REPORT BOAT IN DISTRESS

Message From Gold Beach Tells of Vessel in Trouble Off Rogue River

Telephone messages from Gold Beach at an early hour this morning stated that some boat was in distress off the mouth of Rogue River and had been sounding distress signals all night.

Operator Williamson of the local wireless station was notified but has been unable to hear anything further. He notified coasting vessels to be on the lookout for the boat in distress.

Discredits Rumor. Capt. Magee, of the Nann Smith, is inclined to discredit the rumor about a vessel being in distress off Rogue River last night.

Capt. Magee passed Rogue River about 3:15 and did not hear any distress signals. The wind was blowing a gale and there was a heavy sea, the darkness and rain necessitating the constant sounding of the fog signals.

CONCERT IS FINE SUCCESS

Artistically and Financially Last Evening's Entertainment Scores Triumph

The second of a series of concerts to help defray the expenses of the tour of the Coos Bay Band was given last evening at the Masonic Opera House under the direction of Mrs. Perl Riley Ballinger and Miss Edna Louise Larson.

There was a splendid audience, both in numbers and enthusiasm, and in spite of a long program, every number was insistently encored. The band played the opening and closing numbers, giving fine renditions of the "William Tell" Overture and Brahms' "Csardas."

Mr. Harry Bultmann sang the "Evening Star Romanza" from Tannhauser, his rich, well-managed baritone voice lending special charm to that favorite number.

Mr. Wolfram Schmedding played Ciardi's "Carnival Ruse," for the flute. His encore number, "Distant Voices," has, perhaps, never been heard here before.

Mrs. F. E. Conway sang splendidly an aria from "La Sonnambula" a number calling for brilliant coloratura and difficult sustained tone work.

Two piano numbers, "Romance" (Schubert) and "Hungarian Ballet" (Schopier) were played by Miss Mary Margaret Kruse, a pupil of Miss Edna Louise Larson.

Everybody likes to hear Lew Keyzer, and nobody would rather hear anything else from his violin than MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose." The melody of this composition is so sweet and simple that few appreciate the technical difficulties of the violin arrangement.

Mrs. Perl Riley Ballinger played five Heller "Preludes" in her scholarly style. Mrs. Ballinger has a splendid technique, and plays brilliantly, besides having a sense of musical values and an individual genius of interpretation which reveal the experienced artist.

Few cities the size of Marshfield can muster six singers who will attack the Lucia Sextette, favorite as it is, but this number was rendered to the satisfaction and delight of everybody by Mrs. Gidley, Miss Esther Johnson and Messrs. Benj. Ostlund, Chas. Stauff, R. E. Miller and Harry Bultmann.

The piano accompaniments were played by Miss Edna Louise Larson, whose excellent assistance left nothing to be desired.
