

"To Make Known"

To advertise a store is to "make known a store." Of some individuals, the less you really know about them, the less you dislike them. Of some stores this would be equally true.

But the advertised store is "the store made known."

If it has short-comings, these will be brought to the light through its advertising. Its virtues, its claims to usefulness as a service institution, will also be placed in the full light.

The good store prospers under the "advertising test." The other kind does not. And the people know, and understand this fact.

The advertised store is, necessarily, the store that can afford to be well advertised—or well known and well understood. It is the store whose policies are policies which prosper in the light, whose public service stands every test, meets every requirement.

To "make known" your store, fully and unreservedly, is to challenge and put to rout prejudice and indifference.

To "make it known," advertise in the

MANY INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Seventy-two Hurt in Oregon Last Week — Coos County Cases Reported

SALEM, Or., Sept. 11.—Seventy-two accidents, one fatal, were reported to State Labor Commissioner Hoff during the week. The fatal accident occurred at Lime Mile Road, where H. R. Yuhl, a railroad section employe, lost his life. Lumbering activities caused the greater number of accidents, 25 being hurt in that employment, and railroads came second with a total of 19 accidents.

The Coos County accidents reported were:

Reese, E. A., Marshfield, ankle sprained, lumber yard.

Tunneson, Nels, Marshfield, body bruised, sawmill.

- Hammond, A. H., Marshfield, foot bruised, lumber yard.
- Anderson, W. J., Marshfield, back sprained, lumber yard.
- Wright, C. L., Marshfield, finger bruised, lath mill.
- Rolandson, J., Marshfield, rib broken, sawmill.
- Holman, Ralph, North Bend, foot cut, R. R. construction.
- Dupree, Joe, Marshfield, foot sprained, sawmill.
- Thornton, Oliver, Marshfield, wrist sprained, sawmill.
- Taylor, J. E., side bruised, logging.
- McDonald, Dan J., Marshfield, back sprained, logging.

PRISONERS IN SORRY FLIGHT

Writer Finds French Had Been Poorly Equipped.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 11.—The Cologne correspondent of De Tyd says: "An endless train rolls into the station at Cologne in it have arrived 700 French prisoners taken at Muelhausen and Legarde, Alsace-Lorraine. They were dressed in red trousers and short, dark blue coats. One could see that they had been in a fight. They were unkempt and in need of a wash and shave.

"I remember having read somewhere that a French soldier had declared that there was a great shortage of shoes for the French troops. I have seen 100,000 German soldiers going to the front every one of them wearing a brand new pair of russet shoes, heavy enough to withstand any campaign. But there were no such shoes among the French prisoners. Their footwear was of a flimsy character and worn so badly that in most cases their toes were protruding. They ate, greedily of bread and drank eagerly of tea and coffee that was handed them. The faces of most of them were blank and expressionless. They conversed among themselves in an undertone. I asked one something about Legarde.

"I know nothing," he answered, sullenly.

"But after I told him he was speaking to a Hollander and not to a German he modified his reply to: 'I will say nothing, sir.'

"In one compartment of this train guarded by four soldiers with fixed bayonets sat a French officer who had refused to give his word of honor or that he would make no attempt to escape."

SHARPLES MECHANICAL MILKER A SUCCESS

Mr. R. H. Kellerman, representing the Sharples Separator Company, has just completed making the rounds of the progressive dairymen of Coos County who are now having such fine success with the Sharples Milkers which have been sold through the Coos Bay Ice & Cold Storage Company, county agents. In every instance the cows have become gentler and the flow of milk has increased.

Arrangements are being made for a number of other installations, for dairymen have watched the action of the milker and are now convinced that at last the machine they have dreamed of has arrived.

Machines for milking cows have been developed for many years, but the one fault with the other milking machines seems to be that the action did not approach Nature as closely as desired. Any student of cows knows that the calf first sucks the milk and then squeezes the teat between his tongue and the roof of his mouth, and this action is exactly reproduced in the teat cup which gives an upward squeeze on the teat after each suck of milk is drawn.

In this system each machine or unit milks one cow at a time, enabling the operator to keep individual records, make fast time, as the machine is taken off the cow the instant she is through milking, and providing for individual adjustment for each cow if any difference in "squeeze," etc., is required.

At present there are over 7000 cows in Oregon being milked with the Sharples milker and it is a safe gamble that by this time next year there will be fully double that number.

It is expected that a demonstrating machine will be installed at the Coos County Fair in Myrtle Point this month.
