News of the marriage came as a surprise to their many friends. Although intimations of the marriage had been given out, no one was aware of the date. They slipped away Saturday afternoon without even telling relatives here, and were married. They returned yesterday, going to Sumner, where they are spending a few days at the Wilson ranch. It is expected that they will return to Marshfield this evening.

A host of friends will unite in wishing them all the success and happiness that time can bring.

The Coos Bay band boys and others are planning a merry reception for them on their return. They will reside in the bride's home near Fifth and Highland.

TERRY TAKEN TO COQUILLE

Cleaner Refuses to Pay Damages to Coat Owned by Mrs. Bertha Howatt.

W. B. Terry, former owner of the Parisian Dyeing & Cleaning Works, who refused to pay Mrs. Bertha Howatt $25 for alleged damages to a coat which she sent him for dry cleaning, was taken to Coquille today by Constable Cox. Terry declared that he would stay in jail until "doomsday" before he would pay for the alleged damages.

The case came up before Justice Pennock last Friday when Mrs. Howatt, accompanied by Miss Elma McDonald, appeared and testified that she had sent the coat to the establishment with instructions to have it dry-cleaned. She said that the coat was put through some other process which caused it to shrink.

Mrs. Howatt brought the coat before the court and tried it on to show that it was much too small for her. She was wearing another like the one which she claimed was damaged, which hung loosely and in accord with the latest styles. She said that she paid $17 for the damaged coat.

Justice Pennock filed a judgment of $25 against Terry and when Attorneys Hoy & Miller for the plaintiff, tried to collect the amount Terry refused to pay. They learned that Terry was preparing to leave the county and caused his arrest.

HUERTA DOES NOT FEAR REBELS

Tells Confidante That Enemies Will Not Attack Puerto Mexico—Others Fear Danger.

By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.
PUERTO MEXICO, July 20.—Huerta smiled contemptuously at the idea that the force of Constitutionalists known to be a short distance from here would dare to attack this city. The military companions of the fugitive, however, did not display the same degree of confidence and extended the line of outposts maintained. The women and children slept late today in an effort to kill the dreary period of waiting for a passenger vessel which has been engaged to carry them away. It was expected to reach here late today.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO TWO MARSHFIELD HOMES IN DAYLIGHT

FATHER MUNRO LEAVES SOON

Ill-Health Causes Him to Retire From St. Monica's Parish—Deeply Regretted.

Rev. Father A. R. Munro has announced that owing to ill-health he will give up the pastorate of St. Monica's Catholic Church in Marshfield. He will leave here Thursday for Portland and for a time will be located in Northwestern Canada in hopes of securing relief in a higher altitude and drier climate.

The announcement of his retirement from St. Monica's Parish came as a distinct surprise and shock to his congregation and to the many other friends that he has won during his residence in Marshfield. However, under the circumstances, their regret is mollified by the fact that it was only ill-health that induced him to leave here.

Until Archbishop Keane appoints his successor, the Rev. Father McDavitt of North Bend will fill the Marshfield parish as well as North Bend.

Regrets to Leave.

"I deeply regret at being compelled to leave Marshfield," said Father Munro today, in discussing his retirement. "I have had a most excellent congregation and many friends outside of it and it will be hard to sever the ties.

"However, the progress we have made with the congregation during my stay here is something of which I feel proud. I regret that I cannot remain until the new church is completed.

"I want to assure the people of Marshfield and Coos Bay that the kindness, friendship and spirit of co-operation shown me during my residence here are most deeply appreciated by me."

Schroeder Home on Central Avenue Entered Sometime Saturday Afternoon.

BOX OF PAPERS AND VALUABLES FOUND LATER

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pugsley Entered During Owners' Absence.

Marshfield is apparently up against the "real thing" in a housebreaker or housebreakers.

Following quickly the robbery of the G. C. Schroeder residence yesterday, the home of Frank Pugsley, near Eleventh and Anderson, was entered this morning. In the Pugsley house nothing of value was taken, so far as could be ascertained. It is believed that Mrs. Pat Flanagan, who resides in an apartment adjoining the Pugsley home, thwarted the robbers by promptly investigating a noise.

The robbery occurred about 11:30 today. Mr. and Mrs. Pugsley went to Coquille this morning and when Mrs. Flanagan heard a noise in their home, she started to investigate. She found the door wide open. She went back and called J. W. Davis and other neighbors, but when they returned they were not able to find any trace of anyone. Mr. and Mrs. Pugsley returned at noon and both distinctly remember about closing and locking the doors. They did not notice anything missing. They had some money and considerable jewelry and other valuables in the house. It is believed that the robbers must have escaped from the house while Mrs. Flanagan went out to call help.

Robbed Schroeder Home.

The home of G. C. Schroeder, at 1159 Central avenue west, was pillaged and robbed yesterday afternoon between 2:30 and 4 o'clock.

Two diamonds worth $350 and $200 each, two ladies' gold watches and a tin bank box containing some deeds, life insurance policies and other valuable papers were also taken.

The house was pretty thoroughly ransacked and it may be that some other articles were taken, but Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder have not missed anything else of value.

The robbery was one of the most daring that has ever been perpetrated in Marshfield. About 2:30 Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder left the house and returned about 4 to find it thoroughly rummaged.

The watches were lying on the dresser, but the other articles were in the small safety box, which was locked.

Mr. Schroeder is in partnership with Mr. Fletcher in the Liberal Billiard Parlors.

Box Found Today.

This forenoon, Mrs. Schroeder, while searching for some silver knives and forks that disappeared, found the missing box and papers. The box was thrown into some brush in the alley in the rear of the Schroeder home. The deeds, life insurance policies and other papers were left, but the two diamonds which she had there for safe-keeping were gone, as was a plain gold band ring.

Entrance was gained by forcing a small night-bolt on the rear door.

He has furnished the police a detailed description of the missing articles.

The Schroeder home is in plain view of the street and it must have required considerable nerve for the parties effecting entrance there.

It is only about a block this side of the E. G. Perham home, which was pillaged some weeks ago.

center of attraction. Music was furnished by Keyser's orchestra.

The crowd gathered at the park about 2 o'clock and remained until almost midnight. Many parties carried dinner baskets and all enjoyed the delightful spread. Lunches were served on the ground, as well as lemonade, ice cream and other delicacies.

Most of the parties from this city went out in automobiles, but a large number went out in launches also.
