THE MARSHFIELD PUBLIC LIBRARY.

THE swift expansion and widening activities of the Marshfield Public Library afford gratifying evidence of the growth of the higher life of the community.

The public library does much more than merely acquire, house and send out books. It creates love for literature. It trains the taste for reading. It works with the schools.

The library is the university of modern democracy. It is a social and intellectual center. It is an advertising agency of the progress of scholarship, science and technical vocations.

In fine, the library is a workshop of culture and a servant of society. It complements the service of the school and of the church, and touches the community's best life at every point.

TRIVIAL DIFFERENCES. BULL MOOSE progressives and republican progressives may well take to heart what Premier Asquith said to his Ladybrook, Scotland, constituents in the opening speech of his campaign.

WILL REVIVE MEMORIES. FOR A whole state to join in singing the good old songs, to devote a sunny spring day to recalling the words of "Annie Laurie" and "The Old Folks At Home," is a conception that may be realized in Kansas May 1.

SHOT THE WRONG MAN. NO WONDER Mme. Caillaux shot the editor. She has testified that her luncheon was a poor one. The cook was going to leave and she had neglected the meal.

PROGRESS

THERE ARE a number of big words that do not mean anything—just because they mean too much. Most of the words we spell with capitals are only high sounding names.

"Progress" is one of these big words. To be sure there is evolution, change, growth in all things. Life itself is evolution.

Progress means opposite things to different people. Everyone thinks it means something different. We can never agree as to just what Progress is.

Everyone thinks that the world would progress if it moved in his particular direction. Every theory, every idea, claims the future. If it did not, no one would believe it.

Everybody thinks he is a true progressive. One man thinks that Socialism is progress; another thinks that progress means individualism.

The word "progress" simply means that a certain kind of person, with the theories and ideals and hopes that are most congenial to his own type of life, believes in himself, feels that his type is the best type, struggles for existence, as he ought, and looks to the future to vindicate him.

He will also have faith that in the long run that idea which works best for all will be established, no matter what it is called, or who advocates it.

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

BORN

BUTLER—To Mr. and Mrs. John W. Butler at their home in West Marshfield, a son.

WITH THE TOAST AND THE TEA

Bacteriologists say that kissing must go. It already goes with some Coos Bay girls.

The average Coos Bay girl has a good many false alarms before she finally meets her fate.

The manner in which some Coos Bay women adopt the latest fashions indicates that we are never too old to learn the latest wrinkle.

Many a Coos Bay man can't tell black from white when it comes to a lie.

A little learning is a dangerous thing, especially if it is about an automobile.

Reputation and character are about as synonymous as the north and south poles.

It is quite natural that the doctor should want his patients to be well healed.

A burned child dreads the fire, but you have to singe some Coos Bay business men several times before they get wise.

When a married man is henpecked it is generally because he is chicken-hearted.

It may be all right to take the thought for the deed, but no man ever got rich that way.

Many a man never does anything worth while because he thinks it isn't worth while.

An honest man never blows his own horn. An honest man is generally too poor to own one.

Some Coos Bay married men often fool themselves into the belief that their excuses are believed when they are merely endured.

FARM MEETING GETS WARM

CHICAGO, April 15.—That the National Conference on farm credits and Western Economic Society was controlled by "big interests," bent on dominating the farmer and preventing him from saving and effective co-operative organization was charged on the floor of the convention.

The speaker declared.

LEAVE TODAY ON NANN SMITH

ROUGH WEATHER DELAYS REDONDO, BUT BOTH SHIPS EXPECT TO CROSS OUT FOR THE SOUTH LATE TODAY.

Owing to rough weather, the Redondo did not cross out yesterday for the South. The Nann Smith left the dock here at 2:30 this afternoon and it was expected that both vessels would cross out before five o'clock today.

Those sailing on the Nann were: A. Courtney, A. F. Douglas, Francis Lind, Mrs. Morse, M. H. Mears, J. H. Wood, George Thomas, Geo. Christwood, P. Develin, S. Komma, A. Maulin, Thos. Stenach, Miss A. Hutcheson, Mrs. Jerrett, W. G. Chandler, O. Ortega, D. E. Ortega, Mrs. D. E. Ortega.

LIVELY ROW OVER TEACHER

Judge Hall returned today noon from Coquille and instead of finding an insane patient to be examined, he discovered a big school row in the Sunnyside district on the lower Coquille. It seems that the school board engaged a California woman to teach school there and when she arrived, she was advanced in years and quite deaf.

WOMEN BOTHER GAME WARDEN

Coquille Valley Fair Sex Fail to Provide Themselves With Licenses

Coquille Valley women are the greatest trouble that Game Warden Thomas now has in enforcing the game laws in this district. The state law provides that all persons over fourteen years old who either hunt or fish must have licenses.

During his trip through the Coquille Valley, he says he was agreeably surprised to find so many Chinese pheasants there. He saw scores of them above Riverton and was informed by the Captain of the launch Dispatch that there were many flocks of young ones along the river.

Must Clear Creek. Mr. Thomas went to Ten Mile today to see if the Southern Pacific contractors have cleared the lakes and creeks of the timber that they threw into them in clearing the right of way for the railroad.

SHIPS WILL TEST CANAL

State warships of the Atlantic fleet will steam through the Panama Canal early in July, speed up the Pacific coast to San Diego and return to Hampton Roads by the same route, according to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, who inspected the harbor and made preliminary arrangements for the reception of the ships on the coming visit.

WANT ACTION ABOUT FERRY

dents Want Ferry Change—Proposed Route Change—Route

The Eastside city officials and residents are getting anxious to have Marshfield do something about changing the ferry Transit to an up-town location. They will probably send a delegation to appear before the city council here soon.

Eastside officials say that they are all prepared to go ahead with the improvement of McKay street, which will bring the ferry route to the heart of Eastside, just as soon as the Marshfield city council will provide a new landing in Marshfield.

It is stated that the C. A. Smith company will soon formally dedicate this street, fifty feet wide, from Broadway to the waterfront and all that remains to be arranged for is the crossing over the Southern Pacific tracks which, it is believed, can be arranged soon.

For Better Service. In addition to the more convenient landings, the Eastside people are planning to arrange better ferry service. They want thirty-minute service during the day time and provision made for operating the ferry at certain hours of the evening.

HOME AGAIN AFTER A WONDERFUL RACE to BANDON

Never before has a motor car gone over such dangerous roads at any way near such time. Capt. Edgar Simpson at the wheel of the SCHOONER FORD is to be congratulated on such a dangerous feat.

These Helped to Win The Race

It sounds unreasonable, but it is true, that the little Ford, weighing half as much, costing half as much, gets over the road twice as fast. IT'S THE "FORD" $650.00 F. O. B. ..That Sells for.. ..MARSHFIELD..
