F. W. WESTERBERG left this morning for Myrtle Point on business connected with his branch store there. He was accompanied by Frederick, Jr.

They left Grants Pass at 5:30 yesterday morning and reached Coquille at 7:15 last evening. They report the roads in excellent shape except about eight miles of the canyon in Douglas County which they say is almost criminal to be permitted. Eddie Prebble, the Portland boy engaged to perform the surfboard stunt on the Fourth of July, has had an offer from Astoria which tempted him to go there instead of coming to Marshfield. The committee in charge of the Astoria celebration offered to pay his expenses both ways and a big purse to perform on three days, July 2, 3 and 4.

Cohan wired Prebble today that Marshfield would beat the offer and in all probability Prebble will be here and participate in the program.

JUDGE HALL MAKES DENIAL

Editor Times: I wish to call your attention to the communication of the Ten Mile Lake Good Roads Association, published in The Times June 23, 1914, in which they say: "And the task of changing these conditions are neither impossible nor difficult. Had the bond issue been submitted to the people as outlined in the petitions with over a thousand signatures attached, it would easily have carried and the roads that would have been built with the funds raised would have given large farming districts access to the consumers, which would have soon made unprofitable, shipping farm produce into Coos Bay. Shipping farm produce into Coos Bay is as impracticable and uneconomical as shipping ice to Alaska. There is no more need of shipping farm produce to Coos Bay than there is of shipping coal and wood. But unfortunately, the idea that the people who pay the bills and suffer the loss when mistakes are made should have anything to say as to where and how their money was to be used, seems to have been repugnant to the County Court."

In this they are in error. The County Court did not approve of the plan individually, but in calling the election, the election was called exactly as asked for in the petition. No changes were made whatever. Yours very truly, JOHN F. HALL, County Judge.

WAY TO WATER A LAWYER PROPERLY

The best method of watering the grass, says the Dallas News, is to apply a spray for from six to twelve hours, the stream being so gentle that water will not collect in sufficient quantities to run off. The water will then sink down into the soil and the roots will grow to a greater depth. When this method is used the lawn should not be watered oftener than twice a week and then the ground should be soaked, so that the water penetrates for several inches beneath the surface. As a general rule watering once a week is sufficient to keep a lawn in good condition.

A LITTLE GIRL'S PRAYER

The June number of The Oregon Churchman relates a touching incident which happened at Bishopcroft, the residence of Bishop Scadding, while the clergy of Portland were keeping vigil over the remains of the dead bishop. During that solemn time a young girl came and asked that she might be allowed to say a prayer beside the bier in the oratory, the bishop's private chapel. She said she was a Roman Catholic, but that Bishop Scadding had been good to her, and she showed great gratitude when her request was granted.

Mrs. Kate Hunsucker, who lives on Front street near the Sengstack on cannery building, met Mrs. Romine, of Eastside, while crossing the bay on the ferry Tuesday, and gave her fair warning that unless she quit extending invitations and encouragement to her husband, Charles Hunsucker, there would be trouble between them. Mrs. Hunsucker says that she and her husband were recently separated for six months and that now she is "trying to do right by him" despite his alleged short comings. Hunsucker is an engineer on the ferry boat which plys between Marshfield and Eastside. According to people who heard the argument between the two women, they both showed that strong tempers were chief characteristics of each.
