

We Welcome You to Our Fair City Lumber-jacks, Farm Hands and Mill Hands

We will do all in our power to keep our saloons open so that you can be invited in to spend your hard earned cash of the past few months.

We know you can get more goods for your money and take more goods home to your family in any of the other business houses of the city and not have that bad feeling of the "morning after," but we need the money and get more of it from you and give less in exchange through this channel than any other.

This is the sentiment I get from the wet petition published in Thursday's paper.

Now be honest about it. Don't you think that the greater part of the signers of that petition did not consider what effect it might have on the future of 500 or 600 loggers and laborers in the woods of our county alone? Most of them are receiving better wages than laborers in other lines, and in many cases, under our present system of open saloons, they are poorer financially.

Now, Mr. Signer of the "Wet" petition, isn't it possible for you to contribute a great deal of it to the inducement of the open saloon?

Your for a dry Oregon to be followed by a dry Nation,

PROGRESS CLUB

The members of the Progress Club at an enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. A. L. Butz in Bunker Hill this week decided to come to the aid of "King Cotton," which has suffered most severely of American industries from the European war. A committee of which Mrs. F. W. Payne was chairman reported that the Marshfield merchants had promised co-operation in special cotton sales to relieve the South's surplus and the members promised their earnest co-operation in urging all to purchase cotton goods.

decorations. Following cards, victrola music and vocal selections by Mrs. Kruse were enjoyed. Those present were J. H. Greves and wife, A. H. Derbyshire and wife, Chas. Williams and wife, H. J. Linden and wife, H. E. Burmester and wife, Wm. Vaughn and wife, Fred Kruse and wife, Roscoe Hazer and wife, Fred Glazier and wife, Geo D. Mandigo and wife and J. G. Mullen and wife.

AUCTION BRIDGE

The North Bend Auction Bridge Club will be entertained Tuesday by Mrs. Paul Dimmick.

PARTY FRIDAY

Miss Maxine Fensler entertained at a delightful Halloween Party Friday afternoon from three to six thirty at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas Fensler.

The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, red dahlias and jack-o lanterns. There was a "Witch Den" where Miss Roxie Hall presided, in disguise telling fortunes. Mrs. Dan Keating sang the "Haunt of the Witches." Later Emma Lou Douglas, Helen Perkins and Lucile Douglas served delicious refreshments. The following guests were present: Misses Belle O'Conner, Blanche Coppel, Lucile Douglas, Emma Lou Douglas, Olive Douglas, Helen Perkins, Vera Albrecht, Ruth Goetz, Maxine Jones, Elizabeth Jones, Segrid Hongei, Elvie Hillstrom, Elizabeth Planagan, Fay Preston, Edna Roes, Blanche Mirrasoul, Mina Wilson, Irma Langworthy, Cleo Carter, Irene Woodworth, Lavina Painter, Dorothy Painter, Roxie Hall, Ethel Sairs, Helen Merchant, Ruth and Dorothy Snow.

THIMBLE CLUB

The North Bend Thimble Club entertained their husbands at a charming evening Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Wm. Vaughn this week. The committee on arrangements consisted of Mrs. J. G. Mullen, Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Fred Kruse and it proved a most delightful affair. At cards Mrs. Mullen and Chas. Williams won first prizes and Mrs. Williams and A. H. Derbyshire received the consolation prizes. Halloween emblems and flowers and greens were used in the party at Loggie's hall this week. The

ROYAL NEIGHBORS

The North Bend Royal Neighbors entertained their Marshfield fellow members at a delightful Halloween party at Loggie's hall this week. The rooms were made most attractive with chrysanthemums and Halloween emblems, the same scheme being carried out in the table decorations. A masquerade, a sheet and pillow case party, with music and cards made the evening go all too quickly. About thirty were present from Marshfield and there was a large attendance from North Bend. The Marshfield guests included: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs. S. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gordon, Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Wm. Nell, Mrs. Conner, Mrs. Eddy, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Wm. Hyde, Mrs. Downs, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Drewa, Misses Esther Sullivan and Malane Law.

VOTERS OF COOS BAY STAND TOGETHER

A plan is on foot to rob Coos Bay of its representation on the Board of Commissioners. We have the majority of the county's population, we pay more than one-half of the county's taxes, we comprise over one-third of the county in area.

Is it unfair for Coos Bay to ask for one representative on the County Board, that spends all of the county's money, lets all of its contracts, that directs all of its road improvement and county development? Unless we, the voters of Coos Bay, vote together, the entire board of County Commissioners will be selected from the Coquille Valley.

We ask every eligible Coos Bay Voter to vote for E. B. Curtis for County Commissioner, forget party lines and work for Coos Bay.
