Troll from Tug-It is reported that Ed Hansen and other members of the tug Gleaner caught thirty-five salmon on trolls while en route from Gardiner to Coos Bay recently.

Postpone Social.—Owing to un-foreseen circumstances the social which had been planned by the B. Y. P. U. for next Friday evening, October 2, will be postponed. Start Work .- Messrs. Shipman & Bunting have appointed Mr. Foley, who recently returned to the Bay, as foreman of the improvement work at Bunzien park, which is being started Plan Picnic.-Sunday school classes Nos. 3 and 4, taught by Miss Al-ice Tickell and Chas. B. Smith, have arranged for a moonlight picnic next Friday night. If the weather is un-favorable, they will hold an indoor social at the church.

Salmon Run .- The run of salmon in Ten Mile Creek is just beginning and the fishermen, in view of the heavy run in the Hay lately, are expecting all records to be broken this season. Some good ones have al-ready got into the lakes.

Brings Auto Back.—With the op-ening of the rainy season the stage route from Scottsburg to Allegany has been indefinitely postponed and this morning D. L. Foote brought his machine down with the Millicoma and will keep it here until the opening of the line again in the spring.

Has Fire Loss .- F. E. Westerberg has received word that his partner, A. Murphy, sustained the loss of his home and fixtures in a fire at Ban-The fire had gained such headway when discovered that Mr. Murphy and family were barely able to escape and unable to save any of their effects to amount to anything.

Camp Moved.—The moving Smith-Powers Camp No. 1 from the bank of South Coos River about a mile back up the logging road, near where the men are working, was completed last Sunday. Nearly all new camps and buildings were erected at the new location, it being cheaper to build new ones than to try and move the old ones.

Brings Many Potatoes.—Captain R. J. Monson, of the Messenger, came down from Haynes Inlet this morning with his boat piled high with a cargo of fifty sacks of potatoes. The crop there is now practically ready for shipment and it is estimated that there will be about 2000 sacks of potatoes gathered there and at Templeton this year.

Were Pretty Drunk .- Four offenders were brought before City Recorder Butler this morning, all of them charged with being drunk. They were T. Brydon, Jack Johnson, Ole Anderson and Tom Bellman. In each case a fine of five dollars was affixed and all of the men being without funds were given until 2 o'clock this afternoon to get the money and pay their fines or get out of town.

Wrong Smith.—W. Ross Smith is today looking for the offender who yesterday gave in his name in police court as Ross Smith and was sentenced to work on the streets for be ing drunk. Last night and today W PARTNERSHIP

We, the undersigned, heretofore

We the undersigned the phone calls from everyone in the country asking him how he likes his new job and he is getting tired of the on the offender if he can find him.

Go On Ranch .- W. C. Mason, who that we have this day, by mutual resided on the Seaman ranch on agreement dissolved partnership and South Coos River the past year that the business of said firm will is moving to the Henry Sengstacken ranch on South Inlet today. Mr. Sengstacken says that he will make the place, the best ranch in the country, raising fish and game as well as hogs and cattle and all kinds of vegetables. He is arranging to have the worse stretches of the road from there to Libby planked and will then have a short route to Marshfield which can be trayeled twelve months in the year.

EASTSIDE FRIDAY. Boat leaves Use Old Steamer.—H. Powell has moved the hulk of the old steamer. Market Ave. at 7:30. Round trip, 25c. | Coos River, which Capt. Rogers ran on the South Fork for years, to Jordan's Cove, where he will fit it up as a houseboat. The boiler was taken out and Frank Bingham is using it at the South Inlet excelsior mill, although the boiler is twenty-four years old. The Coos River was built for Capt. R. C. Cordes by Victor Lax-strom in 1890, but Capt. Cordes sold her to Mr. Rogers after having operated her on Coos River a few years. She was a great moneymaker for Capt. Rogers, Duck Season Opens.—When Old Sol peeks his head above the horizon tomorrow and grins, or Jupiter Pluvius cries for joy and you hear a blaze of musketry and heavy cannonading in the west, east, north or south. don't be frightened. It will be neither a Japanese invasion nor an echo from the war in Europe. It is the opening blast of the duck season. Until January 15 the hunters may have a chance at the sport that an-nually draws outside game seekers to the Oregon coast. Great flocks of ducks have been sighted lately in this vicinity and the old timers are of the belief that the hunting this year will be good, especially with the opening of the rainy season at this time.

Thirty Years Old, Never Voted .-"Teddy" would have been tickled to death had he been in the office of the Justice of the Peace this afternoon and heard the answer given by a man and heard the answer given by a man of thirty years of age, who has never voted, when the judge asked his party affiliations. "What's that?" said the man. "What party?" asked the judge. "Oh, I had never thought much about it. I guess I'll be a Progressive," and so Teddy had gained another convert. W. G. Elliott is the new member of the Bull Moose party and he lives on Coos River. He exand he lives on Coos River. plains his never having voted by the fact that it has been difficult where he has lived to get to the polls.

DOLLAR CASE PROTESTED.

Brazil's Refusal Does Not Close Incident, Says Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30. Refusal of the Brazilian government to grant clearance to the steamship Robert Dollar, which sought to raise the American flag before leaving Rio Janeiro, may result in diplomatic cor-respondence. Solicitor Johnson, of the State Department, said the incident was not closed when the steamship left port under the British flag, but he did not say what course this government might pursue, Clearance was refused on the ground that recognizing the change in registry might infringe on Brazil-ian neutrality.
