WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

In time of peace prepare for war taxes.
Both sides admit slight advances and then again both deny it.
British warships are not strictly grammatical. They have made a full stop at Colon.

COPY OF LADY'S LETTER DESCRIBING THEIR NEW AUTO

"Our car is the very latest 1915 model, and is equipped throughout with improved Timpkin bearings. It is a lean line body, with detachable and denounceable rims, epileptic springs in front and flat-iron springs in the rear, full sloping rear axle, most infernal expanding brakes, electric stopper and starter, autocentric glass front, uniced power plant, flash jubilation, free point detention, sail-or radiator, three speeds horrid and one perverse; amateur on dash board, gasoline tank asleep, 66-mile speedy greater, aggravated ebony rim on speering reel, sliding near transfusion, licorice lights, horn trimmers, frigid suspenders, handcuffed leather upholstery, dippy curtains, bar-type foot rest and all the other latest susceptibilities."

By questioning the lady further it was learned that she had just purchased a new Dodge car in Detroit.

FRANK COHAN says from the way some people disregard their doctor's advice you'd think it was a free sample.

HENRY SENGSTACKEN says he is glad to know that the Germans are within an hour's auto ride of the gates of Paris, but he doubts if they could make it in that time in J. T. Harrigan's automobile.

CASSIUS R. PECK delivered an oration at the banquet last night. When it comes to the rolling, reverberating eloquence of the 'glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome' kind, Cassius has Demosthenes thrown into the discard. Good boy, Cassie.

A. T. HAINES is again wearing "the smile that won't come off." It did come off though when Mrs. Haines went away and didn't return until she did. (A. T. promised us a cigar if we would print this so he could show it to Mrs. Haines to prove how lonesome he was while she was away).

CENTRAL AVENUE JOTTINGS.

Chilly Again.—The mornings are getting chilly again.

This Is Awful.—The tobacco tax is now in effect and Charlie Van Duhn says that Gene Crosthwaite has something new to chew about now.

Some Duck Hunt.—If the real truth about Charlie Hickox's duck hunt and the game warden's hunt for Charlie ever gets out, it will be published in full in the Booster.

Central Avenue Lively.—Central avenue has been a lively place this week with another new store open, a new theater getting ready to open, two United States Senators, a big banquet and Sheriff-elect Alf Johnson hunting for deputies. There was something doing every minute. Next week will be more lively, when the men who want to be deputies get busy hunting Alf Johnson.

REFLECTIONS OF A BARBER.

(Selected and edited by Jesse I. Terrell.)
It's a gone hair that has no returning.
Toupees cover a multitude of skins.
A dull razor gathers no tips.
A mole on the neck is worth two on the mush.
When hairs fall out then barbers sell their dope.
As the wig is bent the fee is defined.
A rolling dome purchase no tonic.
A strop in time shaves nine.

PERSONAL MENTION

HARRY M'KEOWN is disgusted with the war and has put German fried potatoes and wienewurst back on the bill of fare.

J. W. BENNETT was over from Front street last evening for a brief visit on Central avenue and reports having a most enjoyable time.

HUGH M'LAIN is honoree today from overtalking at the banquet last night. Hugh thinks he is one of the world's great orators and made 88 speeches at the Fellowship Club feed at the Chandler. He expects in time and with the proper practice to beat J. W. Bennett, who can talk for ten hours straight.

SENATOR GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN was a visitor on Central avenue yesterday and he said it reminded him of Pennsylvania avenue, Washington. We were all puffed up until he said the reason was that there were so many politicians on it. George is some little joshier.

"DOC" HARRY LANE, formerly a deckhand on a steamboat on Coos Bay, from which job he was fired by the Captain, which made Harry mad and he went to Portland, returned here this week for a visit with old friends. After going to Portland the people there made him mayor and later the people of Oregon sent him to the United States Senate, where his wages are much larger than even the captain of a steamboat, let alone a deckhand. Harry was looking for his old captain yesterday, but whether to cuss him or give him a cigar we don't know.
