Meet Tonight.—The Marshfield M. E. Brotherhood will meet tonight at their hall. Builds Home.—Luther Judy is erecting a new house at his place at Loon Lake. Finishing lumber is being taken out from Marshfield as the mill at Loon Lake does not turn out planned lumber. U'Ren Coming.—W. S. U'Ren, noted in connection with Oregon reform legislation and an independent candidate for Governor, will arrive here on the Breakwater Friday to tour this section in behalf of his candidacy. Court Resumes.—Most of the attorneys went to Coquille Tuesday to attend the opening of the adjourned term of circuit court by Judge Coke. Among other Tuesday were C. R. Peck, Arthur Peck,

John Hall, Tom Hall and J. C. Kendall. Picnic Friday.—The Moonlight picnic Friday night will be under the auspices of the L. T. L., but all denominations are invited to participate. The Alice H. will leave at 7 o'clock. Wed in Coquille.—Miss Grace Youkum, a well-known Coos Bay young woman, who recently returned from Portland, and J. A. Belleu were married at Coquille yesterday. Both were connected with the telephone company for a long time. One Offender.—There was only one offender in jail last night. He gave his name as A. Price and was arrested by Officers Shoupe and Doane for intoxication. He had the price as $18.05 was found in his pocket and $5 of this amount was the fine assessed against him. Road Is Bad.—C. H. Codding came in from Millington today and says that his rig was the first to get through in forty-eight hours. He was aided by the road crew hitching on their team. He says the road crew also pulled out the auto of Attorney McClure which was stuck there. Leave for College.—Mrs. A. H. Powers and Miss Lucy Powers left this morning for Eugene, where Miss Powers will enter Oregon University. She graduated from the Marshfield High school last June. Miss Hazel Powers expects to leave early next month for San Francisco, where she will enter Lane Hospital Nurses' Training School. Father Dead.—Mrs. John Mirrasoul has received word of the death of her father, Peter Girard, at Portland Sunday. He was seventy-three years old and death was due to complications incident to his advanced years. The body will be brought here on the Breakwater for burial and the time of the funeral, which will be under the auspices of Sunset Lodge No. 51, I. O. O. F., will be announced later. Besides Mrs. Mirrasoul, John Girard, a son, resides in Marshfield. Three other daughters also survive. Girl Injured.—Parties from Coquille state that a young girl named Katherine Terris hovers between life and death there as a result of being thrown from a horse Saturday evening. She was en route from a school social to the Olson home to spend the night. She was dragged, badly hurt and rendered unconscious and was not given aid until the next morning when she was found. Her family supposed she was at the Olson home or they would have searched for her that night. She is about sixteen years old.

MARRIAGE LICENSES. William B. Sullivan and Cora G. Elford. Walter S. Robison and Stella M. Taylor. Cherie Joe Rampant and Henrietta Leecoq. Jesse O. Marlin and Marie M. Nosler. Cecil Elwood and Elsie Sanders.—Coquille Herald.

WILL BUILD RESERVOIR. The county court went out to the county farm yesterday morning to make arrangements for building a reservoir and putting in a water system there. Commissioner Armstrong informs us that the county is saving $300 a month in bills for the indigent since the county hospital was put in operation and all county charges can be cared for there. The site selected for the reservoir is on land high enough to permit a stream of water to be thrown over the tops of all the buildings at the farm, so that the new system will afford the fullest fire protection and ought to materially reduce the cost of insurance.—Coquille Sentinel.

POOR SALE FOR BONDS. Denver Firm Withdraws Offer for Coquille Securities. Recorder Lawrence read a letter from the Wright Bonding Company, of Denver, 1 which they withdrew fund warrant bonds. A special meeting had been held Tuesday to consider their offer, which was received that day. They offered to take the city's "6 per cent" bonds at a premium of $13.50, the city to pay 5 per cent, or $1500, for having the records of proceedings examined and for printing the bonds. Inasmuch as the Council had advertised 5 per cent bonds, they objected to paying $1500 bonus for the privilege of selling them at 6 per cent, and so notified the bonding company. Mr. Liljeqvist said 500 lawyers in the state of Oregon would be glad to examine the records for $500, and the result of their examination would be just the same as that of the Denver lawyers who demand 5 per cent for examination.
