PEACE SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

President's Proclamation Meets with Great Approval—American Churches to Pray for Peace.

President Woodrow Wilson's proclamations calling upon the people of these United States to observe Sunday, October 4th as Peace Sunday and asking them to unite in their churches on that day in prayer and petition to God that an end may be reached speedily in the present European war, has met with almost unanimous approval on the part of the churches of the United States. Special services will be held in the Episcopal church on Sunday and the rector will preach on the subject: "The Grounds of Peace."

The Federal Council of Churches in America, comprising about 30 or more of the leading churches of the country, and embracing about 150-000 church buildings, has set aside

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Elizabeth M. Moore, of the Department of Domestic Science, acted as Judge of Industrial Work at the Coos County Fair.

Photographs of school activities in Marshfield schools have been forwarded to the Department of Public Instruction at Salem. Some of them will appear in the forthcoming report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Changes in the Science rooms of the High School are being made Room 15 will be used for physics hereafter, 16 for chemistry. A chemical work table, hood and apparatus cases are being put in. The changes will add to the efficiency of the Science work. Heretofore, in the absence of cases and suitable places for keeping things, it has been difficult to tell just what apparatus was available and where it might be found when it was needed. The new arrangements reveals a fine laboratory equipment.

A Friday morning entertainment course of seven numbers has been arranged for the older pupils of the school. See course printed herewith. Dr. Mattie Shaw will open the series on October 13. The hour, 10 o'clock, at the High School Auditorium. Subject, "The Development of the Nervous System of the Child." The public is invited.

Clubs in the city wishing to arrange special courses in the departments of the High School are invited to do so. Reading courses in literature are suggested, short courses in chemistry, physics, botany, cookery, manual training. The teachers in any department will be glad to co-operate in any way they can. Special lectures on special topics will be gladly worked up for any club or association as desiring.
 When one realizes that many persons cannot make a simple adjustment on an electric flat iron, it seems as though some few lectures on elementary physics might be practical and useful.

 ment course is as follows:

 Nervous System of the Child."

SAD STORY OF OLD PREACHER

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 3.—Rev. J. C.
 Richardson, a pioneer Baptist minister of this county, aged 82 years, returned to Myrtle Creek a broken-hearted man. According to his story, told at the station just before he started for the south, he was turned away from his daughter's house in Eugene and refused admittance, all because he married against the wishes of his children. Now the old man is homeless and does not know where to go and will perhaps have to live off the charity of others, although his children have plenty, he says, and he decided them all his property, consisting of a 200-acre farm and a residence property in Eugene.

About five years ago the old minister married Mrs. Anna Kent, a highly respected lady of Myrtle Creek. She is a few years his junior. Mrs. Kent had taught school in that portion of the county for many years and is said to be a highly respectable woman.
 The old people are said to have wed simply for companionship, as both were alone in the world, but soon after the marriage the wife's health began to fail and it is said that she is now almost a nervous wreck and will be compelled to be taken to a hospital for treatment. She has some property which she is said to be willing to devote to the support of both, but her condition is such that she is unable to care for their home and both need the attention and care of someone younger and stronger.

The aged minister, accompanied by Frank J. Flak, of Buercroft, Coos county, nephew of Mrs. Richardson, arrived in Eugene Monday evening.
 Yesterday they went to the home of one of the daughters of the old gentleman, according to his story, and asked if it would be possible for the children to care for him. "They turned me out," said the old man in tears, "and would allow me to enter no further than just inside the kitchen door. No, they did not want me.
 I am too old and feeble, I guess. I can't do too much of a burden. I don't know what to do. I am going back to Myrtle Creek. I will probably live somehow, but I have nothing and do not know what is to become of me."

Mr. Richardson was one of the earliest settlers of Lane county and is said to have helped lay out the city of Eugene. He was known far and wide through the upper valley and has preached in every country school district in Lane county in years gone by. He was known as a powerful speaker and was considered to be one of the strongest ministers of the Battist church in this part of the state.
 Now he is homeless and heart-broken and longs for the time to come when the burdens and cares of this life are over.
