

BANDON CAST ALMOST A THOUSAND VOTES AT ELECTION OF YESTERDAY

(Special to The Times.)
 BANDON, Ore., Nov. 4.—Almost 1000 votes were cast here yesterday in the election in the four Bandon precincts and a small outlying precinct.
 In the local fight for Port Commissioner, Messrs. Kronenberg and Hanley have substantial leads in Bandon and are doubtless elected. The county commissioner fight was especially bitter and Elbert Dyer defeated Armstrong here 327 to 176.
 Hawley had 543 here and Hollister 566.
 R. A. Booth received 465, Chamberlain 591 and Hanley 38.

Withycombe received 655 and Dr. Smith 513.
 Robert Watson received 204 to 231 for Collier.
 A surprise here was that Sheriff Gage received 372 to 302 for Alfred Johnson, Jr.
 C. R. Barrow received 491 to 211 for Tom Hall.
 A. Adolphson received 598 to 565 for S. P. Peirce.
 Jas. Watson received 346 to 261 for Justice Stanley.
 Bandon and the suburban precinct gave 584 dry and 331 wet votes.
 The eight hour bill was defeated 225 to 173 and the one for women carried 309 to 281.

CURRY SHEEP CASE

County Attorney W. H. Meredith came up from Wedderburn last week to attend a hearing at Port Orford wherein A. B. Carey was accused of killing a sheep belonging to W. T. White, Sr. Mr. Carey waived examination, and was held in the sum of $300 to appear before the grand jury.—Port Orford Tribune.

ROGUE RIVER FISHING

Fishing has closed at Rogue River for the season, and W. J. Whitworth passed up the coast yesterday with a four horse team load of Chinamen returning to the Columbia River. The salmon catch on Rogue River this summer was very satisfactory, being rather above the average.—Port Orford Tribune.

DELAY CHETCO BRIDGE

The bridge across the Chetco River will not be completed this year. The Bandon Construction company, which has the contract for building it, has met with so many mishaps in the loss of material, etc., that it could not fulfill its contract and the county court has extended the time limit. Work will commence again in the spring as soon as conditions permit.—Port Orford Tribune.

NAME WANTED FOR APPLE

Judge Harlocker brought in a beautiful, fragrant and toothsome specimen from one of the apple trees in his orchard, for which he has for some time been trying to find a name. None of his neighbors or of the local fruit experts being able to locate it, he sent some specimens to O. A. C. but Prof. Lewis, the head of the horticultural department there, confessed that he was unable to name it. So he has sent more specimens to the U. S. Agricultural Department at Washington, hoping that they can solve the mystery.—Coquille Sentinel.

MRS. E. PERKINS PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Eliza (Grandma) Perkins, aged 84 years, died Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maryette Morse. She was born in Tennessee, crossed the plains with her husband, Thomas Perkins, deceased, in early days and later came to Coos. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Gilkey and one son, Andrew Perkins, who lives in Washington—Bandon World.

Game Plans Are Off.—Definite information that there will be no Thanksgiving game with the foot ball team of the Astoria High School has been received by the local High School. Too great a cost is the reason given for the cancellation of all efforts to take the Marshfield team north. The Elder refused to give the fifteen boys rates on their passage. Paying full fare it was found that their expenses would be at least $300, which is more than Astoria could guarantee for the game.

Little Tots in Recitals.—Professor Richards of this city goes every week to Bandon, where he has several pupils in piano instruction. He is feeling quite proud over a recital given but a few days ago by Gladys Jamison, a ten-year-old girl of Bandon. There were forty children besides many grown-ups who came to hear the little girl play. He is expecting to have several of these recitals during the winter.

RHEIMS LOSS PUT AT $200,000,000

1200 Civilians Slain—Most of 40,000 Left Live in Cellars.
 LONDON, Nov. 4.—The correspondent of the Morning Post, who telegraphs from Paris that the insurance companies estimate the damage to Rheims at $200,000,000. At the mayor's office, it is stated, the correspondent says that this estimate will be exceeded when sundry damages to private property is added.

Civilians Killed, 1200.
 "Over 1200 civilians were killed in the streets and houses during the month's conflict," the correspondent says. "About one-fourth of the buildings were destroyed. The most severe damage was in the best portions of the city, where the finest and most historic buildings are located."
 "Forty thousand of the city's population of a quarter of a million still remain, most living in cellars. Although the bombardment continues intermittently, masons and other workers are already repairing some of the buildings."
 "During the crisis, owing to the scarcity of money, the municipality issued a curious emergency currency like theater tickets."
 "Cathedral Still Crumbling."
 "The cathedral is a ruin. It is still crumbling, and big lumps of stone continually fall from the arches. The whole roof is off and cannot be replaced until the walls are made secure. Under the circumstances a severe winter will be fatal to the remains of the building."

Star Sight.
 By all the rules of the game of nature we should not be able to see a star at all, for it appears from the earth as a geometrical point, a thing without dimensions, and cannot be measured even in the most powerful telescope. A star appears in a telescope just as it does to the naked eye. Now the question naturally comes up as to why we can perceive a star, a thing with no dimensions. We certainly cannot see so small a thing under the microscope. The whole answer is a peculiarity of the human eye and, in fact, of all optical instruments, called diffraction. A lens does not focus parallel rays of light to a geometrical point, even though they come from a point, and so a small disk is printed on the retina by a star, and the star is perceived. Remember, though, that only the star's effect is perceived with the eye. A planet of course is different, as it is comparatively close to us, and its actual disk may be seen and measured in the telescope, just as that of the moon can be seen with the naked eye.—Chicago Herald.

Born of an Odor.
 Professor Alexander Graham Bell once gave an account, which is here condensed, of an invention founded on a smell.
 First, a chemist detected in sulphuric acid waste an odor which on analysis was found to come from a hitherto unknown substance. This was called silemium.
 Second, silemium crystallized was found to be a conductor of electricity of phenomenally high resistance.
 Third, the new resistant, having been put to use in place of whole coils of wire to balance the Atlantic cable during the period of laying, was found to have at night twice its resisting power of the daytime.
 Fourth, Professor Bell playing upon silemium's sensitiveness to light produced the photophone, by means of which one may talk over a beam of light.

MACHINE SHOPS IN OREGON

SALLEM, Or., Nov. 4.—There are 140 foundries, machine and repair shops in the state, according to the Labor Commissioner. They are valued at $3,247,650, they employ 2217 skilled workmen and 1672 unskilled workmen, and the total payroll for the year was $4,067,534. The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company operates 27 plants in the state and their value is $10,178,441, according to the figures filed. The total of salaries paid was $1,356,295.

REQUEST TO REMOVE HOEFER IS NOT FILED

MONMOUTH, Or., Nov. 4.—Some of the students at the Oregon State Normal School circulated a petition to the Governor, asking for the removal of Colonel E. Hofer, of Salem, one of the regents of the State Normal School, owing to his public position in favor of the liquor traffic, and against prohibition. Later, however, it was decided by the students having the petition in charge to leave the matter to the proper authorities.

LONDON BARS CLOSE EARLIER

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The closing hour for restaurants clubs and saloons, which had been fixed at the early stages of the war at 11 o'clock at night, will be made 10 o'clock at night. At Woolwich and Greenwich the closing hour will be 7 p. m. and the suggestion has been made that saloons open at 10 o'clock in the morning instead of at 5 or 6, as at present. The curtailment of the night hours is apparently due to the desire of the authorities to keep drinking at a minimum.

TO PUNISH PRICE RAISERS

VENICE, Nov. 4.—A drastic imperial decree has been issued in Vienna giving wide powers to the Austrian authorities to insure the provisioning of the people at reasonable prices. Severe penalties are to be imposed on those overcharging for food, including $1000 fine and imprisonment for six months. Many branches of the retail trade in Vienna are at a standstill. The government has also undertaken to alleviate the condition of the rent-paying population by giving the people longer time in which to pay their rents.

PETITIONS FOR CITY COUNCIL

Law States Petitions for City Offices Must Be Presented 25 Days Before Election.
 With the city election set for the first Tuesday in December, any petition for city councilmen must be signed and presented in the office of the city recorder by at least tomorrow evening.
 Despite the large majority of the three candidates of the three parties in the primaries last Saturday there have been numerous rumors of petitions. Tomorrow night is their last evening to have them filed.
 Failure to file any of these petitions will mean definitely that Harry J. Kimball, J. F. Telander and Carl Evertsen are elected for their respective positions. The law provides that all petitions must be in at least 25 days previous to the city election.

PROF. LOGAN SELLS FARM

Prof. J. C. Logan and wife have sold their farm on Bear Creek to J. F. Auer, who recently came here from the Willamette Valley, and will leave on the Elizabeth for San Diego, Cal., to spend the winter. They may return in the spring, having some property in this section. Prof. Logan is a favorite old school teacher of Coos and Curry Counties, having taught here for the past twenty years.—Bandon World.

MICHIE TESTS ARE BEGUN

Government Officials Watch the Dredge Work at Astoria.
 ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 1.—A party of Government officials and dredging experts has arrived and will remain for a few days to watch the tests being given the dredge cable P. S. Michie in the lower harbor and on the bar. The party includes Major Morrow, of the United States Engineers, in charge of the first dredging district; Major Cavanaugh, chief of the engineer corps and in charge of the Puget Sound District; W. C. Gowen, of the Chief Engineer's Office in Washington, the man who designed the Michie; Leroy H. Peter, a dredge superintendent, who is now in the employ of the Government and who has recently been in charge of the dredging operation in the Ambrose Channel in New York; Mr. Moore, of Baltimore; Mr. Beck, of Washington, both dredge experts; Assistant Engineer Brown of this district and Fred A. Hallin, a naval architect of Portland, who designed the tug Onasota, as well as several other craft running on the coast.
 Although no official report on the Michie has yet been made, it is understood that the principal defect in her is a lack of boiler capacity and it is possible that this may be increased. The head on her existing pipe also is said to be too small, weighing approximately 40 tons. A smaller one has been procured and will be installed in the near future.
