

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, This Store Goes Marching On!

A whole nation pauses from its work to pay tribute to those heroes who have given "the last full measure of devotion" in its service. Whether in the days of '61 or only yesterday on the skirmish line of advancing civilization at Vera Cruz, the inspiration of this immortal company was a sincere desire to serve their fellow man.

Our path lies in the more ordinary walks of life, but the same desire to serve has kept us and The House of Kuppenheimer tramping onward, onward, onward, toward a greater future. Instead of the warlike life and the stirring drum beat to inspire us, we have had the generous gratitude of the people in this community whose friendship and whose good will have made this store what it is today.

BORN

BICKFORD—To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bickford at their home on South Inlet, a son, their third child.
WILLIAMSON—To Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, at their home on North Inlet, a son; their third child.
KNOWLTON—To Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton, at their home in Porter, a boy, their second child.
ANDERSON—To Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, at their home at the life-saving station, a son, their fourth boy.
KNUDSON—To Mr. and Mrs. Knudson, of North Bend, a son.
ANDERSON—To Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, of North Bend, a daughter.

Mass Sunday—High mass will be celebrated at the Marshfield Catholic Church at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning by the Rev. Father A. R. Munro. A low mass will be celebrated immediately following the high mass.

Piling Contract—G. Gilbertson, of Kentuck Inlet, was a caller at the Times office today and says that while he has a contract for furnishing a number of small piling and a few long piling to the contracting firm of Hauser and Hauser he knows nothing about where they are going.

J. M. Dodge Hurt—J. M. Dodge, chauffeur employed by E. L. Foote, is confined to his bed with a broken arm. The accident happened this morning when he was cranking a machine between Fourth and Fifth streets on Park avenue. Both bones in the forearm were broken. According to Dodge, the trouble was caused by backfire from the engine.

To Bring Coal—Contractor Anderson, of the firm of Anderson & Johnson, who are doing the Siuslaw jetty work, arrived here yesterday en route to Florence. He states that the Hugh Hogan, which is being overhauled there will bring a cargo of coal for them and for Porter Brothers' work. J. E. Nelson, superintendent of Porter Brothers, stated that they were making arrangements whereby they could get coal from San Francisco and Portland in case there was any further delay here on account of troubles with the miners. He said they would rather use the Coos Bay coal but could not afford to suffer delays.

LOUIS COLLINS ARRESTED

It Is Alleged That He Threatened to Kill G. W. Stewart

Mrs. G. W. Stewart yesterday afternoon obtained a warrant from Justice Shuster, of North Bend, for the arrest of Louis Collins, who, she claims, has attempted to kill her husband with a shot gun. Collins has been living on the Stewart ranch for some time, where he does the chores of a garbage collector. He had trouble with Stewart last Saturday when Stewart drove up to the front gate of the ranch and asked Collins who was living at the place. Collins made some remark which was resented by Stewart and the two quarrelled. According to Mrs. Stewart, Collins has made several threats to kill her husband. Collins has been apprehended and will have a hearing before Justice Shuster Monday.

Goodroads Goodrum's Garage Will Give Information to Owners of Autos.

Automobile owners generally will appreciate a new feature that has just been added to the service department of Goodroads Goodrum's garage in the form of a roads bulletin. They will collect information concerning all the roads in every direction and every part of Coos county and auto owners may phone No. 373-L and find the condition before starting on their trip. The Goodroads Goodrum garage had a handsome and appropriate window display today of "Tires and accessories" showing an interesting collection all appropriately decorated with American flags.

NOTICE TO OWLS

All members of the North Bend Nest of Owls are requested to meet at Loggie's Hall, North Bend, at 7 o'clock tonight, May 30, to make preparations to attend the funeral of Brother Ike Frelund, which will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, from Wilson's Chapel in Marshfield. DAN MACDONALD.

County Road Viewers Will Be Here Monday Night to Talk Project Over.

A meeting of all those interested in the Marshfield-to-the-Sea boulevard has been called for next Monday night at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce when the matter will be taken up with County Engineer A. N. Gould, R. E. Weekly and P. M. Hall-Lewis who constitute the county viewers. They reported adversely on the project at the last session of the county court and were ordered to make a new report at the meeting of the County Court next Wednesday. The Marshfield people who are interested in putting the boulevard through, requested the viewers to come over and talk it over with the people here and they have consented to be here Monday night.

Mrs. F. E. Allen, Mrs. J. T. Hall, Mrs. E. S. Bargelt and Mrs. Frances McLeod expect to leave early next week to attend the annual session of the Oregon Eastern Star.

Truss Patients Satisfied

The big majority of our truss patients are satisfactorily fitted—notwithstanding the numerous fake advertisements claiming trusses cannot be made comfortable and dependable. We guarantee to fit you properly and hold your rupture in place. We are constantly adding to our truss and elastic hosiery department and can fit from this time on the most difficult cases. Remember you cannot buy a truss over the counter or have it fitted by inexperienced people unless you want to take serious chances of injury and discomfort. Swanton, expert truss fitter, has had ten years' experience along these lines and when you come here you will get the benefit of this experience.
