Council Tonight.—The Marshfield City Council will meet tonight to take up various matters, including the Pine street matter.

Swedish Meeting.—Preaching service in the Swedish language on Tuesday night this week at 8 o'clock in the Baptist church. All Scandinavians are invited.

Builds New Home.—Geo. Snyder is building a bungalow on the lots he purchased recently at Bay Park. This is one of many new homes going up in that vicinity.

Hunters Leave.—Jas. Wynne, A. E. Glossop and Claude Tucker left yesterday for Curry county, where they expect to secure a load of venison.

Plan Trip.—Wm. Grimes and wife, Dr. Houseworth and wife and probably Dorsey Kretzer and wife will leave soon for Curry county, where they will enjoy an outing and hunting trip.

To Portland for Treatment.—Dr. Melvin, practitioner at Lakeside, departed this morning via the Marshfield-Roseburg auto line for Portland, where he will take a course of treatment for a serious affliction to his nose.

Stage Departures.—Those departing on the Marshfield-Roseburg auto stage were O. W. Thompson, Joe Clausen, Wm. Nagle, Dr. Melvin, Carl Davis, E. A. Aasen, A. Alexander, Miss Clarke, and Miss Mary Carberry.

Christen Daughter.—The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Loud was christened yesterday by the Rev. Father McDevitt. Eileen Mary was the name conferred upon her and her aunt, Miss Mary Carberry, was the sponsor.

Return from Carnival.—Chester Wolcott, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wolcott, returned last evening from a four-day visit to Port Orford and Curry county points. A. D. Wolcott was a pioneer of Port Orford, building one of the first business houses there. This was his first visit there since leaving, thirty-two years ago.

Wed in Portland.—Wm. Garrett, foreman of Smith-Powers' Camp One on South Coos River, was in Marshfield Saturday evening and while here informed friends that he had married a Portland young woman last June, while away on his vacation trip, but had kept the nuptials secret from his friends for a time.

To Bury Brother.—Mrs. Ida Schultz, of Gaston, Oregon, arrived in Marshfield yesterday in response to a telegram from Coroner Wilson telling of the death of her brother, Wm. Peterson, in the Blanco Hotel on Wednesday evening. The funeral was held from the Wilson Undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Bengtson officiating.

Find Boy's Note.—E. S. Barzee and Frank Miller of North Bend, while at the beach at noon yesterday, picked up a bottle that had just washed in over the bar. It contained a note saying "William Josephson, Emmett Collins and Paul Bargett are stranded without food." There was more to the note but the paper was water-soaked, making it illegible. The boys went down the Bay yesterday morning for the day and tossed out the note for fun.

Saw Many Deer.—Dr. Vaughn said that Curry county was alive with deer. The first evening they spent near their camp, he and Ferd Painter saw seven fine ones out grazing in the moonlight. He said that they had all secured the limit when he left and about all that the balance of the party, George Rotnor, Harold Rotnor, Frank Denning and Ferd Painter could do was to "jerk the venison." They had not heard a word about the war and he does not think the party knows about it yet.

To Arrow Line.—It was stated here that F. T. Sheldon, who had resigned as Coos Bay agent of the Breakwater, would take a position with the Arrow Line in Portland. The Arrow line has just opened a branch office in Portland with W. M. Brown as manager and Mr. Sheldon will be commercial representative. C. B. Landers, who has been connected with Supt. Miller's office here, will probably succeed Mr. Sheldon here, making a decided promotion for him.

Potatoes Poor.—Carl Albrecht is in from his ranch beyond Myrtle Point to attend the Council meeting and look after business. He says that the potato crop will not be up to the average and that in many places cutworms are causing havoc with them. He has about fifteen acres on his ranch and although a little more rain would have been beneficial, he expects a fair yield. A dairyman is negotiating for the purchase of Mr. Albrecht's 156 acres. Mr. Albrecht expects to return to town to live about September 1.

Mr. Anderson has been living near Seventh and Ingersoll and is a brother-in-law of August Carlson, who has a fine ranch on North Coos River.

MARSHFIELD HAS IMPROVED

Geo. W. Loggie Says City is Shaping Up for Metropolis That Is to Be.

"I find a great improvement in Marshfield," remarked Geo. W. Loggie, the millionaire lumberman of Bellingham, Wash., who is here on a brief business visit for the first time in several years.

"Your town is beginning to take form and shape itself into the city that is certain to be built on Coos Bay some day," Mr. Loggie continued, "and I am glad to see it."

"Marshfield and North Bend will be one city some day and the sooner this fact is recognized and accepted the better it will be for both places." Speaking of business conditions, Mr. Loggie said that while the lumber market was in bad shape, Bellingham is enjoying her share of prosperity. While here Mr. Loggie is visiting his brother, George W. Loggie of North Bend, and Mrs. Loggie's mother, Mrs. Mary McKnight, in Marshfield.

Big Crowd at Shore Acres.—The largest number of excursionists of the season visited the various beaches yesterday, over 200 visitors going to Shore Acres for the day. The worst fog of the year somewhat spoiled the effect of a perfect outing.

TOM GOODALE, Festus Walter, L. G. Masters and Andy Erickson returned Saturday night from the Tioga country, where they had been enjoying a short hunt. They got one small one. Mr. Goodale says that they reached that section a little too late, the deer apparently having migrated. He says there are many bear and bob-cats in that section and this is probably depleting the big herds there.

MAN KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Thomas Winfield Victim of Accident at Harris's Camp on North Inlet.

Thomas Winfield, a tiemaker employed at Harris' camp on the Songstacken place, about two miles from the North Inlet landing, was instantly killed late Saturday afternoon by a tree falling on him.

Winfield was a recent arrival on the Bay and had been employed at the camp only a day and a half. He and the balance of the crew were fighting a brush fire that broke out near the camp when the accident occurred.

Winfield was alone at the time. His companions heard the big tree fall and went back and discovered that he had been pinioned beneath it. They quickly sawed the tree in two and released him, but life was extinct, his chest being crushed in.

Winfield was about fifty years old and had property at Granite Falls, Wash., where he had recently resided. Whether he has a family, Coroner Wilson has not been informed. Saturday evening when he went for the body, Coroner Wilson got stranded on the mud flats and was six hours reaching the scene of the accident.

The brush fire did not do much damage but its smoke attracted much attention from town yesterday.

TEN YEAR OLD GIRL RUNS AWAY

Intercepted by Officers in Her Plans to See the World—Returned to Her Home.

"Alone in a Great City," or "A Wolf's Wanderings," might be the title of the story of the arrival in Marshfield last Saturday of little Justina Heupman, the 10-year-old daughter of L. H. Heupman, of Sumner. Marshfield was a great city to little Justina, who walked nearly nine miles, and when found in front of the Chandler Hotel Saturday evening by Agent T. B. James of the Arrow Line said she was tired and sleepy and cold. She would not give any information concerning herself, but said she had supper, the price for which she made by selling papers. Mr. James called Officer Walter Richardson, who had been previously notified by her father. Mr. Richardson took her home and yesterday her father came and took her home, but not until little Justina had at least one great adventure.

ALONG the WATERFRONT

The Daisy Putnam came in yesterday afternoon from San Francisco and discharged her cargo of 250 tons of general merchandise today. She loaded box shooks at the North Bend Manufacturing Co.'s wharf and left at 3 p. m.

The North Star brought in this morning from North Coos River, David Howard, N. H. Chandler, steam shovelman for Hauser & Hauser, Mrs. E. Malde and William Walters. Yesterday's excursion on the Alert to Alleghany was said to be one of the best of the season. This morning she brought in Mrs. J. H. Holmes and two children, Orval Baker, of Ash, Oregon, Frank Rood of Coos River and John Grant of the South Fork.
