SAYS BUSINESS OUTLOOK GOOD

T. BUDWIN, LEADING SPOKANE DRY-GOODS MAN, ARRIVES TODAY TO VISIT PARISIAN STORE HERE—STRENUOUS TRIP.

T. Budwin, of Spokane, head of the Parisian Stores in Spokane, Lewiston, Idaho, and in Marshfield, arrived here today for a week's visit with his sister-in-law, Madame Galbraith, and with Mr. Harris, of the local Parisian. This is Mr. Budwin's first visit in Marshfield.

He came in via Florence and said that he thought that he had, in making the trip in, traveled in almost every vehicle or contrivance except an aeroplane. He plans to make the trip back to Portland by steamer.

"Marshfield is a mighty fine town," said Mr. Budwin today. "I had heard much complimentary about it from Madame Galbraith and Mr. Harris, but even then after the hard trip in I was surprised to find it as large and progressive as it is.

"Business generally is improving. The general result of the recent election is helping and the country is rapidly readjusting itself to meet the business changes necessitated by the European war.

"In Spokane, business has been much better this season than last and the improvement continues to grow. The outlook is excellent."

AMONG THE SICK

John Morgan, of Empire, who has been very ill for some time, is reported slightly improved.

Mrs. Fred Ledward is recovering rapidly from the effects of the operation which she recently underwent at Mercy Hospital. She has returned to her home and is again able to be around.

A. E. Seaman is reported seriously ill at his home.

J. B. Allen is reported seriously ill at his home in Ferndale. His friends hope for an early recovery.

Mrs. H. R. Elliott will return home this evening from Mercy Hospital, where she was operated on last week for appendicitis.

Miss Hazel Cowan, who was operated on yesterday at the Mercy Hospital for appendicitis, is doing well today. Miss Cowan was taken sick at the Gravelford Academy several days ago.

Mrs. Fred Armstrong of the McDonald & Vaughn camp on Coos River, underwent a successful minor operation at the Mercy Hospital and is improving.

Mrs. Belle Harnidge, who underwent an operation last week at Mercy Hospital is recovering rapidly and expects to return home in day or two.

Mrs. Ruble, who has been at the Mercy Hospital for some time, is getting along nicely, much to the gratification of their many friends, and expects to be able to return home tomorrow.

A. P. Owen, a well known Marshfield pioneer who has been indisposed for some time, was taken to Mercy Hospital this morning for treatment. That he will recuperate rapidly is the wish of all his many friends.

Mrs. E. L. Bessey of South Coos River, who recently underwent an operation at Mercy Hospital, is reported to be getting along nicely. It will be some days before she is able to return home.

Official Canvass on Returns of Election—Port and Peace Officers

COOS VOTE

The total vote of Coos County at last Tuesday's election was about 7000, or about 2200 less than the total registration.

(Special to The Times.)

COQUILLE, Or., Nov. 19.—County Clerk Watson completed the canvass of the election returns today. There were few changes in the results beyond those already announced. A. McNair 1019
J. L. Kronenberg 879

J. N. Gearhart, Thos. D. Guerin and C. E. Huling were elected members of the Myrtle Point Port Commission. T. W. McCloskey, W. R. Panter and M. O. Stemmeler were the defeated candidates there.

The final vote on Port Commissioner on Coos Bay was as follows:

A. H. Powers 2137
Anson Rogers 2128
Henry Sengstacken 1508
Ludwig Kjelland 1261

Wet and Dry Vote.

The final figures show the wet and dry vote in Coos county was 4731 dry and 2498 wet, a dry majority of 2233.

FIRST SON BORN.

August Eickworth Rejoices Over the Advent of Stork at San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eickworth today received a telegram from their son, August Eickworth, who is now employed as a linotype operator on the San Francisco Bulletin and who was formerly employed on The Times, announcing the arrival of his first child, a boy. The joy of Grandma and Grandpa Eickworth over their ninth grandchild can hardly come up to that of Father's, as is indicated in the following telegram from him which will cause his many Marshfield friends to unite in well wishes for August III:

"Ernest August the third, through Ernest August the second, sends greetings to Ernest August the first. Happened Monday afternoon at half past two. Everybody feeling fine, even myself. Weight was eight pounds and fourteen ounces—fat little beggar and has a fine pair of lungs. Letter tomorrow, August."

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE WEEK

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—For the present week a number of events are scheduled to share the interest of American readers with the daily reports from the European war zone.

The case of Henry Siegel, under numerous indictments on charges growing out of the failure of the Siegel department stores and banking enterprises in New York and Boston earlier in the year, is docketed for trial today at Genesee, New York.

A federal board of arbitration and conciliation will meet in Chicago today to begin consideration of the demands for higher wages made by the employees of ninety-eight western railroads. The appointment of this board by President Wilson last August averted an impending strike of 65,000 locomotive engineers, firemen and other train employees.

Friday will be the 100th anniversary of the birth of General Joseph Hooker, the noted Civil War commander. The Hooker Association of Massachusetts, of which state General Hooker was a resident, will hold a celebration in Boston in honor of the centenary.

Uniformity in the matter of state laws will be discussed by the Governor of thirty or more states, who are to meet in Madison, Wisconsin, on Tuesday for a four-day conference.

Industrial Review of the State

La Grande has a new industry for the manufacture of fruit by-products. Hood River is erecting an apple evaporating plant.

A significant fact of the recent elections was the prominence of industries.

A new bridge across Thorn Hollow, Umatilla County, is to cost $16,000.

G. O. Richardson of Adams is manufacturing 200 dozen brooms from a crop of five acres of broom corn.

A. K. Detweiler, a banker of Toledo, Ohio, has purchased an entire town for $45,000. The town is Grand Dalles, just across the Columbia River from The Dalles, Or. It comprises 300 acres, a water plant and a few buildings. Detweiler says he is going to build up a manufacturing town with people from Ohio and California, who prefer northern climate. Grand Dalles was originally laid off for a manufacturing city and large buildings were put up for shoe factories, tanneries and other industries. Excursion trains were run from the east and many lots sold on the highly colored statements of a Baptist minister and promoter of the early seventies.

The lumber industry output at all Oregon seaports is increasing.

G. M. Grimes will erect a business block at Seaside. E. Kilfeather will also erect an apartment.

The first of the two Hill steamers to ply between Astoria and Prisco is to make a trial spin the last of this month.

CLOSING SALE A BIG SUCCESS

Ladies' Emporium Quitting Business and Selling Out Rapidly

The Ladies' Emporium, long a landmark among the business firms of Marshfield, is quitting business. The proprietor, Mrs. Nellie Owen, is going to retire and the entire stock is to be closed out as rapidly as possible. The sale opened Saturday and has proved a big success. There has been a large attendance, the well-known reputation of this concern creating much interest in the announcement that it was going to close its doors as a factor in the business life of Marshfield.

They got ashore and made a big bon-fire and made things so lively that few in the neighborhood could sleep.
