

In Society

PERSONAL notices of visitors in the city, or of Coos Bay people who visit in other cities, together with notices of social affairs, are gladly received in the social department. Telephone 133. Notices of club meetings will be published and secretaries are kindly requested to furnish same.

CONTRIBUTIONS concerning social happenings, intended for publication in the society department of The Times, must be submitted to the editor not later than 6 o'clock p. m., Friday of each week. (Exceptions will be allowed only in cases where the events occurred later than the time mentioned.)

LONGING

How often in the after years when time has touched us whitely with his frosty rime, In silent moments never spoken of, We long to know again a mother's love.

Bright gold, hard labor's guerdon, may be ours, And fame have brought us satisfying dovers, Yet in the moment when our life has all— All would we give to hear her gentle call.

When fevered with the fret of life and toll, The strife of living, and the day's turmoil, How do we yearn, so deeply and so much, To feel again the healing of her touch.

When bitter in defeat, by failure stung, When from the heart, hot, careless words are flung, How thought brings back, our dark moods to beguile, The pleased, reproving laughter in her smile!

Ah, mothers, little do you know or guess, How in our secret hearts your name we bless; How you are present through life's joys and tears, Forgotten not through life's increasing years! —Arthur Wallace Peach.

"HAVE you heard from Hilda lately?" I asked a neighbor of mine the other day, referring to a mutual friend.

"No I haven't seen her nor heard from her for over a year," she answered with a tinge of sadness and bitterness in her tone.

"Since I moved out here we seem to have drifted apart. I guess she's entirely forgotten her old friends."

Yesterday I happened to meet the mutual friend on the street, and our greetings were scarcely over before she had launched into eager questions about my neighbor. "It makes me very sad," she said, "that I haven't seen her nor heard from her for so long. But you know how busy one is, and how one gets out of touch even with those one loves the most. It isn't because I haven't thought of her, you may be sure, says Rita Carveron. You know how much Mary always meant to me in college, and even since then the thought of her has been a tower of strength to me. She's so kind and fine and splendid every way that I like to think of her when I need courage for things. She is one of those people whom you are glad to know are in the world even when you don't see them or communicate with them."

And all the time the woman who was enshrined on that altar of loving reverence thought that her friend had forgotten her!

Of course some people will say that if this busy woman had really cared for her friend she would have found time to visit her or write her.

Perhaps, and yet I'm not so sure. I think that one may care a great deal for a friend and yet be so involved in the all-absorbing, all-demanding business of daily life as to get out of touch with him or her.

I scarcely live through a week without thinking of a certain professor who did a great deal for me at college, and yet I do not see him or communicate with him from one year's end to another.

Silent friendship, like silent partners, may be a big force in spite of their silence.

Do you think you have lost your friends just because in the confusion and absorption of the day's demands you have fallen out of touch with each other. Real friendship goes farther below the surface than that. "Let the soul be assured that somewhere in the universe it should join its friends, and it would be content and cheerful alone for a thousand years," says Emerson. And that is a description of real friends' life.

You think often of your friend. Doubtless he or she thinks as often of you. Some day you may be able to enter into more material communication, but for the present can you not be content to say,

"We both are real busy and we seldom meet;

Yet is our faith in friendship so complete

We can commune without the spoken word

And know the message by each heart is heard."

THURSDAY CLUB

Mrs. Sylvester Jones entertained the Thursday club at her home this week, numbering among her guests were Mesdames Harvey, Dean, Schreeder, Crawford, Mitchell, Kinney, Stadden, Jensen, Dodson and Fonten. Mrs. Clem Wells and Mrs. Fassbender were additional guests. A pleasant afternoon was spent at sewing followed by a delicious luncheon. Mrs. Kinney is to be hostess to the club next week.

CAFETERIA CLUB

The Cafeteria Club met for the usual informal evening of supper and cards Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Maloney, greatly regretting the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Tiedgen and Mr. and Mrs. Hildenbrand. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Chandler, Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hansen, were merited substitute guests. Guests and members making up the three tables of cards were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McEldowney, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Grannals. The club will probably be entertained next week by Mr. and Mrs. Tiedgen.

Mrs. Robert Rook, Mr. and Mrs. P. Willey, George Rook, Harry Johnson, Ed. Horton and Clifford McKay. In the games and contests prizes were won by Mrs. Peet, Mrs. Willey and Harry Johnson. Everyone voted the party one of the jolliest of the season.

CARD AFTERNOON

At cards Saturday afternoon Mrs. F. K. Gettins was hostess to Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Houseworth, Mrs. Bargett, Mrs. Neff, Mrs. Kreitzer, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Haines, seating two tables of guests at Bridge. A very delightful afternoon was spent.

MRS. GETTINS ENTERTAINS

A very delightful one-o'clock luncheon was given Thursday by Mrs. F. K. Gettins in honor of the return of Mrs. F. C. Russell who has been spending several months away, in Portland and other places. Besides the guest of honor the invitation list included Mrs. C. Q. Van Dusen, Mrs. E. Mings, Mrs. A. R. O'Brien, Mrs. W. A. Reid, Mrs. C. A. Sehlbrede, Mrs. Dorsey Kreitzer, Mrs. C. R. Peck, Mrs. W. F. Miller, Mrs. F. M. Parsons, Mrs. A. T. Haines and Miss Evelyn Anderson. Eleven were seated at the prettiest luncheon table decorated with favors and flowers. Mrs. Reid aided Mrs. Gettins in serving. Following the luncheon the guests went in a body to hear the lecture at the Masonic Opera House by Dr. Calvin S. White.

COLLEGE WOMEN

The College Womens Club will meet Wednesday evening, May 6th, with Dr. Shaw. It will be a very important meeting. There will be election of officers and a discussion of the annual banquet plans. Mrs. McCarty will read a paper on the Working Girls' Home. All members are urged to be present.

CARD PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Keating entertained informally last Tuesday evening in honor of their sisters, Miss Agnes Keating of Portland and Miss Leah Hillgroos of Tacoma. The evening was delightfully spent with cards. Mrs. Paul Sterling made high score for the ladies and Mr. A. L. Butz for the men.

At the close of the game Mrs. Keating served delicious refreshments to the guests who were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Butz, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Keating, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Wallmark, Miss Agnes Keating and Miss Leah Hillgroos.

SURPRISE PARTY

The birthday of Mrs. A. B. Snow of Bunker Hill last Saturday furnished the occasion for a surprise by a number of her neighbors and friends who came in a body to make the festive day still more festive. Dancing and games were started and kept the party in constant enjoyment until a late hour, furthered by the serving of a delicious informally-gotten up supper by Mrs. Froelich and Mrs. Christenson. Mrs. Snow was given a beautiful set of dishes as a token of the sincere esteem in which she is held by her friends. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Crist Steen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roodahl, Mr. O'Connor, Mrs. Ostraw, Mrs. Froelich, Captain and Mrs. Christenson, Miss Dorothy Johnson, Mr. Negor, Elmer Groat, Clifton Christenson and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Snow.

EASTSIDE SEWING CLUB

The Eastside Sewing Circle were entertained at Bay City this week at the home of Mrs. H. Brinkley and passed an enjoyable day in needlework and conversation. Among the members attending were Mrs. J. D. McCay, Mrs. Maloney, Mrs. A. Foster, Mrs. W. F. Byerly, Mrs. Robert Kitson, Mrs. D. F. Prey, Mrs. Frank Reibe, Mrs. A. Horton, Mrs. J. Cole, Mrs. Jas. McIntosh and Miss McIntosh. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. F. Moore at Eastside.

BIRTHDAY QUARTET

A quadruple celebration took place Saturday night April 25 at the D. F. Prey home in Eastside when the birthdays of Mrs. M. A. McLaggan, Mrs. G. Steckle, Mark Steckle and Frank Prey were joyously observed.

The hostess, Mrs. Frank Prey, ably entertained the large party of friends who gathered to make merry and with the assistance of Mrs. F. A. Cassidy provided amusement and served a delicious supper. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. Vineyard, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cassidy, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McLaggan, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Peet, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Steckle, Mr. and Mrs. G. Steckle, Mr. and Mrs. F. O.
