tage, United States Deputy Marshal, of Portland, arrived in the city yesterday via the Drain stage route. He is here on official business. Armistead says that he is of the opinion that Marshfield is destined to be one of the largest cities on the Pacific Coast. He says that he would advise all young men to invest in acreage in this vicinity and not in city lots. He will be here for about two days making secret investigations.

Granted New Trial.—The case of Harrington and Doyle versus Jennie Stewart was set for a new trial this morning by Judge Cole. The plaintiffs were succeeded in the last term and the case will come up again in September. The case developed when Stewart bought a wagon and then filed a petition in bankruptcy. He claims that the wagon was purchased by his wife. Attorney Joehnk will fight the case for Harrington and Doyle, while Hall and Hall will represent Stewart.

Negro Steals $40.—Bettie Hieker, a negro, this morning filed an information with Justice Pennock in which she alleges that Carl Smith, a negro, who has been rooming at her boarding house, stole over $40 and some jewelry from her and fled to parts unknown. According to the woman, Smith left her place yesterday morning with a brown suit case and she thinks he went in the direction of Gardiner. Constable Cox and the police officers are searching for Smith.

Too Much Alcohol.—Dr. Houseworth who yesterday performed a post-mortem on the body of Emil Anderson, found dead in his bed Saturday morning, found that death was caused by excessive drinking. Anderson had been subject to cramps for some time and came as a surprise to those who knew him and Justice Pennock thought it advisable to hold an autopsy over the body. Anderson will be buried this afternoon as a county charge.

CHILD STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

EUGENE ELLIOTT, AGE 6, PAINFULLY BUT NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE THIS AFTERNOON.

Eugene Elliott, aged six, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Elliott, 239 South Fourth street, was painfully but not seriously injured when struck by an automobile driven by F. D. Fletcher in front of the Elliott home at 3:10 this afternoon. The child sustained a cut on his face and a bruised shoulder.

Mrs. Elliott says that she had been watching Eugene very carefully to see that he did not play in the streets, but suddenly when her mind was occupied in trying to locate the fire for which an alarm had just been blown, he dashed out the front door, ran behind one of Hansen's trucks which was just passing and right in front of the automobile driven by Fletcher, which was going in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Elliott saw the accident and thought at first that the child had been killed. She picked him up, took him in the house and dashed cold water into his face before he regained consciousness. Dr. Houseworth was summoned and dressed the injuries.

According to C. A. Pottet, an eye-witness, Fletcher was driving his machine at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour when the accident happened.
