SHOWER FOR MISS LANGWORTHY.

One of the most beautiful affairs of the season was the miscellaneous shower given yesterday afternoon and evening by Mrs. O. S. Torrey at her home in South Marshfield in honor of Miss Evelyn Langworthy, whose marriage to Mr. Herman Edwards takes place early in June. The decorations were most dainty and beautiful and showed the original taste of the hostess to good advantage. The rooms were a veritable May day bower of beauty in their profusion of pink drapings and pink and white roses and apple blossoms, against the beautiful background of ferns, Oregon grape and huckleberry which always adds so much charm to Coos Bay's decorative schemes. The many beautiful and useful gifts of the bride-to-be were arranged on a large table under a dainty white parasol, which, with its profusion of pink bows and streamers carried out the color scheme of the afternoon.

After the guest of honor had opened and displayed her gifts to those present, Mrs. Torrey, assisted by Mrs. W. F. McEldowney and Mrs. Chas. H. Curtis, served a delicious two-course luncheon.

Seated at the "bride table" were Miss Langworthy and her mother, Mrs. J. O. Langworthy, Miss Effie Church as special guest of the afternoon, and whose marriage to Mr. Frank Heath also occurs in June. Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland and Mrs. Guy Kendall. The other guests were seated at four smaller tables. At the beginning of the luncheon the brides-to-be were profusely showered with rose petals and wishes that they might always have "roses on their way." During the afternoon the guests flung linen for the bride-to-be. Those present during the afternoon were:

Mrs. J. O. Langworthy, Mrs. P. C. Birch, Mrs. F. E. Allen, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. W. Langworthy, Mrs. Otis Wilson, Mrs. C. A. Langworthy, Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland, Mrs. W. F. McEldowney, Mrs. F. L. Sumner, Mrs. Ivy Condron, Mrs. C. H. Curtis, Mrs. A. B. Drews, Mrs. Ballinger, Mrs. Frye, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Chas. Davis, Mrs. Guy Kendall, Mrs. J. Lee Brown, Mrs. G. N. Bolt, Mrs. J. Knotts and the special guests, Miss Evelyn Langworthy and Miss Effie Church.

In the evening Mrs. Torrey had as guests Miss Langworthy's most intimate friends from the younger set, who also were served a most enjoyable two-course luncheon. During the evening the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Frank Sumner and Mrs. Curtis. Much merriment was caused when a messenger called at the door, asking for Miss Langworthy. Upon her appearance she was handed a package and as she received it she attempted to draw up an attached string, when another and still another, until twenty packages were drawn from the basket carried by the messenger. The young ladies spent a most pleasant evening with music and games and at a late hour bade their hostess and guest of honor good night.

Those present in the evening were The brides-to-be, Evelyn Langworthy and Effie Church; the others were Irene Preuss, Ruth Allen, Gertrude Robison, Helen Smith, Lucy Powers, May Myren, Lulu Hodson, Myrtle Downer, Ida Downer, Dora Brown, Effie Church, Cora Dye, Mildred Storey, Roxie Hall, Bertha Davis, Jessie Trank, Mable Lang, Dermal Campbell, Mable Ekblad, Alma Ekblad and Eva Hansen.

W. C. T. U. CONTEST

The Marshfield W. C. T. U. gave one of their popular Demorest silver medal contests at the First Baptist Church last night which was won by Dr. Mattie B. Shaw. The popularity of these oratorical contests was fully attested by the size of last night's audience which occupied every available seat before the program began so that the late arrivals had to stand. The platform was tastefully decorated with calla lilies, cut flowers and ferns, making a very pleasing appearance.

The speakers all showed careful training and their ability and efforts of the director, Mrs. Rebecca Luse-Stump who coached them. It is seldom that an entire group of speakers shows such a high grade of interpretive power and such varied expression as did the six participants in this contest. Each speaker did so well that it would be difficult to pick out any one person as deserving of special praise. The judges must have found it as hard to choose a winner as did the audience, for they deliberated at considerable length before making their final selection. Dr. Mattie B. Shaw was awarded first place and the Silver medal. The judges were, Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, Mayor F. E. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reid. Mrs. Chas. Stauff rendered a soprano solo with much power and impressiveness which elicited prolonged applause as did also the very excellent number rendered by the Presbyterian Church Quartet. Mrs. Wm. Horsfall and Mrs. J. Wright Wilson served ably as accompanists and their playing added much to the effectiveness of the musical numbers. Rev. G. L. Hall in a few closing words commended the speakers and their director, thanked the musicians for their services and the audience for its presence and interest and presented the medal to Mrs. Dr. Shaw. The program was as follows:

FISHING BOAT PUTS IN HERE

Zillah May From Grays Harbor Finds Fine Halibut Bank Off Oregon Coast

After having located a halibut bank off the coast north of here that promises to be one of the best of fishing grounds, the two-masted fishing schooner Zillah May from Grays Harbor was forced to lift anchor and nets and put into Coos Bay for refuge from the severe northwest gale.

The Zillah May brought in about 4000 pounds of fine halibut which she had taken in a short time.

Capt. Chris Anderson is master of the Zillah May and he carries a crew of fifteen men. They started in fishing off Heceta Head and were prepared for a big catch which the bank afforded when the storm came up.

The Zillah May was originally planned for the Alaska fishing fleet but the Alaska Fisheries Company so predominated that field that the owners decided to try for an independent field.

The Zillah May is docked back of the Johnson-Gulovsen store. She will put to sea in a day or two.
