HOT WATER BOTTLE FINISHES HEN'S JOB

When Unnatural Mother Quits Nest of Thirteen Eggs Mrs. W. H. Cross Contrives New Idea.

SALEM, Or., May 16.—Mrs. W. H. Cross, of this city, proved that necessity is not only the mother of invention, but that it may be the mother of chickens. She had a setting of eggs from a very fine variety of chickens. So happy was she in their possession that she all but counted the chickens before they were hatched. She was equally downcast, naturally, when the hen, after twelve days of careful "setting" deserted the nest.

Mrs. Cross found the eggs before they became chilled and breathlessly placed them behind the stove in her living room. When she pondered, quickly, for she was determined not to lose the chickens, and the problem was solved. The hot-water bottle was requisitioned as a substitute for the recalcitrant hen. It was filled with tepid water and placed over the eggs.

Then Mrs. Cross conferred with her family physician, Dr. J. O. Van Winkle, regarding the temperature at which the water should be kept. She followed instructions to the letter, with the result that six chickens were hatched today from the original setting of thirteen eggs.

Dr. Van Winkle is almost as proud of the brood of chickens as the owner, happy in the thought that he aided in the discovery of another of the multifarious uses to which the esteemed water bottle may be put.

After May 4 Dr. R. W. Morrow, Dentist, will occupy rooms 1 and 2, Eldorado Building over Red Cross Drug Store.

IN THE GARDEN.

Come into the garden, Maud, from your divan soft and snug; for the springtime is abroad, and the garden must be dug. Come into the garden, do, and you'll know what labor means; we'll toil the long summer through and harvest a pint of beans. The winter's an also-ran, spring's here, with its wrens and doves; so come with your sprinkling can, and come with your leather gloves. The call of the soil is heard, the call that old Adam knew, and, though it's a thing absurd, we'll toil as our neighbors do; our labor is all in vain, we know, ere we do a stroke, all useless the stress and strain, and the garden is a joke. For cutworms will take the corn, and chinchbugs destroy the peas, as sure as that we were born to fool with such tasks as these. The hail will destroy the beets, and also the succotash, and when we desire green peas, we'll buy them and pay cash. But come to the garden, Maud, regardless of things like these, get close to the fertile sod, and crawl on your hands and knees. Come forth to this verdant scene, away from your Persian rugs; Oh, come with your Paris green, to kill the potato bugs.

BAR DEEPER AT COOS BAY.

Master of Breakwater Says Dredge Has Cut Channel Three Feet.

A Portland paper says: "That an additional depth of three feet has already shown up on the Coos Bay bar since the U. S. dredger Col. P. S. Michie commenced work deepening the channel, is the statement of Capt. T. J. Macgenn. Captain Macgenn is also enthusiastic in his praise of H. Leroy Potter, the engineer in charge of the work on the Michie.

"Potter is an expert in every sense of the word," said Captain Macgenn yesterday, "and Portland should secure him for work on the Columbia River as soon as his contract with the government runs out. He knows bar work as does no other man I ever met and I attribute most of the success of the Colonel Michie to his handling of her."

GAMES WILL DRAW CROWD

Marshfield and Bandon Cross Bats Tomorrow—Elks Play Firemen.

Local baseball fans are expected to turn out in full force tomorrow to witness the two games which are scheduled. A team made up of star players from both Marshfield and North Bend will cross bats with the Bandon team and the Marshfield firemen are matched with a select team from the Elks lodge.

According to Manager Ogren Bandon is coming with a team that will be hard to beat. He says that the boys of that promising community have been in training for some time and are boasting of what they are going to do to the Marshfield nine. Bandon has the reputation of winning every opening game played with Marshfield and it remains to be seen whether or not the precedent will be followed.

Manager Ogren has had the local players out for practice three evenings during this week and several of the players managed to get out yesterday afternoon for a round of practice. There are six new men on the local team. They are Kelly, Krause, Murphy, McDonald, Kissam and Horn. All are working well and big things are expected of them when the game is called tomorrow. The batteries for Marshfield will be Murphy and Horn, Osborne and Krause. And it is understood that the battery for Bandon will be Baker and Tuttle.

The Marshfield lineup as announced by Manager Ogren this morning, follows:

- Catcher, Murphy-Horn.
 - Pitcher, Osborne-Krause.
 - First base, Kissam.
 - Second base, Burke.
 - Shortstop, Sater.
 - Third base, Briggs.
 - Center field, Kelly.
 - Right field, McDonald.
 - Left field, Krause.
- The lineup of the Marshfield Firemen and the tentative lineup of the Elks, as announced today by Manager James follows:
- Firemen Elks.
 - Clarke Catterlin
 - Johnson p Tom James
 - Kruger 1b W. J. Conrad
 - Carlisle 2b Montgomery
 - Fianagan 3b W. J. Chandler
 - Davis ss Carl Stockin
 - Matson rf Carl Davis
 - C. Matson lf Del Bengston
 - Keating-Mauzey c Jay Doyle
- Manager James of the Elk team says there are ten or twelve more Elks who will be featured in the game before it is ended.
- Harry Kimball, who has attained a reputation in this section as a "high-minded" umpire, will judge both games.

PORT ORFORD BOOSTER

Men and Women Unite in Second Good Roads Day

The Port Orford Tribune says: The people of Port Orford again responded loyally to the call for good roads and last Saturday some forty men turned out and worked on the new road, and this despite the fact that the preceding day was stormy and the meeting had about been given up. Another picnic dinner was served by the ladies, and there seems to be some question as to whether it is the good roads day or this feature of it that attracts the greater number of people."
