BOSTON MAN HURT.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—James C. Smith, third baseman of the Boston Nationals, broke his leg in the game with Brooklyn today and will be unable to play in the world's series.

LOCAL GLEANINGS

Funeral Today.—The funeral of Wm. Saunders, the Empire pioneer, was held today and was largely attended. His widow, formerly Emily Noble, is said to be the oldest living white person born on Coos Bay, being the first one born here.

Will Wed Soon.—Miss Richardson, of North Bend, of the Gorst & King auto line, and Miss Eleanor Selandar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Selandar, of Sumner, are to be married Saturday at the home of the bride's parents. They will enjoy a honeymoon trip to his old home at Medford.

Argues New Trial.—Attorney Harry G. Hoy went to Coquille today to argue before Judge Cole a motion for a new trial of Mrs. Fannie O'Donnell who was sentenced a few days ago to pay a fine of $200 and to spend three months in jail. He will base his argument on the claim that Presenting Attorney Lilleqvist in commenting on the reputation and character of Mrs. O'Donnell went outside the evidence in the case to influence the jury. The second point is that under the Home Rule law municipalities have power to regulate in their own way the sale and control of intoxicating liquors, and having the control hence they must also have the punishment. This is a new point and is raised for the first time.

SAILOR ENDS

LIFE IN BAY WAR TAX ON MORE THINGS

Member of Crew of Encore Jumps Off Boat and Refuses Aid—Body Not Found

A sailor, who had just arrived on the schooner Encore, of the Simpson fleet, after a sixty-five day trip from Valparaiso, Chile, jumped overboard last night and drowned himself. He had been discharged from the boat, went up town and celebrated some. He returned to the boat, which was lying at Porter, and soon afterwards jumped overboard. Others of the crew heard him when he struck the water and threw him a line. The line almost struck him, but he waved it aside, declaring "I don't want to save myself," and went down with a smile.

He joined the Encore at Valparaiso and no one seems to know his name.

Long Time Out. Capt. Palmgren of the Encore stated that they were sixty-four days out from Valparaiso when they arrived off Grays Harbor and received word to proceed to Coos Bay. Not until they arrived here did they learn of the European war.

Had Two Stowaways. The Encore had two stowaways on board from Chile. One native Chilean was taken to Mercy Hospital and is said to be in a critical condition from a bad disease. It will probably be up to the Encore owners, the Simpson company, to return him to his native land as soon as he recovers sufficiently to be sent. His ailment is such that he cannot be cured, it is said.

SOLDIER SHOT BY A MEXICAN

U. S. Trooper Seriously Injured by Bullet From Mexican Force at Naco Today

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) NACO, Ariz., Oct. 6.—Private LeRoy Bradford of Troop G, Tenth U. S. Cavalry, was struck in the breast today by a bullet fired from the trenches occupied by the troops of General Hill, defending the town of Naco, Sonora, from the attacks of Governor Maytorena. Bradford was in a trench dug for the protection of American troops on the border line. His wound is said to be serious. Bradford is the second United States soldier to be struck by Mexican bullets since Maytorena and his Villa adherents began the attack four days ago on Naco. The casualties on the American side of the line now total three, the two soldiers and a boy who was hit in the hand yesterday by a bullet. Two cavalry horses also have been killed. United States army officers reported today that their men have been subject to Mexican fire every time they stand up in their observation trenches. Colonel Guilfoyle, commanding the American troops, notified General Hill that he would be held personally responsible if more Mexican bullets were fired into American territory. Hill sent an aide to his trenches with the message that death would be the penalty for those who fired across the border. Maytorena sent emissaries to Hill last night with a proposition said to have been inspired by Villa that an armistice be declared pending the outcome of the Aguas Calientes peace conference. Hill declined to answer. CARRIES SMALL PASSENGER LIST ON SOUTHERN TRIP

SOUTH SLOUGH BURIAL GROUND OF NOTED SQUAW

Death Cheats Insane Asylum of Edna Hinch, Who Was Ready to Go to Salem. Amid a small gathering on South Inlet Sunday afternoon, Edna Hinch, adjudged insane but a few days ago and ready to be sent to the asylum when she died at Empire, was lowered into her grave, carrying with her the supposed knowledge of several murders of a few years back. Whatever the Indian woman knew of them, and it is supposed she was aware of the details, will always remain a mystery. Especially interesting of these cases was that of the Evans murder, facts of which have never been known. Edna Hinch is thought to have been about 26 years of age, and at one time she had been good looking through a long series of dissolutions covering years, marred her beauty. Her health had been bad for several weeks and not long ago Judge Hall went to Empire, to the home of Eli Metcalf, where she was staying, and there conducted an examination as to the sanity of the woman. She was adjudged insane and would have been sent to the asylum at Salem had not death intervened.

FINE PRESSURE IN NEW MAIN

With a Six-Inch Main Leading From The Tank on Hill North Bend Has Excellent Pressure. AMPLE PROTECTION FOR SERIOUS FIRE. New Improvements Made by Water Company Please People Who Have Waited Long. (North Bend Harbor, Oct. 5, 1914.) Some have gotten the idea from some source that the new pressure furnished North Bend by the Marshfield Water Company is due to the improvements made at the head works. This is not true, and while a new reservoir is being built there which will in time give us better domestic service, the pressure given North Bend for the first time on Saturday is strictly a North Bend pressure and is far superior to the pressure furnished Marshfield. It is a North Bend Service. The tank which furnishes water to the new six-inch fire main is located on the top of the Union street hill and is the tank which furnishes the water to Porter and Plat A additions. The fire main is laid on McPherson street, connecting with the down-town system at Virginia, where a gate valve is located. This is kept locked all the time and must not be opened only in case of fire. Test Shows 90 Pounds. Saturday morning R. H. Corey, manager of the water company, turned the pressure on for the first time. At the gate valve the gauge showed 80 pounds and it is estimated that the pressure would pass the 90 pound mark on Sherman avenue, being about 25 feet lower. Chief Chase of the North Bend fire department had some of his men present and attached a hose. When the water was turned onto the building the pressure dropped about 5 pounds. A 7-8 inch nozzle was used and a stream was thrown entirely over the Castle building, it being estimated that the water at least 20 feet higher, or about 100 feet high all told. Fire Boys Jubilant. Chief Chase said that if the fire company had been furnished with pressure of that kind when previous fires devastated the business and waterfront district, there would have been little question of their being able to save most of the property burned. The pressure which was so successfully demonstrated on Sherman avenue will be the same all over town. The company has installed a check-valve in the main near the iron works, which prevents the pressure extending farther south than that point. (Paid Adv.)

Having come here on a visit two months ago, Mrs. Reynolds purchased a ticket for the return to her home at Clackamas when she was taken ill with an attack of Bright's disease, which finally ended in her death. Mrs. Reynolds was a member of the North Bend Methodist Church and also the Eastern Star there. She was born August 8, 1855, at Winthrop, Maine, and married Mr. Reynolds at Carleton, Me., where they resided until moving to North Bend eight years ago. They left three sons and three daughters. The sons are John, Arthur, Harold, Harold, Ethel Dodson and Mrs. Amy J. Clackamas.
