WAR NEWS.

The Booster is trying to get into communication with George Goodrum, who is now somewhere in the far east, and have him go direct to Belgium as war correspondent for The Booster. If we do, you may expect some red-hot classy stuff from George.

PERSONAL MENTION.

FRED WEAVER is home again after his deer hunt. Fred got two of 'em, too.

NIGHT WATCH SHOUPPE was seen on our street one night this week. Whom do you suspect, Bill?

AUGUST FRIZEEN was real excited over the war news this week. Several tickets to Europe were lost in the first battle.

J. T. HARRIGAN is home from a trip to Roseburg and it was some exciting trip. J. T. doesn't go often, but when he does something always happens.

A. T. HAINES left this week for the bay fields of California. Hay there? A. T. don't let those Grass Widows make you forget you're a son-of-a-bitch married man.

DR. W. A. TOYE went deer hunting the other day. We understand he made arrangements with Dorsey Kreitzer for the money to buy one if he didn't shoot it.

L. L. THOMAS, our genial music man, got his picture in a New York paper this week and now he says he's the guy who made Central Avenue famous.

MINE HOST McKEOWN of the Chandler has been doing a good business this week. Harry is always happy when he has a full house or four aces.

W. S. CHANDLER, the man who put Central Avenue on the map, was seen on our street Thursday, having come down from his summer home. Welcome, Bill. Come often.

Central Avenue Jottings

A Musical Comedy.—Low Thomas bored a hole in a John McCormack song record a little off the center of the disc, and when you turn on the power John sings like as if he was seasick. We laffed our head off.

Advertising Pays.—A. E. Neif of the Marshfield Hardware Store says he is convinced advertising in the Booster pays. After inserting two ads., the plate glass windows were broken in a rush to get into the store.

Distinguished Visitor.—Engineer William Hood was seen on our street Monday. He visited Terrell's barber shop and told Jesse that Central Avenue reminded him of Market Street, San Francisco. Some little Josher, eh, but you're welcome. Come again, Willie.

Coming Back.—Central Avenue business men are returning from various points. J. T. Harrigan is home from Roseburg, Fred Weaver from a hunting trip, L. L. Thomas from North Bend, and Dr. Toye is just back from Front street. Doc says there's no place like home.
