Motor Car Out of Order.—The motor car of the Southern Pacific Co. could not be started today and is in the shop for repairs. A steam train is taking its place today between here and North Bend.

For Summer Home.—Dr. Wm. Hoffmann has purchased a summer home site on South Coos River from J. W. Flanagan. It is located near the T. H. Barry camping ground. Dr. Hoffmann expects to build a fine bungalow there soon.

Christian Church Picnic.—The annual picnic of the Christian Church Sunday School was given today, the trip being made to Sunset Bay in automobiles. Among those making the trip, besides a large crowd of children, were: Mr. and Mrs. Swander, of Portland, Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Immel and Mrs. Alice Duffy.

Excursion to L. S. S.—The Alert will make its annual excursion to the United States Life Saving Station next Wednesday. The boat will leave Allegany at 6 a. m., for the convenience of the Coos River people and will stop at Marshfield and North Bend to accommodate any who wish to go. This excursion is an annual event and has always proved a popular outing.

Railroad Auto.—The Blue Ridge Tigers have purchased the old Cape Arago Soda Works auto and replaced the auto wheels with flanged ones off a handcar and are using it on the Daniels Creek logging road. They have also rigged up a trailer which they use on the easy grade. It works fine and will run at quite a speed without jumping the track. It eliminates the necessity of pumping a hand car the seven miles when they wish to come and go from town or to the ball games on South Coos River.

Valued Too High.—Judge John P. Hall says that the estimate of the estate of the late J. Bluford Davis as given Saturday, was far too great. Judge Hall has been familiar with the Davis estate, having been Mr. Davis' father's attorney. Judge Hall figures that besides the ranch at the forks of Coos River, which is a little over a half section and worth probably between $40,000 and $50,000, that the estate consists of about $10,000 worth of other property in Marshfield, Empire and California.

Warehouse Success.—The Farmers' Union warehouse, which opened for business at the foot of Central avenue a few days ago, is said to be doing a steadily increasing volume of trade. The concern is a co-operative buying and selling organization of the farmers about Coos Bay. A meeting will be held next Saturday, when steps will be taken to place a stock of groceries and supplies in the warehouse. The farmers are rapidly learning the value of the association and the new department is expected to be a success.

Davis Funeral.—The funeral of J. Bluford Davis will be held at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the residence of W. B. Curtis at 818 Elrod avenue, and Rev. J. E. Qualls will officiate.

Funeral Sunday.—The funeral of M. C. Pedersen, one of the victims of the Pouty Inlet auto wreck, was held yesterday and was largely attended, the Eagles, Owls and Moose turning out in bodies to pay the last tribute to their departed brother.

Dancing Club.—The dance to be given Tuesday evening at the Finnish Hall is not by the Thursday Club as was first announced but is a party given under the name of the Marshfield Dancing Club by a number who are arranging to organize a dancing club for the fall and winter. It is strictly invitational.

Serious Attack.—Arthur Brandt, while attending the Socialist picnic at North Bend yesterday afternoon, was seized with a sudden attack and fell in a faint to the ground. He was revived by quick treatment by those who picked him up. He is entirely recovered today.

Council Tonight.—The Marshfield City Council will meet this evening in regular session. Much important street work will be discussed, and inquiry made why work has stopped on the South Broadway and North Front street paving contracts. Other matters of minor importance will also come up.

Road Is Good.—S. B. Cathcart returned Saturday night via the old Coos Bay wagon road from Portland, where he attended the state convention of the Redmen as the delegate of Coos Tribe of Marshfield. He states that the convention was a big success. Some revision was made in the constitution and reports of the officers showed that there had been a gain in membership the past year, the first time in several years. Mr. Cathcart states that the old Coos Bay wagon road is now in fine shape with the exception that it is dusty in places. Autos are now coming over the road and making it without trouble.

Had Fine Trip.—Henry Kern and family of North Bend returned last night from their auto trip to Sherwood, Or., and vicinity, where they spent a month with relatives. Mr. Kern made the trip without accident but he says that the roads are very dusty. He took the road down the west side of the Willamette as far as Eugene and found the dust about a foot deep. He came down Saturday and all the farmers were enroute to town so that he had a cloud of dust to motor through all the time. He said that it was almost unbelievable to find the roads so much dustier now than they were three weeks ago when he went out.

Plans Vacation.—Cell Ireland will leave soon for Oillalla where he will spend his vacation on the old home ranch. He says that he is not going to aid in digging wells, in haying or other arduous work but is going to play the role of the real gentleman farmer. Heretofore, they have saved up a bunch of work for him to wade into when he went to the ranch and he figures that he has dug at least three wells and pitched so much hay that he does not know where they put it without buying additional acreage for room for the stacks. To make sure that he will not be inveigled into haying, he is delaying his departure, but Frank Denning says the crop of "tickle grass" will be fine about the time that Cell hits the ranch.

Dr. Schenck Writes.—Dr. C. A. Schenck, former head of the Forestry School and well known on Coos Bay, writes from Darmstadt, Germany, to The Timberman in praise of Douglas fir. He says "But I miss the smell of the Douglas fir. It is the finest wood on the globe. If I were young I would have a huge lumber yard (shipping in 5,000,000 capacity boats) right here at Rotterdam, which is the entering wedge for France and Switzerland and Italy, and notably for Holland and the entire industrial district of Germany, and also not bad for English trade. My yard would be stocked with every grade and length and shape and form of Douglas fir, from toothpicks up to keelsticks for battleships."

In Christiania.—Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raubach of Ten Mile, who have been touring Europe, are now in Christiania, Norway. Some of their friends feared that if they were in Germany when the war broke out that Mr. Raubach might be dragged into the German army.

WANTS $35,000 DAMAGES NOW

Joseph Leslie Foster has begun suit against the Smith-Powers Logging Company in the Circuit Court at Portland for $35,000 damages for personal injuries that he alleges he sustained last September. He claims that he was a donkey engineer at Gene Grant's camp and that when the camp was being moved to Coaledo Fred Powers instructed him to get up on top of the camp houses, which were loaded on flat cars, and ride. He states in his petition that a house toppled over, breaking his ribs, injuring his spine and otherwise incapacitating him, permanently disabling him.

The C. A. Smith Lumber Company has appealed the case of Jack Parker to the U. S. Court of Appeals. In the Federal Court at Portland, Parker got a verdict for $2500 against the company for breach of contract. He claimed that he was promised life employment as the result of losing a hand and that later when he sued the company when his brother lost his life by hitting a woodpile on a motorcycle, Arno Merceen discharged him. Mr. Parker now lives at Florence.
