JOLLY DOZEN.

The Jolly Dozen met Wednesday at Mrs. Johnson's with a good baker's dozen and two guests added for good measure, namely, Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Lockman. Mrs. Marhoffer provided abundant entertainment with a Web of Fate, a spider web of colored ribbons from which each guest selected one strand and read aloud her fortune. Tied in a little package on the end of it. This occasioned a great deal of merriment, especially when one of the "mesdames" drew the old maid's fate. Followed luncheon, with the hostess serving. It was decided, weather permitting, to go on a picnic to Cooston Sunday, although in case of threatening weather the picnic will be held Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Albee. Mesdames Albee, Brockmueller, Busch, Butz, Christenson, Gale, Johnson, Olson, Rourke, Snow, Marhoffer, Ross and Davis were the members present. Mrs. Davis is a sister of Mrs. Marhoffer and is spending the winter here from Washington, D. C. She was lately admitted to membership. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Marhoffer a week from Wednesday. Mrs. Davis to entertain.

The L. T. G. girls were very pleasantly entertained at sewing and music last Friday evening by Miss Florence Powers at her home on Hall avenue. were present, and Mrs. Walter Sinclair of Coquille was a visitor. The afternoon's business turned chiefly to a warm discussion of the quarantine enforcement and prevention of disease-spreading, and by way of protest a committee of three, Mrs. Toye, Mrs. Harry Nasburg and Mrs. Lockhart, was appointed to confer with committees from other women's clubs with the health officer and the doctors with a view to improving present conditions. The rest of the afternoon was taken up with church routine. Miss Hutchesson and Mrs. Lewis will entertain next week. Among those out Tuesday were Mesdames Forty, Perham, Reed, Harris, Ebbecka, Ruble, Stauff, Coke, Toye, Small, Matson, Nasburg and Miss Anderson.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Mrs. John D. Goss entertained at sewing Tuesday as a farewell for Mrs. Arthur McKeown who left this week for Chicago to undergo medical treatment.
