He hung it proudly on the hook, But daughter Carry came and took That suit away, and where't had been Hung sixteen gaments feminine; And Gertrude, when that suit she found Within her closet, grimly frowned And passed it on to mother Stead, Who took it and laid it on pa's bed. And— As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end, in all well-regulated families— That suit, with closets everywhere, Is hung on father's bedroom chair.

Do not be one of the majority who expect more of a friend than they are willing to give.

Full many an object seems to show The time of year, beyond a doubt; It's spring when railway work begins And summer when Tom Hall's straw hat comes out.

Even experience falls down when it tries to teach a fool.

Some Coos Bay people consider beer a good spring tonic. Others consider it decidedly Tautonic.

AMONG THE CANDIDATES

CANDIDATE FOR THE OREGON LEGISLATURE

J. TOM HALL

Member of the Law Firm of Hall & Hall and a Pioneer

SOLICITING the nomination for Representative on the Democratic ticket to be voted for May 15, 1914, I will say that I have lived in Coos County, Oregon, for more than forty years, have been a life-long Democrat, served as Deputy Sheriff of Coos County, under the administration of Col. John Lane, served as Deputy Collector of Customs under the administration of John S. Coke, Sr., during his term of office, and made a good record. I favor a law allowing tax payers to pay their taxes quarterly and if so paid no penalty. I favor equal taxation and reduction of taxes. I am opposed to the creation of unnecessary commissions which must be supported at the taxpayers' expense. I believe in a complete revision of the present game laws. I believe the same should be made to conform to the condition of the different localities. If nominated and elected to the legislature I will support the wishes of my constituents and do my best for the interest of the state of Oregon and Coos County.

Put an "X" on your ticket between the number and the name J. Tom Hall at the primaries, May 15, 1914.

Yours truly, J. TOM HALL.
