"MY HOME"

What a world of sentiment these two short words contain! Why then is it not right to inject a little sentiment into the matter of buying a place where this most sacred institution of society—the home—is to be located?

Buying a lot thus becomes an essential act in providing a home where your children grow up among influences that shape their entire lives. In a home of your own you can best protect your loved ones in times of business adversity; and when fortune smiles on you it is on a home of your own that you can with most pleasure and satisfaction expend the fruits of your labor in making that home more convenient and beautiful.

But although getting a home-site involves so much sentiment it can only be accomplished by business methods, and the more painstaking you are in your selection and the more thoroughly you investigate the comparative merits of different lots, the better you will be suited in the end.

So, to come down to the cold material consideration of FIRST ADDITION as a suitable place for your future home (the home which your noblest ambitions impell you to provide), lots in FIRST ADDITION face on graded streets. Excellent water service is provided here. A planked street connects FIRST ADDITION with the business center and the mill. Here is a growing community of progressive citizens and good neighbors. More streets, more homes, and a new school house are in prospect for FIRST ADDITION this summer.
