J. P. MORGAN & CO. REFUSE TO DISCUSS COMMISSION'S REPORT

Report Censures Directors for "Reckless and Profligate" Financial Operations—Mellen Makes Retort.

NEW YORK, July 14.—While J. P. Morgan & Co. consistently refused to discuss the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission severely censuring the directors under the administration of Charles S. Mellen for their "reckless and profligate" financial operations, estimated to have cost the stockholders from sixty-five to ninety million dollars, J. P. Morgan himself denies the charge that the Commission's examiners were not accorded full access to the firm's books. Mellen branded the report as "the report of a political tribunal made for political purposes."

District Attorney Whitman issued this statement: "When these papers (relative to New Haven) reach this office, they will be closely scrutinized and if we have any reason to believe that any crime of any kind has been committed by any person connected with the New Haven in this county, an indictment will follow, no matter who the person may be."

REPORT BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Department of Justice May Dissolve New Haven.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—With its unmeasured denunciation of the "mal-administration" of the New Haven and the "criminal negligence" of the directors, the Interstate Commerce Commission's sensational report was today before the Senate committee working to frame legislation for the control of railroad financing, interlocking directorates and other subjects concerned in the investigation. Administration supporters say that many recommendations of the commission agreed perfectly with portions of President Wilson's trust legislation program. The Department of Justice is expected to file a dissolution suit against the New Haven in a few days unless the company accepts terms of peaceful dissolution.

DANIELS TELLS OF A DIPLOMAT

Says Nation's Foreign Policy Often Hangs on Discretion of Officers.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 14.—How the nation's foreign policy often hangs on the discretion of a naval officer commanding warships in a faraway port was discussed by Secretary Daniels at the opening of the Naval War College. He pictured the duties of a naval officer in the role of a diplomat and urged the officers to train themselves in international law and languages in preparation for emergencies. He recalled the demands made for a salute of the Stars and Stripes by Rear Admiral Mayo at Tampico as an example of how the action of a naval officer in a foreign port precipitated an issue not contemplated in diplomatic channels and irrevocably committed his government to a policy of action in support of his demand.

Will Depend on Result of Referendum Vote Relative to Uniform Wage Scale.

PORTLAND, Or., July 14.—Upon the result of the count of the referendum vote cast by 45 locals from Juneau to San Diego, relative to the action for a uniform wage scale, depends largely whether a general strike shall be declared by longshoremen. The count of the vote, which was taken in accordance with the resolution passed recently at the Pacific Coast district convention of the International Longshoremen's Association, was begun here today by the executive committee. The result probably will be announced at the convention now in session at Milwaukee. A strike will probably be ordered if the demands are not granted.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The ultimatum in the wage dispute between 55,000 engineers and firemen of fifty-eight railroads west of Chicago and their employers was scheduled to be presented today to the management of the roads. A gigantic strike which will tie up 148,000 miles of roads is imminent unless an agreement is reached, according to the union officials. The counting of the strike referendum ballots has just been completed. The ultimatum, it was announced, contained the statement that 90 per cent of the men voted to strike unless their demands were acceded to.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Administration Senators, after a canvass today, reported to the White House that President Wilson's nomination of Thomas D. Jones to the Federal Reserve Board would be confirmed by a majority ranging from five to ten. There were no developments in the nomination of Paul M. Warburg.

MAY NAME A DEMOCRAT

Discussion as to when President Wilson will appoint a man to fill the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Associate Justice Lurton, who died suddenly at Atlantic City yesterday from heart failure, continued today. The names of those mentioned in connection with the vacancy include former President Taft, members of the cabinet and others. As the death of Justice Lurton leaves only two Democrats on the bench and six Republicans, it is thought that the President will most likely name a democrat.
