BORN
NERDRUM—To Mr. and Mrs. R. Nerdrum at their home on South Fifth street, Tuesday, June 2, a son. Mother and child are doing nicely.
Daughter can spend about two dollars a week for patented aids for the complexion. But mother makes a nickel's worth of prepared chalk last three or four months.
Improves House.—Rev. G. LeRoy Hall is remodeling and improving his house at Ninth and Donnelly, practically making it a new building.

I. O. O. F. Memorial.—Rev. Samuel Gregg will deliver the annual memorial sermon for the Odd Fellows in the Christian Church next Sunday night. The male quartette will sing.
Portrait Painter Here.—Art circles in Marshfield and vicinity will be pleased to hear that Percy C. Nash, one of the leading portrait painters of the coast has decided to open a studio here and make Marshfield his permanent headquarters. Mr. Nash speaks in glowing terms of the Coos Bay country, both from a commercial and artistic standpoint. He brings with him letters of recommendation from some of the most prominent citizens of San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. His work is principally in water colors but he is not confined to this one medium, some of his most meritorious work being in oil. Mr. Nash is temporarily located at the Hotel

Grand Theater TONIGHT
Tonight's program consists of two splendid two-reel features and one single reel comedy. Excellent music.
CHAINS OF BONDAGE.
A drama of heart interest, love and sacrifice. A splendid presentation of an interesting photoplay with an all star cast.
THE GHOSTS
He is a sleep-walker. He proves to be the ghost, who hides his own clothes and finds them again. It's a Vitagraph rib-tickler.
ON THE ALTAR OF PATRIOTISM
A story of European politics and of sacrifice of all for one's country. The leading woman, a Spanish dancer, is most attractive. This story in two reels is full of action and beautifully photographed.
Children 5c, adults 10c.
Tomorrow night, one of the greatest plays of the stage, presented in motion pictures, "The Third Degree" in five parts. Played a full season in one of New York's largest theaters.
Special music by our seven-piece orchestra.

Flanagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, who found the owner by consulting The Times lost ads, Mrs. Cox having advertised for it.
Divorce Case.—A. H. Derbyshire, of North Bend, was here today en route to Coquille to try the divorce case of E. M. Alexander of Cooston. Alexander charges his wife with desertion and she was in California the last time he heard of her.
Try Case.—Today the case of Juratsch & Dooley vs. Tower Brothers, involving the ownership of the Orpheum moving picture show here is being tried in Circuit court at Coquille. Juratsch & Dooley bought in place, paid $1000 on it and then ceased payments, claiming that they were being attached by Towers' creditors. Towers ousted them and wanted to keep the $1000 paid.
Bad $10 BILL.—J. R. Tower and E. K. Jones today had a lot of fun with their friends by getting them to change a $10 bill which was rather cleverly doctored. It was a $1 bill and by the use of a pen and pieces of paper was raised so that it came from no one knows, but A. E. Seaman says it was given to him in change two weeks ago.

Witnesses Summoned.—Constable Cox returned this morning from Ten Mile, where he went to subpoena Charles Brooks, wanted as a witness in the case of Pete Menegat versus the Simpson Lumber Company. Brooks is the last of the witnesses to be served with a subpoena and the case will probably come up in the Circuit Court today. Other witnesses are Charles Jackson, A. P. Owen, S. B. Cathcart, Eugene Robinson, Carl Albrecht, Charles Caloff, John Vanberger and Byron Holcomb. Menegat in his complaint against the Simpson Lumber Company charges that his property was damaged when the lumber company diverted Eel Creek from its channel.
