FINE LOT OF NEW PICTURES

ARRIVED TODAY

Royal Theatre TONIGHT

"The Pawns of Destiny." A Victor three-reel drama of heart interest, with Florence Lawrence and Matt Moore. Sarah was only the slavey in the rooming house, but she loved the lone artist in the garret. She saved him during a fire. The Artist went blind, though, from the burns. Then he came into money and married the slavey for herself.

Another three-reel feature that is of the same quality that the Royal has been using, THE BEST. We don't use Licensed, selected or otherwise, but INDEPENDENT pictures. Six reels of the best pictures. Admission, any seat, 10c.

Here tomorrow night, Longfellow's Immortal Poem in motion pictures, "Evangeline," in five reels.

Here Wednesday night, "The Romance of an Out-cast," in four reels.

Speaks Later.—Senator I. S. Smith will address the ladies of Marshfield, under the auspices of the Coos Bay Women's Club, October 20 at the Presbyterian church, on how to vote. It was erroneously stated that he would speak Tuesday.

Spend Winter in South.—W. K. Wiseman shipped his automobile south on the Redondo yesterday afternoon while he, with his family, were passengers on the same boat, going to California, where they expect to spend the winter. They may return to Coos Bay after the first of the year.

Steam Valve Blows Off.—About 5 o'clock yesterday morning residents of the city were awakened from their Sunday slumbers by the blowing off of the steam valve at the pulp mill. The noise continued for about twenty minutes. Though the mill was not running at the time the steam from the sawmill boilers caused a heavy pressure which was enough to blow off the safety valve.

Were Fighting.—Ralph Culver and Harry Herbert were picked up early Sunday morning by the police after they had mixed in a fight. Herbert, it is claimed, was taking his partner home from the dance when he was followed by Culver and some companions, who insulted Herbert. The two men were taken in charge and will appear for their hearing tomorrow morning before Police Judge Butler.

Takes Machines South.—George Bryant, who has been a member of the stage firm of Bryant & Wickham at Myrtle Point, yesterday shipped two large stage automobiles south to San Francisco, where they will be used this winter on a California stage route. The machines were lashed fast on top of the high deck load on the Redondo.

Hold Horses for Judgement.—In the Justice Court this afternoon Judge Pennock decided that George Cook, who sued J. W. Rogers for a grocery bill, may retain possession of the team of horses seized and if payment of the grocery bill of $78.40 is not forthcoming that the team may be sold for judgment. Rogers was intercepted on the eve of his departure for his homestead and Constable Cox took charge of the team and still has them in his official possession.

To Hear Land Case.—Before Henry Sengstacken, acting as special referee, a contest on a homestead on which Miss Grace H. Fulton has filed final claim, will be heard. Miss Fulton is a school teacher, having taught in Bandon for several years, but at present she is residing on the homestead near Lakeside. According to the contest, it is alleged that Miss Fulton has failed to maintain her lawful residence on her homestead and is therefore not entitled to prove up on it. A similar contest was heard once before but was dismissed.

Hold Body Here.—The body of James Tracy, who was almost instantly killed at the Smith-Powers dump at the C. . Smith mill Friday is being held until word can be received from relatives. Tracy, who had been an employe of the company for about 14 years, was standing on a log on the dump at the time of the accident. The logs started to slip, and evidently believing it would stop, Tracey failed to jump. He was caught between the logs and crushed to death. Tracey was well fixed and well liked by all who knew him.
