

A WORD WITH TIMES READERS

THE TIMES believes in making good instead of making excuses. For the next few days, however, The Times will be issued under stressful and strenuous circumstances. The moving of the plant of a daily newspaper is a heavy task in itself and when it is done without missing a publication it becomes doubly difficult. The removal of one of the linotype machines was halted between the old and new offices last night and it became necessary to operate one machine all night to get the paper out today. If you find The Times a bit lacking the next few days just remember we are all doing our best to serve you and bear with us until we get everything in running order.

ARREST TWO FOR GAMBLING

Stever George and Gus Delos Held for Allowing Games in Restaurant

Steven George and Gus Delos, proprietors of the Greek coffee house at 355 Front street North, were arrested at 11 o'clock last night at their place of business and put in jail, charged with gambling. Chief of Police Carter, Officer Richardson and Assistant City Attorney Kendall made the raid on the place. The jury is being selected this afternoon and the case will come to trial before Police Judge Butler tomorrow morning. Officers declare their belief that this is a clear case of gambling and that they have been overshadowing the coffee house for some time. It is claimed the men sold stacks of chips and gambled with these.

TO SPARE RESIDENTS

TOKIO, Oct. 13.—As a result of the Japanese Emperor's desire to spare the lives of non-combatants and neutrals in Tsing Tau, the Governor of Kiao Chow has sent German officers to arrange the details for their departure before the inauguration of the final attack upon the German fortress by the Japanese and British forces.

ARTILLERY LEADS WAR.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—"Artillery is trump in this war," says a wounded German officer interviewed by the Tageblatt. He continues: "Our German shells are wonders. In addition to their destructive effect, the moral effect of their detonation is plainly to be observed. The enemy is not a little affected by the dull uncanny noise. The showing of our field howitzers is a complete success. They are actually equal to the heaviest field pieces of the French, the Rimalitho (15.5 centimeter) howitzers. The French shells are an effective projectile, except that they do not always explode. In our advances we have had opportunity to observe on the French dead and wounded the effect of our shells, and it was very great. At the beginning of the war the percussive point of our projectiles is said to have lain too high, and it is interesting to note that we first learned of this from letters captured from the French.

"It must be said that the French cannoncrews shoot extraordinarily well. They keep a sharp watch, even fire as soon as they see dust rising, even at great distances, and they can reckon only on moral effect. They must also have excellent information at their disposal. Their ammunition supply is well looked after. A cessation of fire because of lack of ammunition almost never occurs. This is the more remarkable because of their system of firing, in which they seek out an area in which they assume the enemy to be present and simply deluge it with their fire.

"Our heavy artillery has become the terror of the enemy, and the appearance of the 'growler' (the 16 4-5 inch mortar) is always joyfully welcomed by our troops. Its effect is fearful. I have seen two massive walls of a house penetrated by it. The detonation breaks all the windows in the vicinity. Where it strikes the enemy are thrown to the ground by the air pressure. The bodies are terribly mangled and covered with grayish blue dust. Although our heavy artillery has no protective shield, it has repeatedly taken part in battles with direct fire and played a decisive part.

"When our fire is effective the French simply abandon their guns. If it is less effective no notice that the guns are pulled out of the line of fire, while the ammunition wagons are left standing. They often succeed in limbering up with extraordinary quickness and getting into another position further back. The French field piece, both as regards effectiveness and the readiness with which it can be handled, must be considered good."

PURSE GIVEN OLD ASSOCIATE

Smith Mill Employees Send Remembrance to Incapacitated Man — Thanks Given

A Sandquist, an old employe of the C. A. Smith Company, who has been laid up since last May as a result of a partial stroke of paralysis, yesterday was the recipient of a purse collected by employes of the mill. The purse was accompanied by a letter stating that the gift was from all the men and that they sincerely hoped that his health would be restored soon. The individual names of the donors were not signed. Mr. Sandquist highly appreciates the action of his former associates and said today that he hoped it would not be long before he could show his appreciation by other means than mere words.

This Dainty Actress Gets Back to Nature

MARGARITA FISCHER, the BEAUTY-MUTUAL STAR.

Margarita Fischer, star of the Beauty-Mutual motion pictures, usually is seen in evening garb or fashionable morning or afternoon attire. She is so very pretty that her personality is associated with the delicate things of life rather than its rigors. But she has a habit of doing the unexpected and doing it so well that one suspects that, after all, it is just what one had expected.

Now her pretty pink arms are scratched and her ankles and toes are scuffed because Harry Pollard, director of the Beauty-Mutual Company, has staged a one reel picture in which Miss Fischer appears as a child of the rocky waste. Under the name of "Nida," which gives the play its title, the charming little woman plays opposite Mr. Pollard, with Joseph Harris as an old man of the mountains.

When she returned to the calm and comparative ease of the Santa Barbara studios Miss Fischer vowed that whatever back to nature work she hereafter would do would be done in a Persian garden or on a tormented lawn or on one of those million dollar play tops that euphemistically are known as country estates. No more barefoot mountain work for her!

NACO, Oct. 12.—The Carrizana garrison of Naco, Sonora, was subjected again today to shell fire from the guns of Governor Maytorena. HARRY WOODS IS SUICIDE

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 12.—Secretary of State Harry Woods, one of the Democratic Senatorial candidates at the September primaries and a former operator on the Chicago Board of Trade, killed himself yesterday and his body was found today in the garage at the rear of his residence. The only possible indication for a motive was a bulky bundle of papers, showing extensive dealings in grain through a Chicago brokerage house.

Would You Vote to Throw Ten Thousand More Men and Women Out of Work in Oregon?

Yet that is one of the FIRST results that would follow the adoption of statewide prohibition in Oregon. Aren't times hard enough now? Aren't too many men and women in Oregon even now vainly seeking employment? If statewide prohibition should prevail here five thousand men and women would DIRECTLY be thrown out of employment in Portland alone. Practically every trade, industry and place of business in the entire state would be indirectly injured by the loss of the adding other thousands of unemployed in the growing army of idle.

Would you be helping humanity when you knowingly created hunger and want? You, or others near and dear to you, who sadly need the weekly income now received, might find it cut off. The world can present no more sorrowful picture than worthy men and women seeking employment day after day, week after week, month after month, and falling in despair. While you are thinking of the few unfortunates whom you might hope to "reform by law," you should also think of your duty to the thousands whom you would force out of and perhaps onto the streets, hungry and starving, through lack of employment and business stagnation.

A SOLEMN DUTY RESTS ON YOUR CONSCIENCE

Register Before Thursday, October 15

VOTE | 333 | X | NO | AGAINST PROHIBITION

Voting qualifications: Six months' residence in the state, 30 days in precinct. Defeat of the proposed prohibition amendment will have no effect upon the efficient home rule or local option statutes in force, and each community will continue to determine its individual stand on the matter of granting licenses.
