NEW BANKING CONDITIONS.

IT HAS been definitely decided to open the Federal reserve banks on November 30. This announcement heralds an era of prosperity.

Among other benefits, the new currency law, by its direct system of clearances, will release and make available for purposes of trade and commerce hundreds of millions of dollars which, under the present system, have been tied up in tedious processes of collection.

The law does not require a single business man to change his accounts from the bank in which he has kept it, or any business man or bank to suspend dealings with the bank.

It says to the banker that he can follow his preferences, sentiments or habit in selecting the source of his borrowing; and the member banker of any federal reserve district may feel free and at ease when he knows that he has in his portfolio notes, drafts and bills of exchange arising out of actual commercial transactions which he can convert into money at his federal reserve bank with greater ease and promptness than it has sometimes been possible to draw on credit balances with any correspondent.

He is not dependent upon the whims and fortunes of any bank. He need not shiver at the prospect of abundant crops for fear he may not have available the funds with which to meet demands for moving them. He will know that if he needs money to accommodate the bank's customers he can, as a matter of right, call on his federal reserve bank.

The banks will have behind them substantially the combined strength of all other banks, and supplies of currency ready to answer their needs, limited, practically only by their valid values.

Banks and bankers will no longer be at the mercy of the so-called money trust. During the panic of 1907, if the western banks could have withdrawn their own money from New York, Chicago and other eastern financial centers, the west would not have known there was a panic in existence.

Business is going to be benefitted immensely. The new law will guard straight business from crooked business. It will provide no artificial stimulant or prop, but it will remove barriers to prosperity, unnecessary burdens, perils and impediments.—Eugene Guard.

SCENES TOO SHOCKING FOR FILMS.

THOUSANDS of feet of moving pictures, taken on the battlefields of Europe, have arrived in New York, but, according to one of the leading producers, no public audience will ever see them; they are too shocking, too horrible for presentation. Few are pictures of the actual fighting, which it was found practically impossible to obtain (except at a distance), owing to the strict censorship and the danger. Most are pictures of scenes on the battlefields after the armies had moved on. They show heaps of slain men and horses, revealing in many cases frightful wounds and disfigurement. They show not the "glory," but the ghastliness of war.

Vastly different are these from the pictures of war carefully staged before the camera, in which the wounded and dying fall theatrically and bloodlessly. Realistic as these may seem to the peaceful stay-at-home population that thrills over them, they are but a shadow—faint, indeed, at that—of actual warfare.

Other modern inventions, the wireless, the aeroplane, the dirigible and the automobile, may find their uses in modern war; but the moving picture camera, like the war correspondent, must be taboed, and for the same reason—they would tell too much. Yet, if humanity could bear the sight of war in all its naked horror, those films of the battlefields might do more to shock mankind into ending all war than all the peace propagandists put together.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

ITALIAN FAMILIES MAY LOCATE HERE

Remove Congestion of East—John Scott, of Southern Pacific Asks Desirable Tract

Asking if tracts of land suitable for a colony of at least fifty Americanized Italian families are available on Coos Bay, a letter was received this morning at the Chamber of Commerce from John M. Scott, general passenger agent for the Southern Pacific in Oregon.

"It is believed," the letter states, "that if these people can be located, this will be the forerunner of a large colony recruited from these Americanized Italians."

Ranked among the most versatile and best gardeners of the world, the Italians in many communities have converted the raw land in very valuable farms. Especially is this true in sections of California where, as truck gardeners, the Italians have cultivated thousands of acres and have terraced the steep hillsides to make way for their vineyards.

Eastern states are overburdened with a large population of these people who have congregated in the cities, eking out their living as best they may, generally through the keeping of small fruit stands and the peddling of garden truck. To send a share of these people to the West is a project long voiced by economists as well as the railroad companies. This letter from John Scott declares the query originates with a "New York gentleman," who, it seems, is very desirous of furnishing some of these people with farm tracts.

But two weeks ago blanks were received here by the Chamber of Commerce from the Oregon Immigration Commission, in which could be listed desirable lands for sale, the sale price and description. Secretary Motley, by means of these blanks, which are being filled out by those who wish to dispose of farm lands, will be able to send the desired information to New York.

INVITE FARMERS AND THEIR STOCK TO EXPOSITION

Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland December 7 to 12.

To the farmers of Coos Bay a general invitation has been received, at the Chamber of Commerce, for them to attend the annual Pacific International Livestock Exposition which will be held in Portland December 7 to 12. Especially are the stockmen and farmers of this section asked to bring any livestock exhibits possible. All expenses at the exposition will be paid by the business men of Portland, who seek to stimulate interest in the northwest growing of livestock.

The invitation, which came from O. M. Plummer, manager of the Union Stock Yards, declares there are several hundreds of dollars up in special prizes and these are held out as the especial plum inducing the farmers to ship in their cattle and hogs for the big show.

In addition to the letter from Mr. Plummer there was also one received from the Portland Commercial Club supplementing the invitation and asking that special attention be paid to this exhibit by the people of Coos Bay. The exposition does not guarantee expenses for shipment of entries to the show.

The Keeler Brothers will receive $350 for attorneys fees. The bonds are issued in 40 coupons and redeemable, semi-annually for a period of 20 years. It is made optional with the company whether or not the bonds are redeemed in 10 years.

ASSOCIATED PRESS IS GIVEN PRAISE

London Times Points Out That England is Hurting Itself By Censorship

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Times in an editorial today dealing with the censorship question, compares the treatment accorded Associated Press correspondents by the English and German government to the disadvantage of the former. It says further: "Perhaps Premier Asquith and his colleagues never heard of the great American institution known as the Associated Press. It is the most wonderful news organization in the world and nothing in Europe can compare with it. Its statements are generally accurate and are implicitly trusted throughout North America."

The Pioneer Hardware Company estimated $764.29 for the heating; Pennock Brothers, $770; and Schroeder & Hildenbrand, $816.36.

For the plumbing the Pioneer Hardware Company again had the low bid $517, and Pennock Brothers put in an estimate of $585 for the work.

The gymnasium is to be erected along side of the high school and the upper section will be built of wood with a concrete basement. William Chandler is the architect for the building.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR BOOTH. REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR. Are you better off now than you were under a Republican administration? Are you satisfied? If you believe in the principles of the Republican party, if you are convinced that these principles are best for the country, then prove it by voting for your standard bearer, Robert A. Booth, Republican candidate for the United States Senate. You know that under Republican Presidents the people of the United States have good times. You know that under Democratic Presidents you have Democratic times. Remember the prosperity under McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. Remember conditions under Cleveland and Wilson. The issue in this campaign is not one of personality. It is not one of non-partisanship. It is a question of whether you prefer prosperity under Republican administration. Do you have enough work? Are your wages good? Is your business what you want it to be? If you are satisfied with present conditions, well and good; if you believe that the present situation is better than under McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, you know what to do. The way to bring back prosperity is to help elect a Republican Senate. The Republican candidate in Oregon is R. A. Booth. This is a Republican year. Vote the ticket straight. "A Political Party, a Person or a Candidate Who Will Misrepresent an Opponent Will Misrepresent a People."

Above is all that Mr. Hawley will have to say to this community regarding the statements of his opposition. The egotism, bombast and small attempt to belittle his opponent's work in Congress by paid advertisement should in itself be answer enough to the people of this district to show the calibre of the man who is seeking their suffrage. Coos county should know that Mr. Hawley has secured every appropriation for its harbors and rivers that that was recommended by the Board of Army Engineers, and appeared before them many times to get favorable action. No other Congressman in the United States has done more, no matter what state or district they represented or to what political party they may belong.
