(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The terrific battle, now in its eighteenth day in the Aisne district to the north of Paris, continues to rage, but its violence is generally held to portend a decisive result in the near future. Furious hand-to-hand fighting is going on and the losses to both allies and Germans are enormous. Several times the Germans hurled their masses of troops against the French left wing but in every case were repulsed, according to the French statement. In the center heavy cannonading is progressing. The German general staff asserts the situation on French soil is unchanged and it is emphatically denied that the battle at any point is in favor of the allies.

Galicia has been almost cleared of Austrians, according to a Petrograd announcement and Russians, crossing the Carpathian Mountains, have entered Hungary and are driving back the Austrian reinforcements sent against them. The Germans, estimated to number 150,000, are reported preparing for the siege of Antwerp.

Austrian siege guns have been brought up to take the place of large German guns now being used in France. Russia has extended suspension of specie payments for another month.

As a direct result of this move the Dutch authorities along the Scheldt have increased their watchfulness, for during the siege of Antwerp, England might seek to send reinforcements through Dutch Scheldt, while on the other hand Germany victory would bring danger of an attempt by Germany to use the mouth of the Scheldt as a base from which to attack the British naval forces.
