

THINKS BAR HAS SHOALED

CAPT. OLSON SAYS THAT NOTHING ELSE WOULD CAUSE IT TO BREAK CLEAR ACROSS IN ONE OF THE HIGHEST TIDES OF THE YEAR—MAJ. MORROW DUB.

Capt. B. W. Olson of the Adeline Smith thinks that the Coos Bay bar must have shoaled greatly during the last storm. Today, with a ten-foot tide the bar was breaking clear across and the only explanation of it is unusual shoaling.

None of the vessels were able to go out of here today but Capt. Olson thinks they will be able to get out tomorrow.

Today the Grace Dollar and Speedwell sailed from Bandon, the latter coming in here. The Gleaser also came out from the Umpqua and came in here. The sea is moderating outside.

Engineer Morrow is expected here today or tomorrow and Capt. Olson expressed the wish that he was here today so he could see the fact that is being detained in the lower bay by lack of the bar improvements which Coos Bay has been seeking. He thought that would be the strongest evidence possible for Maj. Morrow to receive.

GERMANY GETS BIG GUNS.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The advance guard of the German force threatening the northern French seacoast has been halted for the moment," says a correspondent of the Chronicle. The Germans have suffered heavily in the recent fighting and are now short of munitions and stores. However, they are preparing to strike a heavy blow. It is probable they will attempt to penetrate the defenses of Dunkirk with the object of overrunning the French coast as far as Calais and Bologne. The heavy siege guns at Antwerp are being moved toward the present German line while large bodies of German troops are being pushed forward. Dunkirk is calm, although the city realizes it is menaced. All along the front of both armies, duty in the trenches is made more unpleasant by heavy rains.

NOTICE TO ELKS.
