BORN. FRIEDENBLOOM — To Mr. and Mrs. Oakley L. Friedenbloom, at their home in Empire, a daughter. The proud father is a member of the dredge Seattle's crew.

Sprains Ankle.—Jessie Franz had his ankle badly sprained during football practice and for several days he will have to remain at home.

Library Board Meets.—The public library board held a called meeting last evening for the purpose of considering bids on the furniture for the new building. As the bids were not all in the board postponed action until all the dealers could be heard from.

Young Couple Wed.—August Witte and Miss Elfreda Smith, a well known Coos Bay young couple, were married Saturday, the Rev. A. F. Hiser, of North Bend, officiating. The bride is a sister of Miss Annie Smith of Marshfield, and a daughter of the late Chas. T. Smith, a pioneer rancher of Coos Bay.

He Fairly Bubbled Over.—Dan Dennis, brought before Police Judge Butler this morning, charged with being intoxicated last evening, admitted that he had "slopped a few too many over" but at the same time was in a hurry to get back to his work. He was given the "hurry up" sign and stepped lively for the depot to catch the afternoon train for out of town.

Sickness Stops Inspectors.—Inspector Edwards was suddenly taken sick on the George W. Elder in Astoria, after having boarded the ship with Inspector Fuller. The trip of the two men to Coos Bay has been indefinitely postponed. The inspectors were expected to have the hearing today in the office of the United States customs service in regard to the colliding of the A. M. Simpson with the bar dredge Michie last spring.

D'apante Homestead Right.—In the office of Arthur Peck, United States Land Commissioner, testimony was taken yesterday in regard to the dispute of Franklin Towell, who seeks to restrain John D. Towner from filing on a homestead above Coos-ton. Towell claims that Towner has failed to establish his residence there, has not cultivated the land and has not spent more than $10 in improvements. Testimony will be taken here and the case later tried at Roseburg.

Found Dead.—The following item from a San Francisco paper will be of interest here, as George Way formerly lived on the Bay and has many friends in this section: "George Way a farmer, 56 years of age, who was married last May in Martinez, was found dead in his room by his wife yesterday. The gas jet was turned on and Way had been asphyxiated. Mrs. Way had abandoned her husband's rooms in the house for some time because of his intemperate habits."

Brother on Way.—A message was received by Coroner Fred Wilson instructing him to hold the body of James Tracey, who was almost instantly killed on the dump of the Smith Powers Company last Friday afternoon. The wire came from the Citizens Bank of Green Isle, Minnesota and declared that a brother is on his way to Coos Bay and will take charge of the body upon his arrival here. Tracey was killed when a log upon which he was standing slid down the dump. Evidently believing it would stop Tracey failed to jump and was caught between two logs and crushed to death.

Two Days to Register.—With but two more days in which to register voters are literally swarming into the offices of the notaries public and the Justice of the Peace. Thursday is the last date on which one may register for the County and State election on November 3. This morning Mrs. Stephen Rogers, aged 71 years, came down from her home on Coos River for the special purpose of having her name listed on the books. Judge Pennock declares he will be in his office in the justice court from seven to nine o'clock in the evening for the purpose of registering voters who are unable to come up during office hours. Registering for the city primaries and election close on Saturday at the office of City Recorder Butler.

Had Not Delivered Guns.—Because he had taken orders for guns and had received $35 in cash and because the order was taken last May and the firearms have not yet been delivered, a man was intercepted as he was about to board the Elder, bound for Eureka, yesterday afternoon and accompanied Chief of Police Carter to Justice Pennock's office. There the man made satisfactory explanation and was released. Wires sent to his company in San Francisco some time ago declaring the man was no longer representing them. He returned again to solicit orders here and found that his previous order here had not been delivered and then produced letters and telegrams showing himself to still be an employee of the company. He was released and caught the boat, promising to return the money from there.

Homestead Contest.—The contest filed by the government against the North Inlet homestead of Miss Grace Fulton, a well-known Coos Bay young woman who is a member of the North Bend public school teaching corps, will be heard before Henry Sengstacken as special referee October 28. Postmaster E. F. Russell, of North Bend, has been deputized as special officer to subpoena witnesses in the case. Among those summoned so far C. E. Maybee, Lewis St. Denis, Axel Ruth and Chas. E. Johnson, Mr. St. Denis and some other parties contested Miss Fulton's entry some time ago but in that instance she won out easily.

DAN STEINNON, of Allegany, came down on the boat this morning on a business trip. MR. MATTHEWS came up from South Inlet this morning looking after matters of business. ANDREW FREDERICKSON, of South Inlet, came up this morning to attend to some business.

MRS. WILLIAM WATERS was in the city today doing some shopping from North Inlet. COUNTY CLERK James Watson returned to Coquille this morning after a short stay here.

DAVIS HOWARD was in the city today from his home at North Inlet on a short business trip.

W. H. FERNLEY, a Myrtle Point druggist, and his bride are spending a few days in Marshfield.

WILL HENNESSEY was down from the Smith-Powers mine last evening on business and pleasure.

MRS. D. L. FOOTE came down from North Inlet on the boat this morning to attend to some business.

N. F. WOODCOCK, of Port Orford, who is somewhat of an agate specialist, is spending a few days on the Bay.

CASHIER SUPLEE of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank at Myrtle Point returned home yesterday after spending Sunday with friends in Marshfield.

MRS. DAIGLE arrived here from Minneapolis yesterday for an extended visit at the Levi Daigle home in Bunker Hill.

JAMES BARCLAY who has been looking after some contract work which he and N. Moon are completing on the county road near McKinley spent Sunday in Marshfield.

CLAYTON MEADE, formerly in the O. K. Barber Shop here and later engaged in business in Bandon, returned here the other day and has taken a position in The Chandler barber shop. He has been traveling through this section for the last few years.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER.

Polls Close October 15 for November Election.

Remember that the registration books close October 15, so there are only a few days more in which to register for the election in November. Of course those who registered since January 1 of this year do not need to register again in order to vote. Many people think that if they swear in their tickets at the primary election that their names are then entered in the registration books of the county, but this is not correct.

WILL MAINTAIN DRAWBRIDGE.

Complained to by the War Department because they have failed to keep open the drawbridge across Coal Bank Inlet, the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern Railroad have promised to again open the draw and hereafter to maintain it, according to R. O. Graves. At the time the bridge was built a draw was put in, but this has been bolted down. Complaints were made by owners of small boats who were unable to bring their craft up the Inlet on account of the bridge. Their protest made to the War Department is now sustained.

ALONE BY THE CAMP-FIRE. Slung alone by the camp-fire, In the fitful, flickering light, Watching the embers falling apart— It is lonely here tonight. One thinks of many things, passed on Old friends and times gone by; So thoughts bring only joy and peace, Others could only cause a sigh. One hears a hoot owl now and then, A mountain lion's starting scream; But through it all a low refrain— A steady, droning, soothing dream. The sound is scarce a sound at all; Not like the coyote's quivering bark, But just a dull monotony One always hears after dark.

The fire is slowly burning out; The light is getting dim and gray— Fit emblem of the human life. We all, full soon, must pass away.

Must pass away, but whither go? To come bright, glided heavenly home? Or do we just keep drifting on, Condemned, by Fate, to always roam?

ASHLAND NORMAL SCHOOL ASKS SUPPORT OF VOTERS

Seeks Annual Maintenance Fund of One-fortieth of a Mill. The support of the chamber of Commerce and the voters of Coos Bay in support of an initiative measure which will give to the Ashland Normal School one-fortieth of a mill tax in support of their institution is asked in letters which have been received from the commercial clubs of Ashland, Medford and Roseburg.

Though the only normal school of southern Oregon has been supported in annual appropriation from the state legislature, the school authorities believe that they are handicapped in the development of their normal by the fact that the appropriations are made only for a year at a time and are constantly in danger of being cut off as they were in 1909, when all three state normals were closed down at once by failure of a forthcoming grant from the state legislature. The three cities are working hand in hand in this matter and declare they believe the measure will pass. That 80 per cent of the teachers taking teachers' examinations in Oregon have had no further preparation than the eighth grade, is the startling statement made in the letter received from Ashland by Secretary Motley of the Chamber of Commerce. With this argument as a basis the people of Ashland have done considerable in converting many voters to their side. They petition the voters of Coos Bay to give them support.

FOOTBALL MEN TO MEET Meeting Called in Chamber of Commerce to Arrange Schedule To elect officers, effect an organization and adopt a tentative football schedule, a meeting of all fans and players has been called for Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. At that time plans will be discussed for the definite object of putting a city football team into the field to meet Coquille, North Bend, Myrtle Point and other teams in the county that requests a game.

Among the local fans are many former college stars from institutions all over the United States. With the opening of the present season their enthusiasm has got the better of them and the result has been the demand for a city team. A secretary will be elected at the meeting that he may correspond with other teams in arranging a definite schedule. This organization will be entirely apart from the local high school team and will, for the most part, consist of older men.

At Coquille football men have already appointed their officers, have a coach and a captain and are now practicing for games with other teams of the county.

THE ARMY IN "ARIZONA" TOMORROW NIGHT The army in "Arizona" will be one of the features of the big Moose production of the play tomorrow evening. Lieutenant Hallock and Young, played by George Getting and Harvey Walter and Private Quigley, played by Bill Sullivan, bear the burden of sustaining the military atmosphere. While C. Von Shipman as Sergeant Keller, scores heavily in one of the best army characters in the play. These officers of the regular army are augmented in the big scenes by a detachment of Denton's volunteer cowboy regiment, composed mostly of the high school football team. No mention of the army would be complete without Sam, the Chinese cook. Sam is played by G. A. Williamson, and he is a "scream" from start to finish. While the army is called the "background" of "Arizona," against which the powerful plot of the play proper unfolds itself, it is a real live background, and is the final and master touch which Augustus Thomas has given to his famous story.

Seats for both tomorrow and Thursday's performance of "Arizona" are on sale at the Busy Corner now. The indications are that every seat will be sold before the curtain rises tomorrow evening, so those planning to see the first performance should make their reservations at once. Seats for either evening may be reserved by telephone.
