CENTRAL AVENUE.

CENTRAL AVENUE continues to be Coos Bay's popular Great White Way—the strolling and shopping crowds find it the best parade place even with the dredge pipes running up the street. This temporary inconvenience only serves to illustrate the fact that in time all things come to Central avenue and of course the dredge Seattle had to come. Now is the time to centralize, merchandise, economize and keep your eyes on Central avenue.

THE CHANGE IS COMING.

SENATOR L. S. SMITH, who was probably the first one to suggest the commission form of government for the State of Oregon, may be surprised to know that there is already a probability that two other states will be first with this new idea in administration of state affairs. Iowa and Colorado are both busy on a plan for the new form. In Iowa a legislative committee on economy and efficiency is considering a report of experts on a modified form of commission government.

In the Centennial State the Colorado Service League is actively at work with the plan. Petitions are already in circulation for the submission of the plan to the voters of Colorado at the coming election, under the Colorado Initiative and referendum law. Judge Ben Lindsey is the author of the bill the legislature will be asked to accept, if the people so indicate. Under this Colorado plan the state will imitate the Federal government organization, the people to elect a governor and he to appoint a cabinet, as the President of the United States appoints.

Instead of then proposing a reform in the manner of selecting judges, the Colorado Service League would cut down the legislature in the interests of good law making, to but one branch and that limited to twenty members.

Something is bound to come of these various schemes for remodeling our state governments and making them conform to the demands of the popular primary, and to the business needs of the community. No better reason can be given for the nomination and election of a multiplicity of minor state officers than can be given for the nomination and election of the members of the president's cabinet.

Just what the final form of the new government will be it is too early to predict. That it will be patterned more or less indirectly after the organization of the Federal government is most likely.

WITH THE TEA AND TOAST

GOOD EVENING

The true use of speech is not so much to express our thought as to conceal it. — Goldsmith

NAVAL TOAST

Come fill up the glasses with harmless clam broth. Or anything else that wont bubble or froth. Such as kumyss or zoolak, plain water or tea. And welcome J. Daniels with 30 times three! Then fill up the beakers with butter-milk thick Or any old thing that is minus a "kick". Put soup in the punch bowl and milk in the stein. And welcome J. Daniels with 90 times nine!

Borrow trouble and you will be in debt the rest of your life.

If you think it rains only on Coos Bay read the base ball reports in todays Times and see all the games that were postponed on account of rain.

There is some talk of the Marshfield barbers boosting the price of a hair cut to four bits. Thank heaven! I am growing bald. Congratulations also to Dave Stafford and Irving Chandler.

IS SENT TO COUNTY FARM

Paul E. Hassell, a cook who made application to Marshal Carter last night for a place to sleep, was taken before the insanity commissioners today. He was found not to be insane but suffering from the effects of alcoholism and other complications. He is thirty-six years old, a Swede, and came here from Mapleton some time ago. He was ordered sent to the county hospital. He owed about $100 to different people and expressed fear that they might kill him unless he paid them.

Two Want Pensions.

Mrs. Joe Hudson, an aged Coquille woman, has made application to Judge Hall for a mother's pension. All her children are beyond the pension age, but she wrote that she would like to go around and visit them and thought that a pension would help. Judge Hall will have to refuse the request.

Deserted Family.

Mrs. Hutchison, who came here a week ago from Cottage Grove with her husband and children, yesterday applied to Judge Hall for a pension. She said that her husband had found an old girl friend soon after their arrival here and had run away with her. She has two little children and is without funds. When told that she could not get a pension, she wanted money enough to return to her parents at Cottage Grove.

DAY'S NEWS IN POLICE COURT

Prisoner Arrested Twice Over With Over $200 in His Pockets—Other Offenders

Officer Charles Doane arrested M. J. Hogan at 11:50 last night and charged him with drunkenness, indecent exposure and disorderly conduct. A search of his person revealed more money than has been seen in the police station since the Democratic administration was inaugurated, $232.80 being taken from him. He was released by Recorder Butler to appear at 10 a. m., but was rearrested by Officer Richardson at 9:40 p. m. and charged with drunkenness. At the time of his second arrest he had $298.55 on his person.

Charles Jensen, who says he is employed on the dredge Seattle, was arrested by Officer Carter yesterday afternoon and charged with drunkenness. He said he had money from the dredge and would pay fine and bail if released. He fined $5 by Recorder Butler today.

J. C. Waldon was arrested at this morning and charged with drunkenness. He had no cash and owing his first offense, he was released by the court.

Stole Overcoat. Ed Crow was arrested under Constable Cox and placed in the prison on complaint of the Chandler Hotel, who claim that he stole an overcoat from one of the guests. Charge had been preferred by man who claims the overcoat stolen from him, up to late this afternoon. If he does not make complaint today, it will be released.
