Fight For Home Rule

THEN
 One hundred and twenty years ago today occurred the events which resulted in an insurrection for the independence of Ireland. At midnight of that day Dublin was in an uproar. The doors of a local legislative reform club, a branch of the United Irishmen Society, burst open with a crash. In the doorway stood the scarlet-coated soldiers of the King, covering the assembled Irishmen with their guns. The leaders were arrested and carried off to jail for treason. From this moment dates the insurrection that was fought out four years later. Ireland was flooded with government troops but the Society grew rapidly. Oaths of membership and secrecy were administered. Pikes and munitions of war were secretly distributed and hidden for the uprising. The Society had over 500,000 members at the beginning of 1798. Stern measures to stamp out the rebellion were instituted. The insurrection began near Spafford on the 24th of May. It raged for a month, closing in the battle of Vinegar Hill with victory for the government. The rebellion cost the lives of 150,000 Irishmen and 20,000 English. Three years later the Irish parliament was removed from Dublin and united with the English at London.

NOW.
 Today, after more than a century under the rule of the Parliament at London, it is proposed to restore the Irish Parliament taken away in 1801, and to give Ireland home rule. The country is split in two over the proposition. The province of Ulster at the north declares against the proposal, while the balance of Ireland demands it. The House of Commons has twice passed the bill, and the third passing, when the bill becomes a law, is near. More than 100,000 men of Ulster stand in defiance against the proposed government. They are organized into a citizen army with some of Great Britain's greatest soldiers as their leaders. They are drilling and learning to shoot straight. Munitions of war are being gathered. A fund of $5,000,000 is being raised for the support of "the dependent relatives of the volunteers who may be killed or wounded in the fighting." The leaders of the government are striving to avert civil war by conciliatory measures. More than 25,000 British troops are assembled today in the government barracks in Ulster to put down any uprising.

NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS

DEEP SEA FISHING

John Neilson of Bandon Plans to Build Up Industry.
 Bandon will have a quarter million dollar fishing industry this fall if the plans of John Neilson and associates are successful. Mr. Neilson and his business friends are having a fine new deep sea fishing boat built at the Prosper ship yards. It will be fifty feet in length and will be equipped with a 20 horsepower gasoline engine.
 The boat will be used for fishing off the Coquille bar and if it works out as anticipated will greatly increase that industry in the future.
 In speaking of the venture Mr. Neilson said: "There is no reason why we should not have a quarter million dollar fishing industry here instead of a $50,000 one, and if the boat comes up to our expectations we will have it."
 —Bandon World.

FOR GOOD ROADS

Port Orford road district did itself proud on Good Roads Day last Saturday, when over 60 able-bodied men turned out and cleared a thirty foot right of way from the Long Bridge fill to town via of Oregon street, a distance of three quarters of a mile.—Port Orford Tribune.

BUY BEEF CATTLE.

A band of young beef cattle, that had been bought in the Pistol river country—mostly from Delmer Colegrove, were driven through Port Orford last week. They were for Smith Powers, and will be turned out in the company's big ranch on the South Fork of the Coquille.—Port Orford Tribune.

DEATH AT BANDON

Mrs. Collins, who had been a resident of Bandon several months, and who gave birth to a baby boy April 10th, died here Monday of this week. She had no relatives here at the time. Her husband has not been with her during her residence here and cannot be located. She was 28 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Converse of Kalama, Wash., well-to-do people of that section. The parents have been notified and arrived last evening via the Breakwater to take charge of the body. They left this morning with the body for their home. The child will probably be adopted by a good local family.—Western World.

REBUILD BANDON LAUNDRY

The insurance on the practically new Bandon Steam Laundry plant, which burned to the ground four weeks ago, has all been adjusted satisfactorily and there remains only the paying of the money over to Manager Deringer. As soon as this is done it is the intention of Mr. Deringer to leave for San Francisco where he will purchase the machinery for a new plant.—Bandon Recorder.

GIVES BOY CHANCE

In the Juvenile court last Monday Marion Bird was under investigation as a delinquent minor. He had represented himself of age in order to obtain liquor from a saloon in this city, and the county attorney took his case in hand. Judge Hall paroled him during good behavior and placed him in charge of John B. Shuck.—Coquille Sentinel.

Feel Dull and Sluggish? Start Your Liver to Working.

It beats all how quickly Foley Cathartic Tablets liven your liver, overcome constipation—make you feel lively and active again. J. L. Coban, Opposite Chandler Hotel, Phone 74, Central Avenue Drug Store, local agency.

BANDON BRIEFS.

The Bandon Surf says: "Joe Bennett, of Marshfield, is holding a large sum of cash which has been put up for wagers on the wet and dry proposition. He has instructions to take any bets offered against the wet proposition from $100 to $10,000 on an even break. "Have you noticed the Bandon Woolen Mill moving yet? Bet you a button it hasn't moved an inch. "Bandon people who have been 'stuck' with county warrants are in very hard luck. These county warrants are worthless when offered in payment of taxes and the banks sting them for a five per cent discount in cashing them. Why don't somebody holler 'graft'?"
 "The Bandon came in Thursday with a new skipper. The Fifield having been put in dry-dock for an annual cleaning and overhauling and as Capt. Solinsky went to Yaquina to look at the bar with a view to running the Bandon to that port, Capt. Lundberg brought up the Bandon this trip, departing for the south Saturday night with 425,000 feet of lumber from Moore's mill."

RECALL IN CURRY COUNTY

Petitions Against County Judge Woods are Circulated.
 The Port Orford Tribune says: Jesse Turner was in town from Gold Beach on his way to the northern end of the county with petitions for the recall of County Judge W. A. Wood. While Mr. Turner says that he is not seeking the position for himself, yet if the special election is called he will be Judge Wood's opponent as no other suitable candidate has offered himself. He met with but little encouragement here as the people of Port Orford are practically unanimous in the opinion that Judge Wood has done nothing to justify the use of the recall.

FIGHT OVER RELIGION

"Preacher" Seidman, a local eccentric character who is considered fanatically religious, was taken to Coquille Monday by Deputy Sheriff Blackerby to serve a 15 day sentence in the county jail for assault on Mr. Robinson, an elderly gentleman of this city. The assault is said to have been the result of an argument over religious questions.—Bandon World.
