BREAKWATER SAILED TODAY

The steamer Breakwater sailed at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon for Portland with thirty-six cabin passengers and a good cargo, including a carload of butter and cheese and a good deal of miscellaneous freight. With two exceptions all passengers are bound for Portland. They will leave the boat at Astoria.

The Breakwater will sail from Portland to this port on July 17 and will sail from Coos Bay for Portland again on July 19. Among the passengers to depart on the steamer today were:

Jacob Fisher, B. Wamur, James Kealey, E. Skuggen, Joe Hains, Martin Anderson, R. P. Griffith, Joe Pumpulais, Pat Barns, Fred Cozzetto, Powell Westerlin, Theo. Bandel, Miss Chase, P. R. Finch, G. Witters, Dr. C. W. Sheppard, F. Rueger, F. C. Purkeypile, Harold Parks, Mrs. Parks, L. A. Cutlip, Mrs. L. A. Cutlip, E. L. Wisenor, Mrs. E. L. Wisenor, Cecil Wisenor, W. B. Curtis, Miles McKey, Wesley Mael, Walter Jones, R. J. Richards, Geo. Adams, Anton Jacobson, Ben Olson, Mr. Powell, Chas. Hall, Jim Casey.

Had Most Freight. Capt. Macgenn says that the Geo. W. Elder on her incoming trip to Coos Bay had only about 100 or 110 tons of freight for this port, instead of 300 as claimed. Capt. Macgenn declares that the Breakwater had 315 tons of freight for Coos Bay and worked two gangs of longshoremen 10 3-4 hours. He was highly indignant at the claims of the Elder people.

J. W. PERKINS ON RAILROAD

Says That Over 80 Per Cent of People of Roseburg Favor Project.

"The railroad which will connect Roseburg with Coos Bay is now assured, it is just a matter of following out the details," said J. W. Perkins, chairman of the Railroad Commission, of Roseburg, this morning. "We have men behind the project that will make it a success. There is absolutely no chance for it to be otherwise."

"More than eighty per cent of the people of Roseburg are enthusiastically boosting the project and some of them are talking of bonding to the extent of $500,000 instead of $300,000. The railroad commission as a body favors the larger amount and personally, I think it will be favored generally."

"The matter will be voted on at our regular city election the first week in October, and in all probability 80 per cent of the voters will put their names on the petition. At the coming election the railroad commission will be legalized as commissioners to issue the bonds and to contract for the railroad work."

Mr. Perkins said that the commission would not spend a cent until the road is under contract with the bonds for security. The whole project is to be engineered in a business-like manner, he says. Perkins also said that he will endeavor to have the railroad commission continue indefinitely, even after the completion of the road, for the purpose of building extensions and promoting business conditions generally.

Names Commission

Among the men who are behind the proposition, as named by Mr. Perkins, are A. C. Marsters, president of the Roseburg National Bank; H. H. Stapleton, cashier of the Douglas National Bank; W. H. Fisher, cashier of the First Savings & Trust Co.; B. F. Strong, president of the Umpqua Valley Bank; Lee Wimberly, publisher and editor of the Roseburg Review; Cort D. Shoemaker, of the Roseburg News; Hon. Einger Hermann, A. J. Liburn, merchant; W. H. Richardson, capitalist, and J. W. Perkins, chairman of the commission.

The above men constitute the Railroad Commission and according to Mr. Perkins, Roseburg will grow to a city of 25,000 within the next five years as a direct result of their promotion work and activities. Pointing to the benefits to be derived at this end of the line, Mr. Perkins said that Marshfield would get two dollars where Roseburg gets one, for every dollar invested in the railroad. He said that the rivers all drain to Marshfield and that when branches of the road are built up the Umpqua and other tributaries Marshfield will assume a position among the cities of the coast.

Perkins said that the entire railroad commission would visit the Bay immediately after the bonds are voted upon. He said that Hon. Einger Hermann and the other silver-tongued orators would then ask the people of Coos Bay to interest themselves in the project to the extent of $300,000 or $400,000. The local committee as it stands today consists of Al Powers, chairman; Hugh McLain and R. M. Jennings.

Perkins declared emphatically that neither he nor any other member of the railroad commission is antagonistic to the Southern Pacific.

Oil Project.

Perkins is here at this time in the interest of the oil project which he and E. M. Andrews, of Medford, are promoting. Perkins said in that connection that all that is needed is the leases from property holders on a reasonable basis. Then he said drills will be put into operation. The field in which he and Mr. Andrews propose to work is located between here and Myrtle Point and is about six miles wide and twenty miles long.

Perkins and Andrews will be in the city for two or three days. They have taken a number of local business men into their confidence and say they are gratified at the support which is assured them.

AUGUST HOELLING SUED.

August Hoelling, of North Bend, is named as defendant in a suit brought by the Portland Association of Credit Men to recover $50. Hoy & Miller filed a complaint in Justice Pennock's court this afternoon. The complaint alleges that Hoelling gave the Portland Association of Credit Men a promissory note for $50 on June 8. The time limit was July 10, and now a suit has been instituted to collect the money.

MYRTLE POINT SUSPECTS HERE

RUMORS OF PROBABLE ARREST IN CONNECTION WITH BANK ROBBERY BUT NO ACTION IS WARRANTED AT PRESENT.

Rumors of more arrests in the Myrtle Point bank robbery case were rife here yesterday and today, but it is understood that developments do not warrant the action now.

Two former Marshfield barbers, the wife of one and possibly a North Bend man were involved in the matter.

Detective Mitchell has been here for several days working on this phase of the case.

FIRE BACK OF ENGINE HOUSE

Timely Discovery of Blaze Prevents Serious Conflagration This Afternoon.

The timely discovery of a smoldering fire under the wharf immediately back of the Hotel de Carter, or city hall, about 2 o'clock this afternoon prevented a serious conflagration. It is thought that the fire started from a cigar or cigarette which was dropped between the planks.

George Gould, who was walking along the wharf at the time, discovered the small blaze and notified Gordon Smith. Smith attached a piece of hose to a faucet and soon had a stream of water on the fire. The blaze was extinguished in less than five minutes, but had it not been discovered by Gould it is probable that the wharf, jail or both would have been damaged considerably.

Repairs are being made to that part of the Blanco Hotel which was burned early last Friday morning. Officers have been unable to determine whether or not the fire was of incendiary origin. They are inclined to believe that it was, however.

Josh Billing Says

"The time to set a hen is when she wants it."

That sound philosophy is likewise true of men. The time to sell them clothes is when they want them. We never attempt to force sales by so-called price-reductions and clearance methods. The first price is always as low as consistent with the value given. The last price is always the same as the first price.

We are the only one-price clothiers on Coos Bay.

Otto Morrissey and Alta Stanley Wed Today—Stanley Dollar and Miss Johnson.

OTTO MORRISSEY WEDS MISS STANLEY

Word was received this afternoon that Otto A. Morrissey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Morrissey, and Miss Alta Stanley had been married at Coquille. It came as a decided surprise to their many friends. Miss Stanley is the eldest daughter of J. J. Stanley, candidate for county judge, and known throughout this section as the "marrying justice."

According to word received from Coquille today, R. Stanley Dollar and Miss Esther Johnson will be married there tomorrow evening. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride's brother, E. C. Johnson.

The announcement came as somewhat of a surprise to the many friends of the couple and their families on Coos Bay. Miss Johnson is the handsome and accomplished daughter of Alfred Johnson, Sr., the pioneer lumberman of the Coquille. R. Stanley Dollar is a son of Robert Dollar, the millionaire lumberman and shipowner of San Francisco. He has been stationed on the Coquille for some time as receiver for the Johnson Lumber Company.

The marriage will be a quiet one, only immediate relatives and close friends attending.
