A QUEER SHIFT

C IS part of the irony of the present Mexican situation that a man like Roosevelt should have had his lot cast in times of peaceful progress, and a man like Wilson in times of stress.

President Wilson has a positive talent for political economy prac-tically applied, and Roosevelt for international complications.

Roosevelt made a time of peace seem almost like war; Wilson is making a time of war seem like peace.

DR. CALVIN WHITE ARRIVES HERE

Dr. Calvin S. White, of Portland, Secretary of the State Board of Health, arrived this morning on the Breakwater, Dr. White is well known in Marshfield, having visited this city a number of times within the last few years. Marshfield will remember his last visit at the time he represented the tSate Board of Health when the question of public sanitation arose in connection with Mill

Having come to Coos Bay primarily on State Board of Health matters, he also plans to be present in the various Coos county cities as local committee organizer or branches of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society, of for three years he has been president. In the interests of this work he will speak at citizens' conferences for men in the following cities: Marshfield, April 30; Bandon, May 1; Coquille, May 2; Myrtle Point, May 3 and North Hend, May 4.

Dr. White reports great progress In the spread of this work throughout the state. Portland especially is well organized and doing consistent work. Perhaps no other thing done has made the Society more respected than the influence it wielded for the passage of the law at the last legislature which has practically driven out of the state the quack advertising medical specialists who heretofore have preyed upon the ignorance of boys and men in sex matters. Dr. White further reports that the Oregon Social Hygiene Society leading the country in this line of 000.

GREAT BOOSTER

ORTLAND MAN WHO WILL WILL SPEAK HERE NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT, HAS BEEN BIG FACTOR IN DEVELOPING OFFICE OF METERS OF METER PORTLAND

Marshfield, Ore., April 29, 1914. Editor Coos Bay Times; Hon. Tom Richardson, the Portland booster and publicity man, will speak at Masonic Opera House, Tuesday night. He is an interesting person, be-cause he has an idea and works for it. In fact, he has several. That Richardson's achievewhy Mr. ments in building the modern city of Portland to its present size, commends him to Coos Bay people. He has perhaps done more to add o the wealth of Oregon than any other one man.

He once stated to the writer, that "every dollar spent by Portland in exploiting the resources of our state had brought within the state's bor-ders at least one thousand dollars."

That in two years of his well-organized publicity work for Portland in bringing money and people to that city, he had added to its wealth, sixty millions of dollars. His hobby and delight is hunting for new industries, big business and investors and he is probably the accomplished city-booster in America. In addition to attracting to circulate the petitions urging the Port of Coos Bay to issue $300,000 new manufacturers, commercial interests and home seekers, Tom Richardson even got the school children to boost Portland, by sending let-ters East to their friends, telling about the wonderful advantages of not only Portland, but Oregon. His working hours would appal a sweat shop. One night he is addressing a committee to consult on the location of a new corporation; next night he is possibly seeing the Harbor Commissioners about new docking facilities; all this outside of his regular office hours.

Everyone, both men and women, is urged to hear him speak Tuesday night, May 5, at the Masonic Experts Prepare Designs for Forest Exposition-Government Timber Sales.

WASHINGTON D. C., April 29 .-Two models which show how the gov-Guard and Governor West are ready ernment sells its timber have just been prepared in Washington, for display at the forest products expo-30th to May 9th and in New York May additional hospital room. 20th to 30th. These models represent an acre of western yellow pine land in a national forest of the southwest before and after logging.

In the model showing the stand before the lumberman goes into it the trees range from those only a few years old to large, overmature. stage-headed individuals more than ready for the ax. In the second modthe mature trees and all others larger than a certain diameter have been cut down and made into logs and cordwood. In this, as in all government sales, the stumps are cut low to avoid unnecessary waste, logs are taken to a small diameter well up into the tree, and such material as is not fit for lumber is converted into cordwood. Together, the models show the care which the government requires of lumbermen in felling old trees so that the young growth is not injured. The brush is piled in heaps for burning after the lumber has been removed, in order that the fire menace which foresters say usually follows lumbering may be done away with. The models are on a scale of about one inch to about five feet, so that trees approximately 100 feet tall are about 20 inches high in

It is the intention of the forest service to have these models set forth certain points in regard to the timber sales conducted by the govern-They will demonstrate, in the first place, that the timber on the national forests is for use; placards tell how it is sold to the highest bidder when it is wanted for commer-cial purposes, and how it may be given away to local settlers and prospectors for developing homesteads or mines. The models themselves indicate that the timber is cut in such a way as to eliminate all avoidable waste for wood and to secure a continuance of the forest crop, not onprotection of the soil. They further show the fundamental principals applicable to many logging operations, that the mature and overmature trees should be removed, that thriftily growing young trees should be left to produce seed and insure a reproduction of the stand, and that the young growth should be protected from damage in lumbering opera-

The Breakwater at the article in The Times last against the article in The Times last night stating that the Democratic County Central Committee have of-ficially endorsed Frederick Hollister for the office of Representative in Congress from this district.

Will the chairman and secretary kindly give day and date of the meeting at which this so-called endorsement was proposed and carried officially? Will they kindly tell us who the members were that were present and voted in favor of this endorsement?

I do not question the right of the worthy chairman and secretary of the Coos County Central Committee to individually endorse Mr. Hollis-ter or any other Democrat whom they may favor personally but I do most emphatically protest against their committing the organization of the Democratic party officially to Mr. Hollister or any other Democrat prior to the primaries. Such action is not fair play. Such action is not Democratic. As a firm and faithful adherent to the principles of Jefferson and Jackson I protest against such procedure.

There are now two candidates before the Democrats of t' is Congressional district asking for the votes of their fellow Democrats for this nomination and both these candidates are entitled to neutral treatment by all official organizations of the Democratic party.

There is no question of the Democracy or the character of either of these gentlemen and the action of any official organization of our party to prejudice voters against either before the primary election is unwise, unfair and undemocratic. Yours for Fair Play.
