A LOVE SONG.

Brown eyes I say, for say I love I think her mouth is a beauty.
Her bosom a pearl gizzard and now Her hand is a passing sigh.

Blue eyes I say, for somehow brown Her mouth is the verge of all repose.

Her breast a smoothed-out wild time Her hand is an early rose.

Be her eyes of blue or brown, I need:
Be color or mood what she is,
I nothing know, but my life's was need

Is the favor of her kiss.
Tranquil Hickney.

WHEN a man is single he believes that he should take his "time" at his life, all the legitimate pleasures that appeal to him, dancing attendance upon all the girls to his heart's content.
He has no one to please but himself. If he makes a mistake in any one direction there is no one to suffer from it but himself.

When a man is married he is no longer a single man. He has a wife to please, and he must be careful of her feelings. He must be considerate of her wishes. He must be a good husband and a good father.

He knows that women expect pleasures, and that it is no more than their right, that happiness should be measured day by day by its joys, and not by its sorrows and cares. He makes the home as happy for her that she does not mind the little economies which she has to make here and there.

While a man's single there's not one in a dozen that lays the necessary of a fortune.

He is legitimate prey for all the girls, to invade the church fair.
How can he refuse this pretty maid when she pleads with him naively to take a chance on a beauty rose at her bosom?

He is prey for his friends. He stands true in every direction. He is a single man, and can afford to be better than the benedicts, who love to give everything to their social happenings, intended for publication in the society department of The Times, must be submitted to the editor not later than 5 o'clock p. m. Friday of each week. (Exceptions will be allowed only in cases where the events occurred later than the time mentioned.)

PERSONAL notices of visitors to the city, or of Coos Bay people who visit in other cities, together with notices of social affairs, are gladly received in the social department. Telephone 111. Notices of club meetings will be published and secretaries are kindly requested to furnish same.

departs at home, and get out of paying all their out at the banker's expense. Even the sisters look to him for the milk coat, the the brocade, and what not, this page refused.

It does not matter what he pays out; he's single and has no one to pay the money in. They never consider that a "rainy day" might come in his life and that he should have a golden umbrella to ward it off.
He is so valuable that those most interested in him think it is a good thing for him to remain single.
There is always much ado and harassment when he announces his engagement. Even the girls whom he has been in the habit of talking about now and there regret losing their hold on him, he is such a jolly good fellow.

It is no wonder that after a time he is driven from ambrosia and seeks marriage.

BAPTIST LADIES
The Ladies Aid of the Baptist Church held their monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. Agnes Hutchinson. After a pleasant social hour the afternoon was given to a consideration of plans for the bazaar and other items of business.
Mrs. and Miss Hutchinson served delightful refreshments to the ladies present who were: Mrs. E. W. Levin, Mrs. Alva Dell, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. C. H. Marsh, Mrs. B. D. Rose, Mrs. John Nagle, Mrs. J. C. Douke wife, Mrs. Martha Dye, Mrs. F. E. Wheeler Mrs. George Galverson, Mrs. A. F.
Bassford, Mrs. J. C. Sears, Mrs. A.
Hutchinson, Misses Mamie Galverson, Georgina Galverson, Agnes Hutchinson, and Rev. A. F. Bassford.

PROGRESS CLUB
The Progress Club met at the home of Mrs. Otto Wheeler Monday for the enjoyment of the afternoon's program on "New York City," as developed in papers by Mrs. W. F.
Nicholson, Mrs. J. E. Hanson and Mrs. D. E. Maloney. Mrs. I. S.
Kauffman was present to bring to the club's notice the recent appeal of the South for a general observance of a "Cotton Day," among the cities of the East and West, for the purpose of disposing of the surplus cotton supply. The club appointed a committee of three with Mrs. Stoll as chairman supported by Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Morrow to procure some means of bringing the matter before the merchants and the public. Mrs. Sengstacken appeared for and was granted leave of absence for one year.

"New York State" is the subject of the next program to be handled by Mrs. McEldowney, Mrs. Tower, Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. Sengstacken or substitute. Mrs. Stoll will be hostess.

Those out Monday were Mesdames Adelberger, Blake, Corey, Giffey, Hanson, D. E. Maloney, Hilda Ner-burn, Morrow, Nicholson, Payne, Sengstacken, Tower, Stoll, Foyers, Kaufman and Shetter and Mrs. Silverman.

The people of the L. T. L. met at the church hall Tuesday for a quiet business talk without a planned program, at which they decided

WILLING WORKERS
Berkie Hall was hostess to the girls of the Willing Workers' Society Tuesday at sewing and refreshments. The girls have been trying to decide what offerings to prepare for the Christmas Ship, and have finally decided to each dress a doll and send it, together with the more substantial gifts of hoods and mittens. Misses Lucie Douglas, Vera Albrecht, Maxine Fensler, Helen Perkins and Blanche Copple were the guests. Maxine Fensler will be hostess next week.

ELECT OFFICERS

The Mothers and Teachers' Club of North Bend will hold their regular meeting in the Central School building Tuesday, October 14th. The following program has been arranged:
Song by Miss Heath's room. Second grade.

Paper on "Backs, Our Friends and Foes," by Mrs. A. F. Hisey.
Vocal Solo, by Earl Brown.
Prize Draw, by Misses Raff and Hilde.

After this a short business meeting will be held. The club held its first meeting in September, when officers for the following year were elected: President, Mrs. C. Raab; vice-president, Mrs. Louise O. Anderson; secretary, Mrs. A. F. Hisey; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Neilson, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wm. E.
Laird.

MARSHFIELD BRIDGE CLUB

The Bridge Club was entertained at luncheon and cards Wednesday by Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, who used a very effective table decoration of yellow nasturtiums. The house was set pretty with autumn leaves. Mrs.
Grant, Mrs. A. S. Blanchard, Mrs. J. A.
Jain Cowan, Mrs. W. B. Clark, Mrs.
Gilda Edmar, Mrs. F. M. Floy, Mrs.
