RALPH CULVER REPORTED SAFE

Young Man Who Disappeared Monday Located Through Story in The Times.

Through the medium of a story printed in The Times Wednesday concerning the disappearance of Ralph Culver, the young man has been brought to earth. He returned to the city late yesterday afternoon and after notifying Mrs. E. M. Johnson, who conducts a boarding house at 236 Market street, he immediately sent a telegram to his father, A. F. Culver, of Newport.

In explanation, Culver said that he left the boarding house Monday morning and went to the employment office for work, but was offered nothing in his line. Then, he says, he went to North Bend, where he met two cousins whom he had not seen in several months. They were on their way to Sunset Bay with a camping outfit and invited Culver to go along. He says that he had no intention of staying over Tuesday.

On his return to North Bend he was met by a number of friends who told him of the story which appeared in The Times concerning his disappearance. Then he realized the anxiety that had been aroused in the minds of his relatives and close friends. He lost no time in getting to Marshfield. He told Mrs. Johnson that he was glad to know that people showed so much concern over him, and that it makes him feel that he has a new lease on life.

When Culver left last Monday he told Mrs. Johnson and other close friends that he could not find work and that he was growing despondent. When Culver did not show up Tuesday Mrs. Johnson feared that he had gone astray or met with foul play. On Wednesday she notified Mrs. Fred Messerle, of Catching Inlet, a cousin of Culver's.

After instituting a search for the missing boy and getting no trace of him, Mrs. Messerle sent a telegram to his father at Newport asking him to come to the Bay to search for him.

M. G. SPERRY IS RELEASED

Read Article on Liquor Question While Doing Time at Hotel de Carter.

M. G. Sperry was released at noon today after serving a sentence of two and one-half days in the city jail for being on the streets in a drunken condition. Sperry was found in front of the Record office at noon Tuesday by Marshal Carter.

At 4 o'clock that afternoon he had a hearing before Recorder Butler. In view of the fact that this was Sperry's third offense within the last few weeks, the Recorder decided to make the penalty a little more severe and gave him two and one-half days in addition to the customary fine of $5.

Sperry took his medicine like a man and did little complaining while behind the bars. He spent most of the time reading the June number of Everybody's Magazine. When he left his cell this morning the magazine was opened to an article under the caption, "What We Know About Rum." The article deals at length with the liquor question and the right way to settle it.

Tom Collins, arrested last night by Officers Carter and Smith for being drunk and creating a disturbance in the Royal Theatre, and who was released on bail amounting to $10, forfeited his bail when he made himself conspicuous by his absence this morning. When arrested Collins had $126.15 in his pockets.

Fred Brelender, arrested last night by Officer Doane, who found him on the streets in a drunken condition, had a hearing this morning before Recorder Butler and was fined $5. Brelender had no money with which to pay his fine and he was allowed to go on the condition that he would pay it when he got work.

According to Officer Doane, Brelender was not creating any disturbance but was taking up more of the street than required by the average individual.

Reynold Sears, a former well-known Marshfield young man, died yesterday at Colfax, California, after a short illness of tuberculosis. Word of his death was received by his aunt, Mrs. Geo. N. Bolt, this morning.

Mr. Sears and his mother had been at Colfax the past year. Reynolds was twenty-three years and four months old. Following the completion of his course in the public schools here, he was connected with the Chandler hotel for a couple of years. He and his mother resided on North Broadway. He was the only child. HARD TO KEEP DREDGES HERE can be done to prevent stopping dredges and disorganizing crews, please act promptly and wire us."

Can't Refund Money.

The following telegram was received from Major Morrow today: "Replying yours. Funds for each dredge within about $2000 dollars of exhaustion. River and harbor act will be delayed in passage but will doubtless pass in some form, after which date expense of Michie can be resumed by office. Emergency fund not applicable nor can any arrangement for refund be made. Dredges will close down Saturday unless your port can assume expense of operating either or both. They will cost approximately four thousand month Michie and thirty-six hundred Oregon. Advised Simpson July 8th this condition. Letter probably forwarded to San Francisco. Sends Message Today.

Secretary Bengtsson of the Port of Coos Bay sent the following self-explanatory telegram to Major Morrow yesterday:

"It is unofficially reported here that dredges Col. W. L. Michie and Oregon will have to quit Saturday next for want of operating funds. Could not emergency funds be secured to keep the dredges at work during this favorable weather and until next appropriation is available? In case money cannot be secured from any other source and Port of Coos Bay should borrow it, can you refund it out of next appropriation? Congressman reported $44,300 available on March 1st last; will this amount be consumed by next Saturday? Please wire us fully, including approximate daily operating expenses."

NO SHIPMENT OF STEEL NOW

NORTH BEND RUMOR ABOUT BIG CARGO SHIPMENT DECLARED UNTRUE—NO ORDERS FOR SIUSLAW OR UMPQUA BRIDGES.

A rumor circulated at North Bend today that a large vessel was due in here soon with a large consignment of steel for the Southern Pacific and also carrying about 100 workmen for the bridge, was denied today by C. R. Broughton, who is in charge of the construction. He said that he had not made any arrangements for any such shipment and was not expecting it.

The Southern Pacific has considerable steel at Oakland ready for shipment, but it will probably be some months yet before they are ready for it here.

Mr. Broughton expects to get the work under way at both ends soon. The dredge Oregon, which has been dredging near the bridgesite, has been delaying him.

Mr. Broughton has not yet received instructions to start the construction on the Umpqua or Siustaw bridges.

Wilsey and Waite.—Frank B. Waite was expected here today from Sutherlin. W. J. Wilsey is also due in, as he was to come here immediately after his return to Portland, July 15, from London and New York. Whether he has done anything more about taking over the Kinney property is not known.

A. S. HAMMOND and Frederick Holister were here from North Bend today.
