CLUB ENDORSES EXHIBIT MOVE

Geo. M. Hyland Addresses a Small Meeting on Plan of Sending Fair Exhibit.

A small attendance was present at the meeting in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon when George M. Hyland, publicity manager for the Oregon Panama Pacific Exposition Association, made an appeal for the formation of Coos and Curry counties into an association for the maintenance of an appropriate exhibit at the San Francisco Exposition in 1915.

An attempt will be made to call a meeting for tomorrow evening, when a larger attendance is looked for.

Mr. Hyland delivered a clever talk along the lines of the possibilities of advertising before the crowds which will attend the fair, and offered practical plans by which the most good could be accomplished.

Mr. Hyland will engage with the North Bend, Coquille, Myrtle Point and Bandon commercial bodies by personal representation and correspondence and will not at this time make a trip to the Coquille Valley or to Curry county. In securing the co-operation of the Curry county people his efforts are being endorsed by District Attorney Meredith, of Gold Beach, and E. J. Loney, cashier of the Port Orford Bank. These men are in Marshfield this week conferring with Mr. Hyland, and will return to Curry county and take up the work of assembling an exhibit, and will particularly feature the agate displays for which Curry county is famous.

At the meeting yesterday the Chamber of Commerce passed the following resolution:

Whereas, Coos and Curry counties have been invited by the State Commission to make a representative exhibit at the Panama Pacific International Exposition in 1915, and

Whereas, it is the intention of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce and associated bodies within said counties to participate in the said exhibit, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce will, in conjunction with the other commercial bodies and the county courts of the said counties, undertake to prepare an exhibit and construct a booth of the native woods of the said counties in accordance with the plans prepared by the architect of the Oregon building, and be it further

Resolved, That this Chamber cooperate with the Port of Coos Bay in securing a relief map of the Coos Bay harbor and industries to be used in connection with our exhibit at San Francisco, and be it further

Resolved, That a man be employed at once to devote his entire time to gathering a fitting exhibit of the industries and resources of the said district.

Geo. M. Hyland, H. O. Frohbach and party, went to North Bend this afternoon to inspect North Bend people in the exhibit plan, and incidentally to view North Bend's points of interest.

CITIES SHOULD WORK TOGETHER

Benj. C. Sheldon, vice-president of the Medford Commercial Club is among the visiting Shriners. Mr. Sheldon has been identified with the publicity work that has put the Rogue River Valley so prominently on the map, the last effort being the drafting, with a commission of twenty-one prominent Medfordites, of a modern, city-manager-form of city charter for that city.

Mr. Sheldon also initiated and helped to carry through the move for organizing the three counties of Josephine, Jackson and Klamath into a league for promoting and advertising the many scenic attractions of that region, such as Crater Lake, Marble Falls, Klamath Lake, Ashland Springs, Natural Bridge, and many others. The spirit that has been found so successful in that section has had for its text "co-operation."

"At present," stated Mr. Sheldon, "our county is fast learning the value of working harmoniously with its neighbors for matters of mutual concern. We note that in that way we get results. Geographically and climatically Southern Oregon is a section off by itself. It has failed to get its just deserts because it has been a house divided against itself. But Jackson, like Coos County, is seeing the light."

"I am delighted to see the many evidences of progress and business activity along this Bay. Your good work is only commenced. I can see the spirit not only of Southern Oregon, but of Minnesota, where I lived twenty-five years, transplanted here."

Mr. Sheldon is particularly interested in the move to re-open the State Normal School at Ashland. The measure to that end has been referred to the people by the Legislature. That it is needed is evidenced from the fact that eighty of the applicants for teachers' certificates in this state last year had received no education above the eighth grade. The committee having in charge this move is composed of prominent citizens of the seven counties of Southern Oregon—Douglas, Coos, Curry, Josephine, Jackson, Klamath and Lake.

SHRINERS VISIT VARIOUS POINTS OF INTEREST AROUND COOS BAY

CROSS the burning sands he wandered, weary, sick, and sorely tried, past the graves of those who faltered at the tests that e'er betide. Through the Desert, wild and cheerless, faced he men of savage mien—men of life and limb grown careless—men whose hearts of men have seen.

Onward, onward, through the terrors that beset the Shriner's soul—stumbling 'neath his load of errors, sought the Candidate his goal. Hope alone, which springs eternal in the breast to soothe—sustain, bore him on through Tests infernal, towards the heights he sought to gain. But when Hope was fast departing with the gleams of setting sun, saw he, through the shadows starting, Land where Nature's Best is done. Land that flows with milk and honey, fairest country of them all. Blest Oasis, bright and sunny, land whose riches beck and call. Not Mirage, but Land of Splendor, where the fondest dreams are real—where the breezes, warm and tender, make for man a home ideal.

Coos Bay is that goal, O weary Shriner, where all things are best. Coos Bay, with a welcome, cheery, bids you pause with us and—rest. —BOB STANLEY.

Take Automobile Trip Around Marshfield and North Bend and Visit Mills and Factories

The Manzanita Club was in session in the Chandler Grill last evening, about thirty candidates being initiated into the mysteries of the order. Deputy Grand Vizier of the World of the Order of Manzanita, James Coke, of Honolulu, was present, his first attendance in the United States. State Deputy Geo. M. Hyland was also prominent among those attending.

The program for the day's entertainment of the visiting Shriners started off this morning with an excursion to Marshfield and North Bend, and to the various industrial centers on the Bay.

The reception committee took the visitors around to a dozen automobiles and made the affair a truly enjoyable and instructive one. Principal among the visits was a trip of inspection through the C. A. Smith sawmill and pulp mill, under the personal auspices of Supt. Geo. Murch.

Early in the afternoon a business session was held at which time ballots were cast on prospective novices to be initiated into the order.

After the business session the members will assemble on Central avenue, and headed by the Coos Bay Band, will march through the principal streets of the down-town district.

This evening a reception will be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Reception Committee in the rooms of the Milliecoma Club, preceding which the Coos Bay Concert Band will render a concert at the corner of Second and Market streets.

The following is the list of members of the local Shrine:

- A. T. Haines, George Winchester, A. E. Morton, Wm. Longstaff, Dr. Bartle, C. E. Maybee, C. F. McKnight, D. L. Rood, E. S. Bargelt, C. E. Connor, Saunders, J. M. Wright, C. I. Reigard, A. B. WHO'S WHO.

The following card, worn by a prominent Shriner, is self-explanatory:

"I am Noble Staples, a member of Stunt Committee, Hillah Temple. Pay no heed to anything I say or do. If you do I know how to back down easily. Who in the Dickens are you? P. S.—I like the town fine—wish I'd got here sooner. Joy-riders apply to my wife."

LITTLE GRAINS OF SAND.

Hot asphalt paving rather than burning sands got the goat of Dorsey Kretzer, O. B. Hindsdale, Carl Clinkenbeard and Dr. R. H. Walter, who were deputized to do their share as good citizens and Shriners in making a clean city by sweeping the streets this afternoon. Instead of the regulation white-wine uniforms, however, they wore convict stripes and all were agreed that their conviction was a good thing for clean streets.

J. C. Poor, of Ashland, is an engineer on the Southern Pacific and proved that he is also a good auto engineer, as he brought his car through without accident. He is accompanied by Mrs. Poor.

ing at the reception was when S. C. Small remarked to a friend that being the only member of Algeria Temple of Montana who was present, he felt lonesome. A moment later another gentleman came up and said he was also a member of Algeria Temple. "My name is Small," remarked S. C. "My name is Littler," said the stranger. "I don't see how it could be a little less than Small," remarked S. C. "But it is Littler," said the stranger, whose name was E. E. Littler of Hermiston, Oregon. Mr. Small says that it is the first time that he has met a man who had a name that was Littler than his.

A DELIGHTFUL DANCE GIVEN

Reception Tendered by F. E. Conway Proves a Very Pleasant Affair.

The principal event in the visit of the Shriners yesterday was the delightful reception and dance tendered last evening by Mr. F. E. Conway at Myrtle Arms, the beautiful new apartment house now being completed, to the Shriners and their wives. There was a large attendance and the merriment was infectious.

The affair was under the direction of the committee of ladies, wives of Shriners, headed by Mrs. A. T. Haines as chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. S. Bargelt, Mrs. C. F. McKnight, Mrs. A. L. Houseworth and Mrs. A. B. Gidley.

The occasion was a delightful one and will linger long in the memory of all the participants.

Miss Evelyn Anderson and Miss Ruth Allen assisted in serving.

ANOTHER AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Mr. and Mrs. Maxey of Ashland Have Narrow Escape in Auto Accident.

Lucky stars are shining bright in desert skies for the Shriners in the present conclave. The escape of Noble E. T. Staples and party in a sixty-foot fall near Roseburg was duplicated yesterday when the car of W. L. Maxey of Ashland turned turtle in a tumble over a thirty-foot embankment seven miles below Port Orford, and both Mr. and Mrs. Maxey escaped with but slight injuries to Mrs. Maxey.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxey were among the Ashland tourists making the trip in their own auto. While on the road south of Port Orford the embankment gave way and the auto plunged over, completely turning over and throwing Mr. and Mrs. Maxey, but almost by a miracle both escaped without injury except some slight bruises and a severe nervous shock to Mrs. Maxey.

The car was taken out and they proceeded on their way, arriving in Marshfield this morning.

About $25,000 to Be Expended in Work in Six Road Districts of County.

The Coos county court adjourned Saturday to meet again the 28th of this month, at which time bids will be received for certain road work, money having accumulated for improvements in six districts as follows:

PROGRESS IN CURRY COUNTY

W. H. Meredith Tells of Development in Curry County—Many New Settlers.

W. H. Meredith, district attorney for Curry county, is in the city today as one of the "travelers" across the "desert." In an interview with The Times, he says, however, that he hopes to return to Curry after the "trip" is over, for there is large development work going on down there and "boosters" are needed. He says that Curry county will join heartily with Coos in an exhibit at the Exposition, and believes that these two counties will in the next few years make far greater progress than any other part of Oregon.

Many new settlers are coming into Curry and making homes. The Macleay Estate Company, which bought out the Hume properties on the Rogue River, are selling off small tracts of land to actual settlers on easy payments and encouraging development there in every way possible. In the last six months twelve families have bought small tracts near Gold Beach and are clearing the land and making quite a showing for improvement. The catch of salmon on the Rogue
