North Bend Wins Game

North Bend defeated Marshfield yesterday by a score of 11 to 5. Something over 200 spectators witnessed the game. The attendance was somewhat diminished owing to cloudy weather and the Memorial Day exercises which attracted many to the city. The crowd seemed to enjoy the sport as much shouting was heard whenever anything like a sensation occurred. There were a number of errors as well as feature plays on both sides, but both sides, especially Marshfield, showed lack of practice. A change in the Marshfield lineup was occasioned in the fourth inning when Burke, who played second base, sprained his ankle. He was replaced by Lewis, who had been playing right field, and Lewis was replaced in right field by Cooper. Landers and Johnson made up the battery for Marshfield and Krause and Thomas served that end for North Bend. The Batteries showed up fairly good through the better part of the game. Woods, who played left field for Marshfield, made two or three spectacular catches. Manager Chandler says that he is negotiating with Coquille for a game with Marshfield next Sunday. It is likely that the game will be played in Marshfield and not in North Bend. Arrangements are also being made for a game between North Bend and Bandon. Whether it will be played next Sunday or the following Sunday has not been decided yet.

Elks Play Elks

The game between the first and second teams of Elks was played on the North Bend diamond before noon and resulted in a score of 14 to 3 in favor of the first team. James and Catterlin were the battery for the first team, while Howatt, Swain and Lillebo served the second team. The game was inspired by "Wee" Willie Reichers. Some of the spectators who saw the game between the two Elks teams declare it was better baseball than that offered by the Marshfield-North Bend teams in the afternoon. There was a good deal of heavy hitting on both sides.

Mill Teams Play

The game between the Big Mill and the Eastside Mill teams was played yesterday morning near the Libby coal bunkers. The score was 6 to 0 in favor of the Big Mill, but while the score was one-sided there were just as many good plays on the part of the losers as on the part of the winners. Briggs pitched good ball for the Eastside Mill and was well supported by Catcher Brookler, Marks and Marks were the battery for the Big Mill and both proved worthy of their positions. Sater, who plays shortstop for the Marshfield team, was the official umpire of the game. Something over 200 spectators witnessed the game and a great deal of enthusiasm was displayed. Many of the spectators were perched on the high trestle behind the diamond, which afforded an excellent point of vantage.

'Villa---Man of Destiny' And The Mexican Problem

A Series of First-Hand Facts by John Reed, The Metropolitan's Special Correspondent.

CHAPTER III. Mexico and Patriotism.

We Americans honestly believe that we will benefit the Mexicans by forcing our institutions upon them. We do not realize that the Latin temperament is different from our own—and that our ideal of liberty is broader than ours. We want to debauch the Mexican people and turn them into little brown copies of American business and laborers as we are doing to the Cubans and the Filipinos. As yet, the revolutionists in the North have trusted the word of the President of the United States that this is not a war against the Mexican people—and the report of the State Department today is that "no aggressive act has yet been offered to Americans in Constitutional territory." But at the first breach of faith on our part, the Mexican nation will rise against us as one man. The American soldiers will have nothing serious to an-

WRITES ABOUT ROSEBURG LINE

R. M. JENNINGS PROMISES CO-OPERATION OF COOS BAY PEOPLE IN THE PROPOSED RAILWAY PROJECT.

The Roseburg Review says: "That the people of Coos County are greatly interested in the proposed railroad from Roseburg to the coast and will do whatever possible to bring about a speedy and successful materialization of the project is fully attested by a letter received from R. M. Jennings, chairman of the railroad committee recently appointed at Marshfield by J. W. Perkins, of this city.

"Although there has been a great deal of talk regarding the proposed railroad during the past few days, work on the project is progressing to the satisfaction of all concerned. The many legal entanglements, which at first threatened to bring about delay of the proposed road, are being straightened out, and everything looks toward the early issuance of the bonds necessary in placing the proposition on a sound and business-like basis. Attorney Robert G. Smith, of Grants Pass, who has had much experience in handling legal affairs attendant to undertakings such as the one at issue, will arrive here Sunday to confer with the local railroad committee, and J. O. Watson, attorney for the proposed road.

"The letter received by Mr. Perkins is self-explanatory and follows: "Marshfield, Ore., May 28th, 1914. Mr. J. W. Perkins, Roseburg, Oregon.

"Dear Sir: At a meeting of the railroad committee of Marshfield, which was held recently, I was instructed to write you that we discussed the proposition of a new railroad into Coos Bay very thoroughly and it is the unanimous opinion of the committee that we should work in harmony with you in every manner possible, but to do this and so that he will not go over the same ground as you have already gone over, it will be necessary for us to have, and we kindly request that you give us, full information as to what steps you have taken so far in the matter, and upon what lines you intend to proceed.

"We wish to assure you that it is the sentiment of the people of this community that it is for our interest to have an additional road to Coos Bay, but to obtain the financial support of the people it will be absolutely necessary to prove to them that the road will be built upon a bona fide basis.

"The committee thoroughly understand and believe that you are not endeavoring to have a road built upon any promoters scheme, and we realize that it is for the interest of everyone in Douglas Co. to have this road constructed. It will be necessary to have you take us fully into your confidence and for you to keep us thoroughly posted in all details.

"Assuring you of our hearty support in this matter, we remain, "Yours very truly, "Railroad Com. of Marshfield" "By R. M. Jennings."

S. P. LOSING MONEY Julius Kruttschnitt Says Receipts Have Fallen Off. SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive board of the Southern Pacific, who is here said the company had suffered a loss this year in gross earnings of more than $5,000,000, as compared with the figures for the same period in 1913. Unfavorable industrial conditions were given as the chief cause.

ROGUE RIVER FISHING. Lo Poy, the boss Chinaman who has been doing the contract work in the Wedderburn cannery at Rogue River, passed through town Sunday with a bunch of celestials bound for Astoria. He reports a very good season at Rogue River and will return here about July 1st to take charge of the packing at the Co-operative Cannery near Parkersburg.—Bandon Surf.

participate in the opposition of the Mexican army. It is the peons and their women, fighting in the streets and at the doors of their houses, that they will have to murder. It is the patient, generous, ignorant race that has struggled for liberty and self-consciousness for four hundred years—unorganized and inadequately armed—that they will have to shoot down. The United States will have quenched the hope and the genius of the Mexican race forever.

And if we, having established a settled government in Mexico City, can withdraw from Mexico, it will be to leave things worse than they were before—the great estates securely re-established, the foreign interests stronger than ever, because we supported them, and the Mexican Revolution to be fought all over again in the indefinite future.—John Reed in the June Metropolitan.
