

A Spring Tonic Get Into a CLOTHCRAFT FIFTEEN

When you find out just what you can get in Clothcraft Clothes and then learn first hand about the way we are backed up by the makers in guaranteeing you fit—wear—service and satisfaction—you will be glad you came to this clothing store.

Of course, we have the famous Special Blue Serge No. 5130 at $15—we would not consider our service to you complete without this biggest of all big sellers. And then we have many other patterns in the latest Clothcraft models for Spring.

Just now the store seems to radiate cheerfulness—the Spring furnishings make you want to forget Winter and think only of new things—we want to show them to you—not necessarily sell them to you unless you are ready to buy.

REMEMBER—Any suit purchased in this store will be kept pressed and the buttons sewed on free of charge.

That man is surely doomed to strife,
And shadows grim 'round him will creep,
Who thinks he is enjoying life
When he is merely losing sleep.

Wed Here.—Miss Media Epperson, daughter of J. C. Epperson, and Leonard Hoffman were married yesterday at the home of the bride's father.

Weigh Mails.—The local postoffice is again weighing the incoming and outgoing mails. It will be continued for two months and the average will be used as the basis for the new star route contracts.

Sells Apples.—Alfred Tyberg, a rancher above Allegany, this week brought in a dozen boxes of fine Baldwin apples which he had stored on his ranch. They were stored carefully and kept well, bringing him a fancy price on the Marshfield market.

Services Later.—The hour for services in the several churches of Marshfield in the evening on Sundays has been changed by mutual consent of all the ministers to eight o'clock instead of 7:30.

Outlook Good.—Mr. Roberts of Myrtle Point has been spending a few days here boosting the Myrtle Point fair. He says the outlook is for an unusually good fair this fall. The prospects are also for a good summer for the Myrtle Point region. Ed Rakleff, formerly of Myrtle Point, is arranging to start a general store at Florence.

Benefit Social.—Last evening a benefit social was given at the Grandel place in Bunker Hill for Mr. Ludwig, the shingle mill employee who is recuperating from a bad accident. While at work, a piece of lath penetrated his skull and his recovery is almost marvelous. About seventy-five gathered last evening and enjoyed a fine evening of dancing, music and games which were followed by a buffet supper. Before leaving, a purse of $75 was raised and presented to Mr. Ludwig.

Coos County Gold.—Dr. A. L. Houseworth is the recipient of a novel piece of jewelry. It is a large gold ring made out of Coos county gold. It was presented to him by Geo. W. Shelly, who secured the gold dust from a mine in which he is interested near Myrtle Point. The ring is a large one and in place of a setting bears the word "Oregon" in raised gold letters, the letters being of a different hue. Not only is it a Coos county product, but it was made in Oregon and Dr. Houseworth is highly elated over the gift.

Great Dance Pictures.—Manager Marsden, of the Grand Theatre, says that the dance pictures last night were among the best he has ever produced and all who were present agree with him. The pictures are to be repeated tonight.
