WED IN NORTH BEND

The marriage of Miss Edna Steiner and Gus Bergren was solemnized last Saturday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. B. Steiner, on Meade street in North Bend, the Rev. R. N. Lewis, of the United Brethren Church officiating. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion and the nuptials were followed by a sumptuous wedding supper for the intimate friends who had been invited. The young couple were the recipients of many presents. They will make their home with the bride's mother for the time being.

EASTSIDE CLUB

Mrs. Frank Proy was hostess to the Eastside Sewing Club Thursday at one of the most pleasant afternoons the organization has enjoyed. Various flowers and plants were used effectively in the decorations. Social chat and needlework were followed by a sumptuous dinner, Miss Florence Willey assisting the hostess in serving. The club will meet two weeks from last Thursday with Mrs. Percy Peet. Those present this week were Mrs. H. Erickley, Mrs. A. Foster, Mrs. W. Robertson, Mrs. W. F. Byerly, Mrs. J. D. McKay, Mrs. Percy Peet, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. F. O. Brooks, Mrs. J. A. Swanson, Mrs. A. Horton, Mrs. Fred Moore, Mrs. McLagan and Mrs. S. Gilbert.

MINNIE-WIS CLUB

The Minnie-Wis Club will be entertained the week after next by Mrs. Davis at her home on South Fifth street. Owing to illness and the absence of many of the members, the club has not been meeting regularly lately.

NARCISSUS CLUB

The Narcissus Club girls gave a splendid dance Monday evening at the club rooms in honor of Miss Ruth Thurston, who left this week for a visit of several weeks in Washington. Cedar and red roses supplied the color scheme, and the decorations and made the hall very pretty for the dancing and supper that occupied the evening. The Club will meet next Wednesday with Miss Blanche Tellefsen.

FOR TUESDAY EVENING

Misses Marjorie and Myrtle Cowan have invitations out for an informal social evening Tuesday.

PARTY TODAY

Mrs. Ward M. Blake is entertaining today complimentary to Miss Mamie Mahoney, who is soon to become the bride of Mair Dano.

HONOR GUEST

- Recitation . . . . . G. A. Williamson
- Musical Selection . . . . . Triple Quartette
- Dialogue . . . . .
- G. A. Williamson and Milo Sumner
- Duet . . . . . Winfield and Cal Langworthy
- Grand Finale . . . . . Dress Parade

CRACKER RACE

After this, the judges, Mr. Birch, J. Lee Brown and G. W. Myers, awarded the prize for the worst dressed couple to Miss Carrie Ross and Rev. Jos. Knotts. Then an egg rolling contest, at which Miss Mildred Storey and Howard Savage won the prizes, was enjoyed. After this came peanut and cracker eating contests. Lee Byerly proved himself the best man at the latter. Refreshments of corn meal mush and corn bread were passed to the poverty-stricken guests, who then tramped home, after declaring that they had spent a very poor (!) evening. The girls of the League will give another social in two months.

GOOD TIME CLUB

Miss Glenda Farrell was hostess to the young folks of the Good Time Club Friday evening at games and supper, entertaining Misses Wilma Hoagland, Frances and Thelma Lyon, Margaret Powers, Mary McArthur and Florence Johnson, of Coquille, and Jim Lyon. Margaret Powers will entertain in two weeks.

YOUNG LADIES' AID

EXCELSIOR CLUB

The Excelsior Club members and their friends enjoyed a home-fire party at the home of Willie McMahon in Bay Park Thursday night. Roasting marshmallows was followed by games and other diversions and then a sumptuous lunch was served by Mrs. McMahon, assisted by Mrs. Lyons. It was the last meeting of the club until fall. Those present were Vesta McMahon, Harry Schwartz, Marie Schwartz, Vilolet Roberson, Albert Powers, Howard Kelly, Muriel Cox, Eugene Kelly, Ernest Burrows, Helen Immel, Ray Davis, Bertha Davis, Lorea and Myrtle Isaacson.

THIMBLE CLUB

Mrs. Fred Kruse was hostess to the Thimble Club at an unusually well-attended meeting for vacation time, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent at needlework, followed by refreshments. Several club guests were invited, among them Mrs. Geo. Cathey and little son, Mrs. Frank Muscareo, Mrs. Alfred Matson and Miss Lena Kruse. The club members present were Mrs. M. G. Coleman, Mrs. A. H. Derbyshire, Mrs. M. E. Everitt, Mrs. Fred Glazier, Mrs. G. F. Gothro, Mrs. R. B. Hazer, Mrs. H. E. Kennedy, Mrs. J. G. Mullen, Mrs. E. E. Riggs, Mrs. Walter Russell, Mrs. R. L. Simpson, Mrs. L. K. Strate, Mrs. J. C. Wallace, Mrs. Geo. B. Mandigo and Mrs. A. E. Williams. The club will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Riggs.

MRS. LANDO'S TRIP

The Roseburg Review says: "Mrs. Kate Lando, of Marshfield, who was entertained last night by the local lodge of Rebekahs, of which she is state president, left this morning on her way to Portland. While here she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stonewall Cawfield, being a former schoolmate of Mr. Cawfield."

KENTUCK INLET PARTY

The young ladies of Kentuck Inlet entertained at a party Saturday evening. These parties have become a distinctive feature in this community and are usually very largely attended. The program for the evening was as follows:

Three selections from Riley by Rev. G. LeRoy Hall.

Debate, "Resolved that the old hen is better than the incubator." The affirmative side won. Sam Mickey, Mrs. L. Brown and Mrs. Joe Willey represented the affirmative side and the negative side was Mrs. W. S. Harmon and Rev. G. LeRoy Hall. The prize for the winning side was an old hen on a nest. The second prize was a little incubator with the eggs that never hatch.

Threading the needle, Eric Anderson won the prize, a large thimble. Lemon seed contest, Hector Stephens won first prize, a bottle of lemon extract, and Karl Raab second prize, a bag of lemon drops.
