PRES. WILSON INSISTS HIS REGIONAL BANK BOARD REMAIN

Issues Statement in Behalf of Warburg and Jones Early Today

SAYS THEY ARE BEST FITTED FOR BIG PLACES

Declares That Party Cannot Read Out "Big or Little Business Men"

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—Declaring that it would be unfair to regard the Democratic party as the enemy of big or little business, President Wilson today gave out a statement in support of Paul Warburg of New York and Thomas D. Jones of Chicago, his nominees for the Federal Reserve Board. "I am sure the Democratic party does not regard a man as the object of suspicion merely because he has been connected with great enterprises," said the statement. "Mr. Jones and Mr. Warburg, in manifesting a willingness to make personal sacrifices and put their experience and ability at the service of the government without thought of personal advantage in organizing the great reform which promises to be so serviceable to the nation, are strong examples of patriotism and the public spirit which the whole nation admires."

DRUGGED AND ROBBED HERE

J. A. Baker Tells Strange Story of Crime in South Marshfield Yesterday

J. A. Baker reported today that he had been drugged and robbed yesterday on the Tenth street road near Eastport. He was able to give only a meager description of the two strangers, and says that he only lost $4 in the deal.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock he started out toward Eastport. On the top of the Tenth street hill near the path leading to the schoolhouse he was accosted by two men. They had a small map and asked him about the location of some lots which were marked on the map. They insisted on him looking closely at the map, although he told them that he did not know the property. One man stood on one side and one on the other.

The next thing he can recall was about 12:30 when he came to. He was lying on the ground near a small cabin in the edge of Eastport and all the papers had been removed from his pockets and were lying on the ground near him. He also found a fifty-cent piece lying near him but the other $4 that he had in his pocket was gone.

He said that one of the men was of middle age, average height and stockily built and had about three weeks growth of beard. The other he did not notice closely. Marshal Carter is looking into the matter today.

Mr. Baker says that the map must have been doped, so that the fumes of the ether or drug overcame him.

Rest Room Report

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES AND THE PEOPLE OF MARSHFIELD: To those, who, by their efforts and contributions made the Fourth of July Rest Room possible, a review of the movement and what it accomplished may be of interest.

The whole matter first took concrete form at a meeting presided over by Dr. Straw, who stated that Mr. O'Connell had offered the use of a building for the purpose and that funds would be provided by the Celebration Committee. A chairman was elected who appointed the following heads of committees:

- Finance and Reception ..... Mrs. Ward M. Blake
- Advertising ..... Mrs. W. S. Nicholson
- Arrangements ..... Mrs. D. C. McCarthy
- Furnishing ..... Mrs. A. T. Haines
- Decorating ..... Mrs. M. A. Sweetman
- Refreshments ..... Miss Nora Tower

Fright and early on the morning of July first, anyone happening to pass the O'Connell Building would have noticed an unusual bustle and stir. Dray loads of greenery and automobiles heaped with the contributions of dwellings and business houses were drawn up at the door. The sound of the hammer was heard in the land and mops, brooms and dust-pans were busy. Mrs. Sweetman, with the help of her committee, and Mrs. Mandigo, of North Bend, (who, by the way, decorated a window with flowers of which North Bend may justly be proud) covered the walls with fragrant cedar and touches of spirea while Mrs. Haines, with her furnishing committee superintended the placing of cots, chairs, tables and other comforts. In twenty-four hours the place was transformed from a shop into a dwelling. There was a kitchen with a stove provided by the Oregon Power Company and furnished with the appliances necessary for making tea, coffee and lemonade. The following grocers generously donated lemons, sugar, tea and coffee:

- Ollivant & Weaver.
- Nasburg's Grocery.
- The Pioneer Grocery.
- Cook's Grocery.
- Stauff's Grocery.
- The Finnish Grocery.
- Warner's Grocery Company.
- Portland Grocery Company.

There was a living room where easy chairs and small tables covered with spotless cloths made it possible for one to take a basket luncheon and sit comfortably to eat it. Mr. Perry loaned a library table, which, with a lamp and magazines, proved a cosy spot where one might wait for friends or spend a restful hour. In one corner was a check room, arranged to care for superfluous baggage, and last, but not least, was the nursery and real rest room, where tired mothers could leave their babies to the care of experienced nurses while they stole a much needed rest on a cool white cot or joined in the celebration outside.

Everyone helped. The name "Rest Room" became an open sesame to the supplies of every merchant in Marshfield. Perry-Nicholson, Johnson & Gulovnen, Going & Harvey, loaned us the furniture which was not supplied by individuals, with the exception of one dozen chairs sent by the firemen. The Hansen, Walters and Ferguson transfer companies contributed time and drays which was no small item. Mr. Albert Matson gave us carte blanche as far as his shop was concerned, and the Owl Drug Store came splendidly to our aid with all manner of sanitary conveniences and drugs. Mr. H. E. Tower put up a clock which was in constant demand as was also the telephone installed by the Coos Bay Home Telephone Company. Others who helped out were the Brown Drug Company, the Sumner Hardware Company, Smith & Wade and Norton & Hansen. Thanks to the generosity of these good people and the tireless energy of our women, for the sum of $74 which includes advertising, more than 1200 grown-ups and 200 babies were cared for, refreshed and sent on their way rejoicing during the two days of festivity. There were fifty-eight towns and cities represented on the register, including such distant spots as Seattle, Chicago, Indianapolis and even Meyersdale, Pennsylvania. Don't you think it was worth while?

Our first visitors were a man and his wife, with one child, who had just arrived, weak and spent from the hard sea voyage and were on their way to a settlement on one of the inlets. Being strangers they knew nothing of the celebration, but a Free Rest Room sign happened to catch their eye and they came straight to us to spend the several hours before the boat left for their destination. That gave us food for thought. What can people do, who arrive, utter strangers, many weakened by the sea trips, with insufficient means and often little children to care for? And how do the women manage who come to town for a day's shopping, dragging tired feet and more tired babies with no place where they may find rest and be refreshed, at least no place within their means. There are many women, doubtless, who "go without" rather than endure hardships of a day in town and that is not what we citizens want for Marshfield.

Surely the people of this community must see that one of the things we need to do to pave the way for a great city is to make people welcome, even more than welcome than they are in other places, so that our streets shops and public buildings will be filled with happy, well-cared for men, women and children who will leave Marshfield all the more ready to return and to bring others with them. So when you are asked to go down into your pockets to provide the wherewithal for a permanent rest room, think twice before you refuse and remember that you will be the gainer in the end. Remember, too, that the community which makes the greatest strides is the community which wants the most for the most people, NOT the most for a few, and as a loyal citizen do your share to keep Marshfield, not up with the procession, but AHEAD OF IT.

And so in all sincerity and gratitude as general chairman of the Rest Room committee, I thank the merchants of Marshfield for their generous co-operation and the assisting women for their unflagging interest and boundless energy, devoted to a cause which we hope will be made a permanent one by the citizens of Marshfield.

Very sincerely yours,
Katherine Drew Smith,
(Mrs. Vernon A.)

TORREON, July 8.—The Carranza-Villa reconciliation conference completed its last session last night, although it had been announced that all matters had been settled satisfactorily on Monday. It was understood that yesterday's session was called for the purpose of drawing up a statement for publication, outlining what had been done.

REBELS READY TO ORGANIZE

Carranza Officials Ousted by Villa Will be Reinstated Says Report

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) EL PASO, Texas, July 8.—Reconstruction of the Constitutional government machinery will begin immediately as a result of the settlement of the Carranza-Villa dispute. The Carranza officials ousted by Villa will be reinstated.

At least three Carranza officials will resign, owing to the demands of Villa. Isidro Fabela, Minister of Communications in the Carranza cabinet; Alfredo Brecada, special agent at Washington; and General Trevino, Chief of Staff to Carranza will be removed, according to well-informed persons.

In return Villa has acknowledged absolute subordination to Carranza. Whether General Angeles, chief of the artillery under Villa, will be expelled from the ranks by Carranza's order was a matter of conjecture. While on the surface everything seems peaceable, there is a growing conviction on both sides here that the adjustment is only temporary. Villa is sending his brigades northward from Torreon, ostensibly to recuperate.
